NATIONAL GUARD IS ORDERED OUT IN SAN FRANCISCO DOCK STRIKE

Von Papen Remains In Cabinet As Vice Chancellor

RESIGNATION REJECTED BY HINDENBURG

Nazi Party Chieftains Meet to Discuss Future as Cabinet Also Convened

TROOPS GUARD MEETS

Future of Conservative Von Papen Still is Uncertain Reports State

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

BERLIN, July 5. — (UP) — Nazi political chieftains, the men who know the towns and provinces and the people in the streets met today to discuss the party's present state and its future trend and fortunes.

Their job, it seemed, was to discuss the state of the people while the cabinet here discussed the state of the nation, and to make sure the bloody Roehm revolt left the Nazi party stronger for the loss of leaders who had become embarrassing.

Black uniformed SS men of the picked bodyguard corps of storm troops guarded the sessions and patrolled the streets of the town of 30,000 in strong numbers. German newspapers were forbidden to publish any accounts of the meeting except those issued through the official news agency.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler ordered what amounted to an emergency national party convention. He and Rudolph Hess, German counterpart of Postmaster General James J. Farley, were expected to join the convention today if it seemed advisable.

80 In Convention

There were 80 delegates in the convention—state governors and federal and district leaders from the states and towns. They sped yesterday by airplane and special train from all over the country to the convention city—Flensburg, on the German-Danish frontier away from the turmoil of the capital.

In addition to the 80 there were 60, or more aides and advisers. In charge were Dr. Robert Ley, leader of the national labor front, comprising all former workers' unions, who was chairman; Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda; Baldur von Schirach, leader of all the youth publicists and editor of the weekly newspaper Der Osteurmer; and Lieut. Gen. Franz Ritter von Epp, governor of Bavaria and the Nazi party's military adviser.

A communique covering the first day's sessions said that the delegates met, gave the usual "heils," vowed allegiance to Hitler—and listened to reports on economic problems, including an announcement that 90 per cent of old party members who were promised jobs had obtained them.

The future of Franz von Papen, vice chancellor, representative of President Paul von Hindenburg and spokesman for the army and the catholics in the cabinet, still was uncertain.

One Of Siamese Twins Is Denied License To Wed

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—The Siamese twins sidled into the marriage license bureau today.

Violet Hilton, one half of the 26-year-old combination, blushed because it is the usual thing for a prospective bride.

Daisy Hilton blushed because an incautious reporter wondered aloud just how she intended to keep three from being a crowd. The chief clerk pondered this last, colored a bright vermillion and guessed he would get a legal ruling from the acting corporation counsel.

That austere gentleman, aghast at the potentialities of the situation, out-blushed all the others.

"Immoral," he said denying the application for a license. Maurice Lambert, 29-year-old orchestra leader and would-be bridegroom, managed to retain his normal complexion. He said they would get a license somewhere in New Jersey.

NEXT PREMIER

With the government upheaval in Japan, Gen. Issei Ugati, below, is likely to be the next premier. He is now governor general of Korea.

CONFESSES HE KILLED FORMER KLAN LEADER

Woman Also Admits She Paid Itinerant Painter $60 to Murder Man

JEFFERSON, Wis., July 5.—(UP)—An itinerant painter confessed today that he killed Earl Gentry, former Indiana Ku Klux Klan leader, Sheriff Joseph Lange announced.

The sheriff said George King, 35 admitted he shot Gentry for $60 "and a million dollars worth of satisfaction."

King's capture and confession came a few hours after Mrs. Carrie Gill, 58-year-old widow, confessed she planned Gentry's death because she was "deathly afraid of him."

Mrs. Gill said she paid King $60 for the slaying. Her brother, Ferdinand Probst, 63, admitted he helped King remove Gentry's body from his sister's blood spotted kitchen and place it in an automobile. The car and body were found last Sunday, a few hours after the killing, at a lonely spot on Rock river.

King offered no resistance when he was captured last night.

"Sure I shot him," Lange said he told him.

"He should have been killed a long time ago. I'm glad I did it and I'd do it again. I got a million dollars worth of satisfaction out of removing him."

Gentry had lived with Mrs. Gill since he was acquitted seven years ago of the murder of Madge Oberholtzer, Indianapolis girl. The same charge sent D. C. Stephenson, former grand kleagle of the Indiana klan, to prison for life.

Lange said King would be arraigned on a first degree murder charge today with Mrs. Gill. Her brother was to be arraigned as an accessory.

Solution of the mystery of Gentry's death came from discovery of a will in which he had left his property to Mrs. Gill. Across its face Gentry had scrawled: "Nulled and void by Earl Gentry, Nov. 28, 1933, when I was threatened to be killed by Carrie Gill."

Mrs. Gill confessed after four days of questioning.

NELLIE MADISON IS SENTENCED TO HANG

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—Nellie Mae Madison, the coolest murder defendant ever tried in Los Angeles county, today was sentenced to hang for the murder of her husband, Eric D. Madison.

Mrs. Madison, whose attitude during the trial won her the title of "the Sphinx Woman," looked Judge Charles Fricke squarely in the eye as the jurist sentenced her to the gallows Sept. 24.

There was not the slightest trace of emotion on her face as she heard the judgment pronounced.

Marie Curie Dies Martyr To Science

Co-discoverer of Radium May Be Buried in Pantheon with Husband

PARIS, July 5.—(UP)—All the world today mourned the death of Marie Curie, co-discoverer of radium, one of the greatest of modern scientists, and one of the greatest women of all time.

While her body was being brought back to Paris from the Savoy Alps where she died yesterday, a movement was under way to bury her and her husband in the Pantheon, which is to France what Westminster Abbey is to England.

Physicians said the woman whose discoveries saved untold lives and allayed the sufferings of thousands, died a martyr to science. The direct cause of death was a lung infection, but contributing was physical fatigue. For months she had worked 10 and 12 hours a day in her laboratory.

Mme. Curie will be buried first beside the simple grave of her husband, Pierre Curie, in a suburban cemetery. Curie died in 1906. If later both bodies are transferred to the Pantheon it will be the greatest honor France ever bestowed upon a foreigner. Mme. Curie was a Pole by birth, although she spent almost all her adult years in Paris.

Pursues Research

Mme. Curie realized several months ago that her days were numbered. Eager to continue the researches she began with her husband that gave the world two new elements—pononium and the all important radium—she pursued her research in black uranium oxide furiously.

Easter she caught a cold that persisted and settled in her left lung. Thursday she was taken to the Alpine sanitarium at Saint Cellemoz where infection developed and rapidly got out of control because of a generally weakened condition brought about by overwork.

Her daughters, Mme. Irene Curie-Joliot, her assistant in many scientific experiments, and Eve, musician and playwright, were at the bedside as were assistants of the Curie Institute.

She had worked so hard during the past few months that she prepared her meals in her laboratory over a Bunsen burner.

The government indicated it would continue to subsidize the Curie Institute which it established and financed on condition Mme. Curie would be its director and supervise research devoted entirely to application of radium in the treatment of cancer and other tissue diseases.

Associate Researcher Fournier announced that Mme. Curie's assistants had full knowledge of the progress of her studies and would be able to continue.

Mme. Curie received the Nobel prize twice—once alone and again with her husband and Henry Becquerel, whose original researches into the radio active properties of uranium provided the inspiration for the discovery of radium.

EXECUTE THREE IN AMERICAN'S DEATH

BAGHDAD, July 5. — (UP)—Three men convicted of the murder of Raymond Fisher, Cincinnati student, and Rudolf May, a German companion, were reported today to have been hanged at Diwaniyah.

No official announcement has been made, but it was said that precautions were taken to insure there was no public demonstration against carrying out the death penalty. The hangings were reported to have been effected last week.

Fisher and May were killed by thieves as they were canoeing.

TWO ORANGE COUNTY PERSONS KILLED IN LONG BEACH; 22 OTHERS HURT OVER HOLIDAY

HEAVY HOLIDAY traffic, especially near the beaches, brought injury to at least 22 persons, in Orange county Tuesday, Wednesday and this morning, as the result of the nine wrecks reported to police and hospitals. In addition, two county residents were killed in Long Beach yesterday.

Four persons were hurt seriously. They were:

Motor Officer La Verne Keller of Huntington Beach, in St. Joseph's hospital with fractured spine.

Wayne Vaughn, 20, San Bernardino, unconscious and suffering from possible skull fracture in St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wilkins, both 24, of San Diego, were injured at 2 a. m. today near Dana Point and are confined in St. Joseph's hospital.

Word was received early this morning that O. T. Aldridge, father of Mrs. Floyd Pike and Mrs. Arthur Finnegan, both of Anaheim, had died in the Long Beach Community hospital, from injuries received in an accident yesterday. Details of the accident were not available.

Lean of Death

The first report of Aldridge's injuries came last night when Anaheim police were requested to notify the two local women that their father had been seriously injured.

The other Orange county fatality in Long Beach involved Joe B. Trujillo, 22, 211 South Philadelphia street, Anaheim, who was killed when he fell from a speed-

SENATOR BORAH TO BACK FIGHT ON MONOPOLIES

Idaho Solon Hits Bureaucracy in Address Over Radio to Nation

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, individualistic as ever, today dedicated himself to a fight against government by bureaucrats.

In the first of a series of addresses to the nation, the Idaho orator spared neither Republican nor Democratic policies. He praised the American tradition of constitutional government, attacked the new Republican leadership and cited bureaucracy as the chief threat of the New Deal.

What threatens today, he said, is:

"Simply that meddlesome, irritating, confusing, undermining, destructive thing called bureaucracy. It is a form of government which steals away man's rights in the name of public interests and taxes him to death in the name of recovery.

"Of all forms of government which has ever been permitted to torture the human family, the most burdensome, the most expensive, the most demoralizing, the most devastating to human happiness and the most destructive of human values is a bureaucracy.

"It has destroyed every civilization upon which it has fastened its lecherous grip."

Borah decried fears that America was headed toward a dictatoral form of government.

"I do not call this Nazi-ism," he said, "God forbid. Ido not claim it is Fascism or Communism. It is none of these."

Monopoly, he said, "is the most vital problem before the American people today." He attacked Republican policies for leading to this condition and for continuing to ignore it.

Borah promised to support all efforts by the administration to fight monopoly.

As causes of the depression, Borah listed first the World war, second the continued expenditures for armaments, then speculation, manipulation of the monetary system, waste of public money and extension of the hold of monopoly upon the American public.

BLAZE DESTROYS HOMES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5.—(UP)—Crews in widely separated districts are fighting range and forest fires which have destroyed a dozen farm houses and outbuildings while sweeping over 60,000 acres of land, state fire wardens reported today.

Another blaze, near Newtown, was extinguished last night but a crew of 150 was unable to control a fire which had burned over 4000 acres in Calaveras county.

THEATERS PLAN TO SHUT DOWN OVER BOYCOTT

Four Hundred and 50 Owners Say They to Close Within Two Weeks

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(UP)—Motion picture theater owners in eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware maintained a position of watchful waiting today before putting into effect their threat to close about 450 theaters in a boycott against allegedly immoral films which was instituted by the Catholic church.

Neither Leonard Schlessinger, zone manager for Warner Brothers, nor Lewen Pizor, president of the Motion Picture Owners' association, would add to the announcement made Tuesday when they threatened to close their houses unless the boycott was modified within two weeks.

In New York, however, Joseph Barnhard, general manager of Warner Brothers theaters, announced that the closing would be delayed as long as possible.

Barnhard also said the statement made Tuesday by Schlessinger had been necessitated by contracts with labor unions and it was merely a routine matter.

"We will hold off as long as possible," Barnhard said. "The financial burden of the boycott is very heavy, but we do not wish to pass that burden on to employes and trades people unless forced to do so. Eighteen theaters will be closed in Philadelphia Saturday in accordance with the summer schedule."

Closing of the theaters, it was estimated, would throw about 20,000 persons out of work. There are approximately 10,000 machine operators and about the same number in allied industries such as distributors' offices, bill posters, advertising employes and printers.

Meanwhile, in the absence of Dennis Cardinal Dougherty in Europe, Monsignor Hugh L. Lamb, chancellor of the diocese, refused to comment on the situation.

FIVE MAKE ESCAPE FROM OREGON JAIL

SALEM, Ore., July 5.—(UP)—Behind hastily thrown up barricades, state policemen, prison guards and peace officers guarded all roads south of Salem today to intercept five armed convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary annex late yesterday.

The convicts, outdistancing pursuers by a quick exchange of stolen automobiles, were believed early today to have failed to penetrate police defenses and were hiding in a sparsely populated area between here and Lebanon, 50 miles south.

With the fleeing convicts was A. C. Rahm, a farmer, whom they kidnaped after he had refused to give them $250 demanded of him.

Rahm was a hostage in his own car, which the convicts commandeered after they abandoned two other stolen machines in which they fled from Salem. Later Rahm's car was found abandoned.

ROOSEVELT IN LETTER URGES WELFARE WORK

Private Activities Necessary to Recovery Declares President

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt has emphasized the need for continuance of private welfare activity at a high level, Newton D. Baker, chairman of the 1934 mobilization for human needs, revealed today.

Baker made public a letter written by the president just before his departure for a vacation, emphasizing that private charity must continue to share with the government the relief burden.

"I wish to state again," said the president, "that volunteer welfare services are indispensible to national recovery. This is every whit as true this year as it was last year."

The president invited the 1934 mobilization committee to meet at the White House Sept. 28 to launch its fall campaign.

Baker pointed out the fallacity of the impression that because the government's appropriations for all forms of welfare activity that the strain on private purses could be relaxed.

He said that only half the unemployed were on relief rolls at all and that average relief expenditures were only $24 a month for each family on the rolls.

At the same time the U. S. Chamber of Commerce reported that approximately 20 per cent of the nation's income would go for taxation this year. The chamber's report admitted the need for the huge recovery expenditures but warned that borrowing "must not be allowed to become so great as to increase public indebtedness to unmanageable proportions."

EXPORT TRADE IN L. A. REVEALS GAIN

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—Commerce staged a remarkable recovery at Los Angeles harbor last month despite the strike of marine workers, export trade gaining 71 per cent over the corresponding month of 1933, according to the southwest business review of the chamber of commerce.

Exports for the month totalled $7,410,000 compared with $4,329,678 for June, 1933, the survey estimated. Imports showed even a greater increase, advancing from $1,970,905 in 1933 to $6,263,000, a gain of 218 per cent. The report attributed the gains, partially at least, to the strike itself. Much of the trade was diverted to the local port from other coast shipping points, closed by the strike.

Shipping to Hawaii draw an extremely heavy diversion of tonnage from other ports, the report stated, advancing from $651,000 in 1933 to $1,342,000 last month.

TROOPS ARE MOBILIZED FOR ACTION

Col. Mittelstaedt Announces That Militia Ordered to Embarcadero Today

TO MAINTAIN ORDER

No Statement Issued From Governor's Office But One is Being Prepared

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(UP)—Col. R. E. Mittelstaedt, commanding the 250th coast artillery, California National Guard, in a formal statement this afternoon said his troops had been "ordered to the Embarcadero to maintain law and order in the city of San Francisco."

At the time his statment was issued no announcement of the calling out of the National Guard had been made by the governor's office in Sacramento. Guardsmen were being mobilized at their armories, however.

"The public must realize," Col. Mittelstaedt's statement said, "that the national guard is now a part of the army of the United States and is trained and equipped by the United States government as are troops of the regular army.

"Our troops are officered by World War veterans and we propose to undertake duties as soldiers in the same manner that we would undertake a wartime mission. In view of the fact that we are equipped with rifles, bayonets, automatic rifles and machine guns, which are all high-powered weapons, the Embarcadero will not be a safe place for persons whose reasons for being there are not sufficient to run the risk of serious injury.

"We have 4,000 additional national guard troops behind us and should this number be insufficient we can call the regular army, the navy and the marine corps to our assistance.

"Law and order will be maintained at any cost."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(UP)—Bloody rioting swept the San Francisco waterfront today.

Two thousand pickets posted by the striking maritime workers who have tied up commerce since May 9 answered the challenge of public and private agencies attempting to open the port, with bricks and flying fists.

Five men were shot and wounded. A dozen more were injured so as to require hospital treatment.

Two freight cars were set afire.

Stray bullets pierced houses in the waterfront area. Trucks were smashed. Much property damage was done.

Workmen engaged on the new San Francisco bay bridge were driven away by the rioting. Work had to be suspended.

May Call Militia

Gov. Frank Merriam and his adjutant general, Seth Howard, in Sacramento, kept in constant touch, planning to call out the state militia the moment the situation got beyond police control. At 11 a.

142 VIOLENT DEATHS REPORTED ON FOURTH

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

NEW YORK, July 5.—America's celebration of the Fourth of July under widespread police orders for a safe and sane observance resulted in 142 violent deaths, a United Press survey revealed today.

But the danger from explosives—once most feared on Independence day—was reduced to the lowest point in many years. Only five fireworks deaths were reported. Many thousands, however, suffered injuries in firecracker and skyrocket accidents, the total running to almost 2500 in New York City alone.

Airplane and traffic accidents killed more than 50 persons throughout the nation as highways were jammed with holiday crowds.

About the same number were drowned.

PLEADS GUILTY ON MAIL FRAUD COUNT

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—The defense in the mail fraud trial of James C. McKay and William Graham appeared to have suffered a setback today when Nobel J. Moore, a co-defendant, pleaded guilty upon completion of the jury in federal court.

Moore, who is serving a prison sentence on similar charges, pleaded through his attorney, Leonard Obermier. The judge reserved decision.

The plea came after selection of a jury of businessmen. Court attaches described the jury as "intelligent."

MRS. SAMUEL INSULL LANDS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the utilities magnate, was en route to Chicago today to join her husband, confident he will be vindicated.

Mrs. Insull, once leader of Chicago society, arrived aboard the Majestic in a $126 tourist class cabin. She was met at quarantine by her son, Samuel Insull jr.

Bargains For Shoppers Offered Here

Santa Ana merchants today completed final plans for staging the big Santa Ana Clearance Sale Days, to be staged under the auspices of the merchants division of the chamber of commerce starting tomorrow and continuing through July 14.

One of the greatest arrays of merchandise in the history of the city will be offered at unusual values to thousands of shoppers who are expected to take advantage of the city-wide event.

PAPAN RETAINS CABINET POST, REPORTS STATE

Official announcement that he would remain in the cabinet for the present despite the humiliations to which he had been subjected, deepened an apparent mystery.

To Von Papen's influence there was added the fact that he was perhaps the only skillful political negotiator in the government and that he was the only man who could meet the Junkers, or powerful landowners, the industrialists and the Catholics on equal terms, and that he was the government's only contact on confidential terms with Hindenburg, a man revered by the people and, in fact, commander-in-chief of the army.

ROOSEVELT CATCHES 35 POUND BARRACUDA

ABOARD U. S. S. GILMER, WITH PRESIDNET ROOSEVELT, July 5.—(UP)—The cruiser Houston, President Roosevelt's home for a month's vacation cruise, lay anchored off Cape Haitien today awaiting a visit from President Vincent of Haiti.

The Haitian executive was scheduled to be a luncheon guest on the Houston.

Yesterday Mr. Roosevelt captured "the grandfather of all barracuda," his first game fish of his present trip. It was a 35-pounder. Dressed in white pants and a blue sweater, Mr. Roosevelt fished from a small gig accompanied by his two sons and his naval aide, Captain Wilson Brown.

ing car on the Cyclone racer on the pike. His brother Paul, 20, riding in the car ahead, was not aware that an accident had occurred and was horrified to find that the fatally injured victim was his brother. Trujillo died enroute to a hospital.

Keller, former chief of police of Huntington Beach, injured himself in a heroic effort to save the lives of many persons standing along the line of march of a Fourth of July bathing beauty parade. Keller and a fellow officer were roaring their motorcycles while driving slowly, to keep the crowds back. Keller's motorcycle unexpectedly slipped into gear and hurtled toward the crowds. He turned sharply and deliberately overturned the heavy vehicle, being pinned underneath.

Taken To Hospital

He was rushed to the hospital here and was reported in a slightly improved condition today from the spine injury. He also received cuts and bruises.

Roger W. Dunning, a Santa Ana city employe, was struck by the falling motorcycle and suffered severe bruises.

Wayne Vaughn was hurt in a head-on collision at 9 o'clock last night on Newport road near the country club between his car and a machine driven by Walter Cole, 28, Ontario. Vaughn received a possible skull fracture, Ted Lockaby of San Bernardino, riding with him, suffered from shock, cuts and bruises, Mrs. Cole received a leg injury and Cole was slightly hurt. Both Vaughn and Lockaby were taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

No Report Made

No report has been made on the wreck near Dana Point early today in which Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins were hurt. Two cars were involved, it was learned. Wilkins is unconscious and suffering from a possible skull fracture, bruises and cuts about the head, while his wife suffered a fractured arms, lacerated right eye and other injuries. They were brought to St. Joseph's hospital about 5 a. m.

Sidney Standing, 66, 2615 West First street, was treated at the Orange county hospital yesterday for injuries he received when he was knocked from his bicycle on West First street by a car driven by Vernon E. Altic, 22, Inglewood.

Three persons were hurt at 10:30 o'clock last night when cars driven by Matthias Wilmes, 22, Los Angeles, and Alvin Beatty, 40, 222 North Berkeley street, Fullerton, collided on Talbert road near Canner road. Those injured were Earl T. Adams, 37, and Amy Adams, 35, both living at 127 West Whiting street, Fullerton, and Marjorie Beatty, 12. Both cars stopped in a bean field.

Joseph L. Williamson, 30, Redlands, and Jackie Grigsby, 26, Anaheim, were hurt at 1 a. m. yesterday when Williamson's car struck a telephone pole after a brake drum had locked. The wreck occurred on Ninth street near Lampson street in Garden Grove.

Four Injured

Three persons in one family were among the four injured at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday when cars driven by Laura E. Harris, 63, Covina and Virginia Wedsweiler, 27, Costa Mesa, collided on Newport boulevard at Seventeenth street in Costa Mesa. Those hurt were Virginia Wedsweiler, Joyce Wedsweiler, 7, Richard Wedsweiler, 1 1-2, and Irene Harris, 29, Covina.

William J. Caraway, 50, Glendale, and Virgil Stiles, 16, 500 East Chartress street, Anaheim, were slightly hurt at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when Stiles' car crashed into the rear of the Caraway machine on Newport boulevard near the Arches. Stiles had been drinking, according to official reports.

When a small car registered to Joseph Scott, 1199 South Orange Grove, Pasadena, turned over in attempting to negotiate a sharp turn on Temple Hill road in Laguna Beach yesterday, two women were slightly bruised, it was reported. No report has been filed with the beach police.

railroad reported it moved a total of 75 cars into five docks, all on schedule.

The city began looking to Sacramento for action. Governor Merriam, in a formal statement last night, had said that state militia would be called today if the strikers interfered with operation of the state-owned and operated Belt Line railroad.

Many believed this outbreak would be considered the "overt act" and draw action from the governor.

Rocks Thrown

At one time during the rioting 500 men, throwing rocks and shouting, charged toward police down the slopes of Rincon hill. Police drove them back, far up the hillside, using clubs and gas.

The crowd was pressed back and back to a line roughly drawn as Bryant, Beal and Main streets, close to half a mile from the scene of activity around the piers.

It remained menacing. Rioters apparently were attempting to barricade themselves behind piles of material—sand, gravel, bricks—being used in the construction of the San Francisco bay bridge.

The president's mediation board, appointed more than a week ago, went into hurried session with Thos. G. Plant, president of the waterfront employers' union.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, chairman of the board, admitted that the board "fears still worse trouble."

Later officials of the industrial association were called to the conference.

The disorders on the waterfront forced suspension of work on the new San Francisco Bay bridge, a joint state, city and federal project.

Police Use Gas

Workmen were driven from the shore workings of the bridge when fighting began on Rincon Hill. Police gas bombs put them to flight along with the strikers and sympathizers.

Governor Merriam directed Chief Engineer C. H. Purcell of the bridge project to suspend work and to confer with Chief of Police Quinn as to the future course to be followed.

At noon foremen's whistles blew in the working area of the waterfront and truckmen and freight handlers quit work for an hour. Police field kitchens served policemen hot coffee and sandwiches. At several points strikers relief committees fed strikers also.

At that hour the picket lines had been pressed back more than half a mile from the working area of the waterfront and Rincon hill had been cleared entirely. But strikers, in ugly temper, still moved through the warehouse district on Townsend, and nearby streets.

Harry Bridges, Australian, chairman of the marine strike committee, took advantage of the lull in hostilities to call at the mayor's office and leave a protest charging:

That police "wilfully shot" five strikers.

That police jammed gas guns into strikers' ribs and discharged them, burning strikers' flesh.

That police used a new, and allegedly "unsporting" type of "nausea gas."

"None of the violence," he said, "was started by our men. We have witnesses of police brutality." m. police still seemed able to cope with the rioters who were becoming scattered, tired and showing signs of disorganization.

As the rioting subsided, police were moving up additional equipment including fire wagons. At several points streams from fire hoses were turned on the rioters.

Emergency wagons brought up new supplies of gas.

The scene during the fighting on Rincon Hill had been one of great violence. Strikers charged police and police returned the charge time and again. Long night sticks beat a tattoo on heads, shoulders and ribs. Many police, unable to get within arms reach of rioters threw their heavy night clubs. Rioters pelted police lines with stones and bricks. There was gunfire from both sides but it was not effective nor was it ganeral.

Grass Fired

Rioters set fire to dry grass on Rincon Hill and pelted fire trucks with rocks when firemen came. Police and fire hoses drove away the rioters and put out the fire, as men, struck by the powerful streams of water, went rolling down the hillside.

Reports that wild bullets were flying across the Embarcadero from Rincon Hill caused police to send a detail to search for snipers on sections of the hill which had been cleared.

While the rioting was going on commerce moved on the waterfront at the greatest rate since May 9. The industrial association reported its trucks carried away goods from the piers where they were operating at the rate of 84 loads per hour. The Belt Line

Hardly had the hands of the clock passed 1 p.m. signaling the end of the lunch hour, than violence broke out again.

Fire On Engine

A Belt line locomotive halding a long string of box cars, was fired upon by a crowd gathered at Steuart and Folsom streets. Police rushed with tear gas .

Another group of rioters broke through police lines at pier 14.

Grass fires were set on Stuart street by retreating strikers.

Suddenly between 500 and 1000 strikers and sympathizers surged over the crest of Rincon hill, cleared during the morning. They drew two lines, one about half way up the hill, the other about two-thirds of the way up.

Police from the embarcadero set out in squad cars to drive them back.

The crowd from Stuart and Folsom streets retreated to Spear and Main streets, about a block and a half, and there set up a group of unidentified workmen while police tried to quell the rioting. Several were beaten.

There was sharp fighting at the same time at Howard street and the embarcadero marked by police gas bombs going through windows of the Seaboard hotel and driving out the occupants; at pier 18 nearby and around Rincon hill. One man was shot in the stomach as scattehed revolverfire marked the Howard street battle.

Fire Breaks Out

Fire broke out again in the grass on the slipes of Rincon hill and burned down the hillside toward the waterfront.

The pickets who had surged over the crest of Rincon hill, retreated as police charged, leaving the dry grass on the hillside burning. Firemen put out the fires as police drove the pickets back, but only after warehouses of the Farnsworth-Ruggles company and the American Marine Paint company had been endangered.

The fighting grew violent from Mission to Howard street on Stuart street and the embarcadero. Police charged the Seaboard hotel, routing strikers. Two were shot. The hotel was filled with gas.

Two more men were reported shot at Mission and Stuart streets.

Joseph Rosenthal, San Francisco Daily News reporter, was struck in the head by a wild bullet and was beaten allegedly by strikers, but not gravely hurt.

DENY REQUEST TO ASK FOR SPECIAL MEET

Members of the board of directors of Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting held today in the chamber offices in the courthouse annex, failed to comply with a request made by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce that the local chamber endorse the calling of a special session of the state legislature to perfect the necessary legislation to put into effect the enforcement of price control and other features in various trades in the state.

Secretary George Raymer read a letter from the San Diego group which said there is a "desperaate need for the enactment of legislation which would correct practices now in effect detrimental to industry and business and the need for operation under codes which are applicable to to conditions in California rather than in the East."

A letter of reply from the local chamber pointed out that a special session of the legislature, it is believed, will be called primarily for the purpose of passing legislation specially to relieve the unemployment situation.

"The presentation of other matters regardles sof their respective merits will have a tendency in our opinion to detract from the effectiveness of proposed necessary legislation to take care of the unemployment problem," the letter said.

"Calling for legislation on matters othe rthan unemployment would probably keep the governor from calling the special session," it stated.

The board of directors appointed C. H. Chapman to represent the chamber of commerce at a meeting of all water interests in the county tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in Anaheim at the Elks clubhouse.

KIDNAP SUSPECT HELD FOR TRIAL AFTER HEARING

Following a lengthy preliminary hearing in justice court Tuesday, Billy Griffin, 49, unemployed dishwasher, was held to answer to the superior court on charges of kidnaping and a statutory offense against a 6-year-old Santa Ana girl.

Testimony was given by Dr. D. H. Abbott, of the Orange County hospital staff, Mrs. Jessie Cowden, mother of the girl, Officer W. B. Sherwood and Mrs. Edith Truxel. The courtroom was closed by Judge Kenneth Morrison except for court attaches and those connected with the trial.

Griffith's own admission that he had taken the girl to his rooms from a point near Birch Park, and had kept her there all night, was one of the most damaging points held against him by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner. Dr. Abbott testified that the girl had been attacked, according to court records.

At the time of his arrest, Griffin admitted to officers that he had been drinking beer and bayrum, according to police reports.

Judge Kenneth Morrison maintained the $25,000 bail he set when Griffin was arrested.

Accident Victim Demands $27,390 From Railroad

Mrs. Jessie Hollenbeck, orange packer, of 112 South Lyon street, Santa Ana, today asked $27,390 damages against the Southern Pacific Railway company for injuries she received September 30, 1933, when an automobile was struck by an S. P. locomotive on the North Batavia street crossing at Orange.

Mrs. Hollenbeck was riding in a car driven by Cleo Owens when a locomotive backed into it, causing her to suffer concussion of the brain, and broken leg and other injuries, which disabled her for eight months, she claims.

SURVEY SHOWS GOOD BUSINESS IN SANTA ANA

A survey just completed by A. Cavalli, manager of the merchants division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, shows that business here for the month of June held its own, it was announced today.

The usual falling off of business in the summer which is evident all over the United States, did not hit Santa Ana, however, as hard as it has before, Cavalli said, but some merchants reported a small decrease in sales, which is customary in their lines during June.

"The majority of our merchants state that they did better business this June than in June of 1933," the chamber official declared, "all of which points to the fact that business is getting better all over Southern California.

"With July clearance sales in progress for the next week and midsummer stocks being offered at attractive prices, business in Santa Ana this July should be far ahead of last year.

"During June five well known firms opened offices here, one a nationally known institution and the others doing business in this state for many years. This points to the fact that Santa Ana is the recognized trading center of Orange county.

"It is also noticeable that there are very few stores vacant on Fourth street from Broadway to Bush street and that key locations are at a premium."

MRS. EMMA MAIR DIES AT HER HOME

Mrs. Emma C. Mair, 62, resident of this city for the past seven years and a prominent member of the O. E. S., died today at her home, 615 French street. She was the widow of the late Thomas A. Mair. She had been ill for some time.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. H. Mair, Riverside and Mrs. M. C. Landreth, of Galax, Virginia, and three brothers, S. M. Phillippi, of Fairland, Oklahoma, Charles Phillippi of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and E. V. Phillippi, of Alberta, Canada.

Announcement of the time of funeral services will be made later by the Winbigler Funeral home.

L. A. COUNTY RELIEF GARDENS DECREASE CHARITY COSTS, PAVE WAY TO SUBSISTENCE HOMES

By ERIC E. EASTMAN

The Agricultural Extension service, University of California, recently conducted a tour of Los Angeles County relief gardens under the direction of Assistant Farm Advisor F. H. Ernst, for the purpose of providing an opportunity for civic and public leaders to view at first hand methods used in the relief gardening program by the various agencies involved. Also the results which are being obtained from these plots in terms of food produced and of rehabilitation of otherwise idle men was demonstrated. Although most of those in attendance were from Los Angeles county, San Bernardino, Ventura, San Diego and Orange county were represented by welfare officers and other leaders.

There are at present 41 relief gardens in Los Angeles county, comprising about 600 acres. The county is divided into four districts with a superintendent in charge of each district. The whole program is headed by Linton H. Smith of the county charity department. New gardens are being established at the rate of about 100 acres a week, so that ultimately all unemployed heads of families will be within a two mile zone of a garden. Those who are assigned to a garden donate 40 hours labor per week in exchange for a guarantee of sufficient food produce for their families. From the county relief standpoint, the production is enabling a reduction in expense of $2 per week to be made to each family involved. Also the program is valuable in eliminating the "chiselers" as those who are able but unwilling to participate in the program may be dropped from the charity roll.

Inasmuch as many of the unemployed on the charity roll are "marginal workers," who find employment difficult and sporadic even in prosperous times, the relief gardens by furnishing supervised training in home gardening are a potential and effective means whereby the families involved may be prepared for and inducted into a more satisfactory mode of life, now known as subsistence homesteads. The Agricultural Extension service in Los Angeles county is cooperating with the county relief garden program by inspecting the soil, making cropping recommendations, and supplying technical information as needed.

The tour included visits to seven relief gardens in District Four, namely the Ascot Park, Huntington Park, Bell, Lynwood, Compton, Long Beach City or "Thrift," and Long Beach County relief gardens. The program objectives were described by federal, state and county officers during the luncheon hour.

Gas Office Here 1st In Contest

Santa Ana office of the Southern Counties Gas company received nation-wide recognition for its sales record in selling Electrolux gas refrigerators, it was announced today.

The local office was first in a nation-wide contest for cities of its size, outranking such cities as Lowell, Massachusetts, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and Wheeling, West Virginia, all cities of far larger population.

A letter of congratulation to Fred Merker, district manager, and Loren Moore, district commercial agent in the Orange county territory, has been mailed by R. A. Maloney chairman of the gas refrigeration committee of the American Gas association.

BREAKFAST CLUB TO GREET CANDIDATES

It will be open season on political candidates when the Orange County Breakfast club stages a special meeting for candidates for political jobs two weeks from today in James' cafe.

President Hubert Bown appointed C. F. Skirvin, Claude McDowell and Thomas Pickrill in a committee to take charge of the candidate's meeting, at the regular meeting of the club this morning in James' cafe.

Plans also were discussed for a big open air breakfast to be staged by the club in the near future.

Entertainment for the meeting today was provided by Olive Eleanor Schweitzer, pianist, and John Hart Stout, violinist. They were introduced by Fred Schweitzer, club secretary, who is father of the talented young piano player. Jerry Hall, program chairman, arranged the meeting.

HEISER MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR SINCLAIR

Advocating repeal of the sales tax, and warning that 60 per cent of the taxable property of the state wil be forced to bear the burden of a rapidly mounting state deficit, Charles Heiser spoke before the Upton-for-Governor club of Orange county at Birch park last night.

"With 40 per cent of the taxable property delinquent and non-taxable, the 60 per cent will be forced to bear the burden of a rapidly mounting state deficit,' he said. "This cannot go on. Idle land, idle men, and idle factories can be put to work through the agency of the state and aided by the Federal government. It takes something besides blatant phraseology to cut taxes and put the unemployed back to work; it takes a concrete plan as proposed by Upton Sinclair."

The speaker urged a repeal of the sales tax, and a complete reorganization of the state's tax system which, he claimed, would place the tax on wealth, and not poverty, thus balancing the state's budget and creating a huge surplus.

Heiser, who is a war veteran, appealed to veterans to make common cause with all the veterans of industry and agriculture and raise the living standard of the whole people.

"The attack upon Upton Sinclair by Justus Wardell is fortunate for the Epic candidate," said the speaker. "This was expected to happen in the last few days before the primary election, which would not have given Upton Sinclair and his organization an opportunity to reach the people with a reply.

"The same tactics of holding up the communist bogy, and calling Upton Sinclair an emmisary from Moscow has been made upon Franklin D. Roosevelt and even Mrs. Roosevelt herself has not been spared from such calumnies. The charge of regimentation and collectivism in the Epic plan as having the threat of Communism running all the way through it is either advocated by the misinformed or those who are resorting to deliberate misrepresentation.

"Communism is a dictatorship, political, industrial and economic, placed upon the whole of society by a minority group known as the communist party. They propose to enforce their decree by a reign of terror which is the same technique used by fascism in fascist countries like Italy and Germany.

"Upton Sinclair's proposal of land colonies simply means to use our political democracy in order to apply industrial democracy to agriculture and industry executed through the will of the whole people or their majority through the medium of political action."

DEATH CRASH DRIVER WINS EXONERATION

Al Brunner, 41-year-old Long Beach fisherman and ex-boxer, was acquitted of a murder charge by the jury that heard his trial in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court and returned its verdict late Tuesday night.

The jury deliberated six hours before returning its verdict at 10 p. m.

Brunner was accused in connection with a crash between his automobile and another driven by Max Devitt, Los Angeles, at Dana Point, last March, the wreck resulting fatally to Mrs. Mildred Devitt, 26, Mrs. Jennie Orinstein, 45, and her daughter, Beverly, 23, all of the Devitt party.

It was charged that Brunner was intoxicated. Five physicians, including two who had actually examined Brunner after the accident, testified for the prosecution that he was intoxicated, three basing their opinion upon a hypothetical question. The defense summoned two physicians, Dr. J. M. Burlew, of Santa Ana, and Dr. H. A. Johnston, of Anaheim, who testified, answering hypothetical questions, that Brunner was not intoxicated.

The jury accepted the latter theory and, by its verdict, not only held that Brunner was not intoxicated but cleared him of responsibility for the wreck, as no lesser verdict was returned.

Defense Attorney L. W. Blodget succeeded in convincing the jury with his evidence and his argument, that Brunner's condition immediately following the wreck was due to concussion of the brain, caused by the crash, rather than to intoxicants.

Deputy District Attorney Leo J. Friis conducted the prosecution.

BEACH BOY HURT BY GIANT CRACKER

Eddie Eader, 15, son of John H. Eader, pioneer Huntington Beach bakery owner and former head of the elementary school board at the beach city suffered a badly lacerated hand from the premature explosion of a giant cracker he was attempting to shoot off yesterday.

The fingers of his left hand were badly burned and torn by the explosion. Physicians said they hoped to save the fingers but the hand will be permanently injured.

Drunk Arrests In S. A. Reach Record Total

BIG INCREASES SHOWN OVER 6 MONTH PERIOD

ARRESTS for drunkenness in Santa Ana climbed to a new all-time record during the six-month period just ended, when 223 persons were arrested as compared to only 78 for the corresponding six months in 1933, or nearly three times as many, it was shown today in a report from the police department.

Drunken driving arrests were more than twice as many than during the 1933 period. There were 24 drunken drivers arrested from January to July 1, 1934, and only 11 during the same months last year. The six month period ending last December showed the greatest drunken driving total, however, when 44 persons were taken into custody. This period followed closely upon the repeal of the prohibition laws.

Every month of the 1934 period showed an increase over the 1933 figures for drunkenness, the report revealed. March of this year hod the highest total in the history of the city, when 66 persons were jailed. February was next with 41 arrests and June had 40. The highest months in the 1933 period were May and June, with 16 arrests.

The monthly totals for drunkenness during the two periods, with the 1933 figures preceding those for this year, are as follows: January, 13, 16; February, 10, 41; March, 10, 66; April, 13, 35; May, 16, 26; June, 16, 40.

More Drunken Driving

Arrests for drunken driving showed an increase this year over every month except one. The monthly totals were as follows: January, 4, 5; February, 0, 3; March, 1. 6: April, 0, 4: May, 4, 1; June, 2, 3.

Arrests for violation of the liquor laws increased 333 per cent, with 26 in the first six months of 1934 and 6 in 1933. There were only 18 during the entire year of 1933.

Violations of the California Vehicle Act, which include reckless driving, speeding, failure to stop and render aid, and other offenses, jumped from 193 in 1933 to 543 in 1934, more than the 12 month total in 1933 of 495. Every month showed an increase this year, with the monthly totals as follows: January, 33, 99; February, 32, 49; March, 18, 132; April, 45, 122; May, 25, 94; June, 40, 47.

More Disturbance

Disturbing the peace arrests jumped from 6 in 1933 to 15 in 1934. There were two arrests in 1934 from inebrecy and only 1 in 1933.

An increase from 811 in 1933 to 1082 in 1934 was shown in arrests on city traffic violations, with every month except February showing a gain over the period a year ago. Petty theft arrests dropped from 32 in 1933 to only 17 in 1934. There was a total of 53 during the entire year of 1933.

Vagrancy arrests dropped from 16 in the six months of 1933 to 10 in 1934, as compared to the 13 month total of 30 in 1933.

There were only one third as many arrests for burglary this year, and all three were in the month of June. There were 9 in June 1933 and a total of 32 for the entire year.

Arrests made for other cities were virtually the same, with 11 in 1933 and 10 in 1934. There were 25 during the entire year of 1933.

The complete arrest report for June, issued together with the six month report, is as follows: assault and battery, 2; burglary, 3; drunkenness, 40; disturbing the peace, 2; grand theft of automobile, 1; petty theft, 1; liquor laws, 2; license ordinance, 1; statutory offense, 2; vagrancy, 1; violation of the California Vehicle Act, 47; city traffic ordinance, 126; driving drunk, 3; alien gun law, 1; bench warrant, 2; for other cities, 1; and defrauding a cafe owner, 1. Total, 235.

SUPPORTERS OF CREEL BEGIN ACTIVE DRIVE

Organization of a Santa Ana Creel-for-Governor club, with an initial membership of 75 men and women, was announced today by C. Harold Dale, secretary. The club was formed at a meeting in the Creel headquarters at 311 North Main street, opened this week, at which many Democratic leaders of the community were present.

Horace C. Head, recently appointed chairman of the county Creel organization, was also selected to head the Santa Ana club, and Harold Dale was chosen secretary, to serve in a dual capacity in the Santa Ana and Orange county clubs.

J. G. Mitchell, Santa Ana police judge and chairman of the Democratic county central committee, was chosen vice president of the Santa Ana club and Col. S. H. Finley was named chairman of the finance committee.

Officials of the club advocate the election of George Creel, and his nomination on the Democratic ticket in August, as the leading Democrat who can be elected governor, and an active participant in the recovery program, as well as a personal friend of President thus assuring complete California co-operation in the administration's recovery program.

Progressive voters of the county are invited to call at the headquarters and secure literature and information regarding Creel and his stand upon any important topics of interest to the people.

Water Meet To Be Held Friday

A meeting of Water Incorporated of Orange County, comprised mainly of private water pumpers, will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Ocean View schoolhouse, northwest of Huntington Beach, according to notices sent out by Harry A. Lake, Garden Grove, secretary.

Any persons interested in the water problems of the county and who wish to hear reports on progress made in organization and program of Water Incorporated are invited to attend the session, it was stated.

SEVEN SERA PROJECTS GET STATE OKAY

Seven now projects for the Orange county SERA work relief program have come to local offices with the approval of the state SERA, it was announced today by Dan Mulherron, construction superintendent of the works division. This makes a total of 11 projects which have been approved.

The newly approved projects include improvement work on the San Clemente state beach park, improvements on the Huntington Beach city park, Orange park improvements, moving four buildings at the Anaheim Union High school, demolition of the auditorium and administration buildings at the Anaheim High school and improvement work on the Fullerton park.

A total of 1010 persons have been certified for work relief under the SERA in this county, according to W. J. Tway, manager of the works placement bureau. There have been 800 persons who have been interviewed for classification on work as to their trade. A total of 372 men have been given work so far under the new program.

Members of the county SERA committee were scheduled to meet at 6:15 o'clock this evening in an attempt to select a permanent director for the work relief and direct relief programs, both of which will be under the one director.

At a meeting held last Thursday night, the committeemen were unable to come to an agreement on a director, and it is believed that the selection will be made tonight.

TWO MEN HURT AT BEACH HORSE SHOW

Two men were hurt yesterday at the horse show in Huntington Beach, held in conjunction with the Silver Jubilee and Fourth of July celebration. A. E. Rankin of Santa Ana suffered a dislocated shoulder when a horse he was holding reared suddenly. Dale Williams of Huntington Beach suffered a sprained back when thrown from his mount.

BOYS ESCAPE FIRE IN LEAP FROM WINDOW

Two Costa Mesa youths narrowly escaped death Tuesday night when they were forced to jump from the second story of their home, which was consumed by flames.

Charles and Eugene Corson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Corson of Orange and Del Mar streets, Costa Mesa, were awakened by the roar of the flames and the smoke.

They were unable to leave their bedroom to leave the blazing house by the stairs, and were forced to leap from the second story to the ground. Both were uninjured. The stucco house was completely hazed, but a garage was saved. Damage was estimated at more than $2000. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Joe Scherman, state forest ranger, received a call at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night and rushed to the scene of the fire with the state fire truck and his crew from Orange.

RELEASE ORDERED

Narciso O'Campo, 26, San Juan Capistrano, booked at the jail Tuesday night for investigation of failure to stop and render aid after an accident, was released today by the district attorney's office, following an investigation by Constable C. J. Erracarte of San Juan Capistrano, the arresting officer.

CHEMISTRY OF CITRUS TREES TOLD GROWERS

Many Orange county citrus growers joined the pilgrimage to the new campus of the U. C. L. A. at Westwood last Saturday. Some 400 growers from all parts of Southern California attended the "house-warming" session of the Citrus Institute, held under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and the Farm Bureau citrus department.

The morning session, held in the Chemistry building, featured talks on the history of the institution and the courses of horticulture offered by the College of Agriculture in the Southern branch.

A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana, who was identified with the early negotiations for the establishment of the campus in the South, told of the various steps taken by farm interests in this part of the state to materallize the long-hoped-for recognition for a southern branch in keeping with the large patronage that comes from the South. The total student enrollment last year was 8500. The faculty numbers 300, and the total investment is about $15,000,000 to date.

Dr. L. D. Batchelor, director of the Citrus Experiment Station, outlined the 50 research projects under way at the Riverside institution, and R. W. Hodgson explained the agricultural curricula now available at Westwood. He said that the first two years of any course in agriculture or forestry may be secured at U. C. L. A. The only four-year major course offered there now is subtropical horticulture.

In discussing the chemistry of an orange tree, Dr. S. H. Cameron of the University staff presented data secured from analyzing several 10-year-old trees that were taken in entirety from the orchard, dissected part by part, weighed and analyzed. The trees were removed and analyzed at different seasons of the year. It was found that the nitrogen content of the tree was greatest from September to December, and lowest in May and June. Starch content was highest from November to March and lowest from May to October. The dry weight of a 10-year-old tree averaged 135 pounds. Twenty-five per cent of the total weight was in the root system and 75 per cent above ground. A detailed report of the investigation will be made available in bulletin form at a later date, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

MAY CANCEL LICENSE FOR BEER GARDEN

Mrs. C. Richter, proprietor of a beer garden on West Santa Fe avenue in Placentia, faces prosecution for keeping a noisy and boisterous place of business and possible revocation of her business license as the result of a series of fights in her cafe Sunday night, which included a knife fray between two Mexicans.

Mrs. Richter was arrested late Tuesday by Police Chief Gus Barnes and arraigned before Judge S. C. Harmony. She posted $100 bail and had her hearing set next Thursday. The arrest followed action of the city council Monday night in deciding to close her place of business in case she was convicted on violation of the local ordinance.

In addition, she will be cited before the state board of equalization if a conviction is secured, it was learned from Barnes and the council.

Manuel Tafolla, 52, who was severely injured in a knife fight in the cafe Sunday night, is recovering in the Orange County hospital but his assailant, Pedro Ramirez, 65, Placentia, is facing charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Ramirez was jailed for drunkenness Sunday but the charges were changed to assault when he was arraigned before Judge Halsey Spence of Fullerton Tuesday. Bail was fixed at $500, which he has not posted, and his preliminary hearing will be held Tuesday.

In a report to the city council Monday, Barnes declared that three other fights occurred in the cafe while he was taking Ramirez to the county jail Sunday night.

Huge Increase Is Reported In Bank Deposits

Deposits of Security-First National bank have increased $31,787,538.12 since last January 1, according to Frank J. Was, manager of the institution's Santa Ana branch.

On January 1 the bank's total deposits were $438,328,487.88. In the recent statement of condition, issued as of the close of business on June 30, the total deposits were shown to have increased to $470,116,026.00.

A substantial part of the gain in deposits is in savings accounts, according to Was.

11 BOOKED AT BASTILE FOR DRUNKENNESS

Eleven persons were booked at the county jail Tuesday and Wednesday on liquor violations including two for drunken driving, one for drunkenness on the highway and eight for intoxication.

Manuel Aguirre, 52, 214 East La Palma street, Anaheim, and Martin Casillas, 32, Belvedere Gardens, were brought to the jail Tuesday evening to start sentences for drunken driving.

Aguirre was sentenced to serve 50 days or pay a $100 fine by Judge Charles Kuchel of Anaheim while Casillas was sentenced to pay $250 or serve 125 days by Judge D. C. McCharles of Tustin.

Dovegdia Apapas, 30, Indian woman from Pala, was booked at the jail for drunkenness at 10 p. m. Tuesday after Deputy Sheriffs Claude Potter and Steve Duhart were sent to a hobo camp near Atwood on Yorba boulevard.

Officers F. L. Grouard and William Heard arrested Andrez Cruz, 21 and Gregorio Cruz, 33, both living on Lincoln street, and booked them at the jail at 2:47 a. m. Wednesday for drunkenness. Gregorio Cruz was later released on a $25 bond.

Frank Hernandez, 21, Atwood, was arrested for drunkenness on the highway at Atwood and brought to the jail yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs R. E. Steinberger and James Workman.

Police Chief Gus Barnes of Placentia brought three men to the jail for drunkenness last night. Manuel Nulise, 46, Santa Ana, was booked at 5:33 p. m. and later given treatment at the Orange County hospital for a cut eye, lacerated lip and bruises, received in a scuffle at Placentia. Anacito Perez, 29, and Felix Macias, 31, both of Corona, were booked at 10:35 p. m.

Charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace Jose Perez, 42, Westminster, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Sam Snodgrass and Walter Dungan near the post-office in Westminster. He was booked at the jail at 10 o'clock last night.

T. Kelleam of Santa Ana was arrested near a pool room at Fourth and Birch streets at midnight last night and booked at the jail for drunkenness by Officers William Heard and W. E. B. Sherwood.

Denies Guilt On Assault Charge

Roy Mayo, 40, 1319 West Second street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of simple assault in justice court Tuesday and had his case set for July 12 at 9 a. m. without a jury.

Mayo was charged with assaulting N. A. Lucas at Fourth and Ross streets several weeks ago. The defendant was arrested Monday night by sheriff's officers.

Members of Calumpit Camp No. 26, United Spanish War Veterans Fife and Drum corps of Santa Ana, below, took a prominent part, with the Calumpit auxiliary drill team, state champions, in the big parade which featured the Fourth of July and Fiesta De La Plata celebration at Huntington Beach yesterday. The drum corps has been department corps for the past two years.. The championship auxiliary drill team was in charge of Boss Moberly.

Police News

George Buck, 19, mechanic living at 710 South Van Ness street, was jailed by sheriff's officers yesterday on burglary charges after admitting the theft of a ring, coat and boxing gloves from the home of Grover Spray of Holt road, Tustin, Tuesday afternoon. He is also facing reckless driving charges in the Santa Ana police court after being arrested last week on West Edinger street for speeding 70 miles per hour and nearly causing a wreck.

Victor Ayres, 16, Los Angeles youth who ran away from home and came to visit Santa Ana friends yesterday, was taken in custody by Deputy Sheriff R. E. Steinberger and held in the county jail until taken to his home by Los Angeles police.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

CRISIS

The story behind the promotion of Donald Richberg is that Mr. Richberg has just about reached the limit of his NRA endurance.

He is a very patient man, but his associates have noted privately that he has found it increasingly difficult lately to work with his good friend, General Johnson.

That is not hard to understand. Messrs. Johnson and Richberg are of entirely different temperaments. Mr. Richberg is the cool, calculating lawyer. Mr. Johnson is the tense, nervous top-sergeant. They were able to march along for months side by side, without difficulty, mainly because Mr. Richberg always gave in to the General.

There is always a limit to such arrangements. If the NRA insiders can trust their eyes and ears, noting little differences cropping up here and there, the limit was reached about two weeks ago, probably entirely unknown to General Johnson.

TREATMENT

It was then that the buzz went around the inner circle that Mr. Richberg ws getting rather tired of his NRA work. His pals made no mention of the general, but they pointed out that Mr. Richberg could make far more money at the much more pleasant task of private attorney.

There was no blow-up. Johnson and Richberg were good friends and probably still are. Nevertheless, the hint was dropped by those in the know that, if President Roosevelt went off to Hawaii leaving Johnson in charge of the NRA, he probably would not find Mr. Richberg among those present on his return.

That is just the kind of crisis which the great salve healer, Dr. Roosevelt, seems to be most adept at handling. In fact, he has never lost a case, even that aggravated case of George Peek and the AAA.

The cure he effected this time was exactly the same one he used on Peek. It has come to be known as the smooth promotion cure.

It so happened that Mr. Roosevelt was looking for a man of Mr. Richberg's primary calibre to take Frank Walker's job during the summer. You may recall that, at the time Peek had difficulties with the Tugwell-Wallace faction, it so happened that Mr. Roosevelt was looking for a foreign trade man to put the tariff policy in the cooler.

The swap worked even more beautifully this time because no one outside was the wiser.

* * *

RECOVERY

The final outcome of the situation is not yet clear, probably not even to Mr. Roosevelt. It is all settled until September first, but no one knows what will be done then.

There are insiders who believe Mr. Roosevelt is grooming Mr. Richberg to take General Johnson's place in case Johnson retires then. There are two things wrong with that theory. One is that Richberg needs no grooming and the other is that Johnson has been hanging on to his job tenaciously with White House encouragement and approval. Most people will no longer accept reports of his retirement until they see him walk out the door.

Of one thing you may be quite certain. Mr. Richberg will not go back into the NRA as long as Johnson is running it. You can understand how that is.

* * *

ACTING PRESIDENT

Mr. Richberg got off to a bad start by being mentioned in the public prints as the acting president during Mr. Roosevelt's absence. Neither Mr. Richberg nor the White House circle liked that.

Apparently no one is to be acting president, unless it is Louis Howe, but Mr. Richberg will be as important as anyone else.

To show you how important he has become, he wrote Mr. Roosevelt's executive order which will cut building prices 15 per cent below the code prices.

* * *

FARM

There were quite a few congressional eyebrows raised when Mr. Roosevelt signed the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill.

The truth is that certain administration leaders in congress were permitted to understand that they could pass the measure because it was certain to be vetoed. One administration leader spread the word around the senate room to that effect.

Most insiders believe the president did intend to veto the bill, but changed his mind at the last minute, believing he could prevent collapse of the farm mortgage markets by a conservative administration of the act. The administrators have received their White House orders to go very slowly.

* * *

The promise of conservative administration has not entirely assuaged the inner fears of insurance companies and bankers. They have an idea that none will want farm mortgages if there is going to be a six-year moratorium on any considerable number of them.

It sems to be a case of holding an ax over the heads of mortgage holders. They may be reasonably certain it will never fall, but they will always be afraid it will.

* * *

NOTES

Bernard Baruch's friends avow that Mrs. Roosevelt has sold him completely on the homesteading idea.

* * *

Floyd Gibbons' brother is working in the shipping board as assistant publicity man.

* * *

Take all current inflation rumors with three grains of salt. There will be nothing in them for at least a year, if then.

* * *

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

CRESCENDO

New York doesn't always say it with sledge hammers in criticizing the New Deal. An ultra-tactful method of setting the administration straight—worked out by the head of an investment counsel firm—has won cordial approval in high conservative quarters. You are likely to see it widely used to win support for the conservative cause among those who voted "yes" in the Literary Digest poll. The Crusaders haven't adopted it officially but it fits nicely with their style and supplements the blood-and-thunder assault from the Republican sector.

Boiled down the argument runs this way. The administration's purposes are sincere and sound. It's right to set humanity above dollars and okay to step up payrolls and shorten hours. NRA and AAA should be accepted in principle as part of a permanent plan. Neither business nor labor should be allowed to dominate the government. The government should confine itself to the role of umpire in labor disputes—not try to act as dictator.

Observe the crescendo in that sequence.

SWING

Then comes the big punch. All these laudable objectives will flop unless the profit incentive is encouraged more definitely. Business must be allowed to increase its income before it is asked to assume greater wage and hour burdens. It's not too late to mend.

Tryouts of this sales talk on a minor scale have registered remarkably well. A number of local leaders believe they've found out how to use the New Deal's very popularity to swing it permanently into safe channels and away from the "socialistic" theories of the brain trust.

* * *

OUTLOOK

New York has become very bearish on the summer business outlook in the last few weeks. Informed sources advance no less than seven reasons why the recovery machine is likely to go into reverse for the next two months.

1. Seasonal factors and oversize inventories will bring a lull in manufacturing activity through July and August. This means loss of payroll purchasing power which will be partially but not entirely offset by drought relief.

2. Prices are due for a brief but dizzy tailspin.

3. Expenditure of PWA funds is still lagging and won't be felt much before fall.

4. The housing program can only succeed if the government forces reduction of costs. Any move in that direction means more labor trouble.

5. Trade negotiations under the president's tariff authority will be too slow to help this summer.

6. Direct loans to industry by the RFC and federal reserve will fizzle (for reasons recently given in this column).

7. There will be plenty of refinancing under the securities act but almost all of it for refunding purposes—not for new activity which would put people to work.

* * *

INFLATION

But the same sources expect plenty of pep in the fall through free-handed government spending and additional use of monetary powers—including further devaluation. The housing program should also be in full stride by September if it is ever going to be.

Some authorities point out that inflation is already here in a subtle form that few people recognize. The extra funds raised by the treasury in recent months through sale of securities represent chiefly bank subscriptions. These were paid for not in cash but in newly created credit—a simple book entry. The government then disbursed this credit and thus puts fresh money into circulation without printing it.

There's no serious objection to this form of inflation even by conservatives—except from the angle of a top-heavy federal debt. There's plenty of headshaking about an eventual crisis from this cause but it's admitted that intermediate effects should stimulate recovery.

* * *

TAMMANY

Tammany will have to choose a new leader soon. The inside juggling that's been going on to gain control is ruining discipline—and Tammany without discipline is Babe Ruth without a bat. The leaders are beginning to realize that their factional rows may land their machine in the junk-heap—which won't do any of them any good.

Resentment increases among Tammany old-timers at efforts by the recovery wing of the party to kidnap the Manhattan organization. Fifty out of 84 jobs in the Manhattan internal revenue collector's office have been handed to recoveryites. The regular boys thing Mr. Farley has done them dirt and sentiment is growing that they've nothing to lose if they tell him to go peddle his papers elsewhere.

* * *

WHEN

Informed New Yorkers remark that Nazi Ambassador Luther was right in saying he wasn't going home to be fired. He's only going back to find out when he'll be fired. It's noted the term he was serving as reichsbank head when removed in favor of Schacht expires in October. All Hitler promised him was another job to fill out that term.

EXPENDITURES $2000 UNDER BOARD BUDGET

PLACENTIA, July 5.—Expenditures of the Placentia Union Grammar school district were more than $2000 under the budgeted expenditures, and for the first time in many years the funds were all written in the black as the year closed, and there will be about $11,000 in the reserve fund, according to Ralph F. Essert, superintendent of the school, who reported at a specially called board meeting this week at the Bradford avenue school.

The budget for the year was $89,000 and expenditures did not reach that amount. A vote to purchase two new busses, which will cost about $7000, will add to this year's expenditures, however, he said.

Bids were opened on materials for the new unit of the La Jolla school and for reconstruction of the manual arts building at the Bradford avenue campus, and according to Essert, the bids were almost identical.

Lawrence Lemke was appointed as a committee of one to look after repair of buildings by the president, LeRoy Lyon.

A regular meeting was called for July 9, to make up the budget for the coming year.

Politically Speaking

BY GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5.—(UP)—Political opponents of Gov. Frank F. Merriam are airing details of the Crescent City Investment company's 1929 promotion of a stock scheme which promised extensive development of Crescent City as a tourist resort and shipping center. Merriam formerly was president of the company, against which new suits are pending.

The attacks on Merriam were regarded as an indication of the intensive fights which will precede the primary election.

Quinn is confident of winning the Republican nomination, but fears he will not be able to defeat Sinclair in November.

"There's no use kidding ourselves," he said. "I think Sinclair will win the Bourbon nomination, and I will win the Republican. But I'm afraid I won't be able to beat him in November."

George Creel, Democrat, has attacked Sinclair and his principles as "balderdash," "rubbish," and "bunkum."

Justus S. Wardell, snorting at reports he would be offered a federal job to remove him from the Democratic race and thus aid Creel, formally announced his campaign platform a few days after he qualified for the race.

He proposes reduction of state expenditures and issuance of a bond to cover the state deficit; shorter working days and weeks; enactment of health insurance and old age pensions; reduction of fixed charges and taxes; abolition of overlapping bureaus; a sales tax on gross receipts; moratorium on taxes; modification of the parole system; reconstructing the present Railroad Commission into a Public Utilities Commission.

The Democrats should have a merry race, with a widely split field. This, politicians claim, should help Sinclair. Republicans, on the other hand, will have only four candidates from whom to choose. They include Raymond L. Haight, who is registered a Commonwealth.

Politicians claim a bit of skullduggery has appeared in the similarity of names which may be listed on the ballot. Justus S. Wardell and James E. Waddell are Democratic candidates for governor. Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Republican, and Carl Alexander Johnson, Democrat, are candidates for the Senate. State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson and John Franklin Johnson are Republican candidates for state treasurer. Controller Ray L. Riley, Republican, and C. Clifton Reailly, Democrat, will seek the controller's post. The second named in each case denied he hoped to win votes because of the similarity of names.

LAGUNA FESTIVAL COMMITTEE NAMED

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Another step looking toward the organization of the Festival of Arts association of Laguna Beach was taken Tuesday afternoon at the regular luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce at Laguna Beach hotel with the appointment of a special contact committee by Andrew Hall, temporary chairman in charge of the organization movement.

The new committee, composed of Perry E. McCullough, John Jehle and Capt. George A. Portus, is charged with submitting names of between 40 and 50 prominent citizens, men and women, representing different organizations and activities, who are willing to serve on a general board of directors of the proposed Festival of Arts association. In this connection it was suggested that the new organization follow the policy of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses association and endeavor to have, as far as possible, all interests represented on the board.

A tentative constitution, drawn up by a committee composed of Leslie Kimmel, Arthur C. Peterson, Dr. Luther F. Mallow, Dr. David R. Hoffman and Frank Hevener, was adopted.

Candidate Backs Old Age Pensions

GARDEN GROVE, Julyy 5. — James L. Davis, of Santa Ana, Democratic candidate for congress, addressed a meeting of more than 50 members of the Garden Grove Unemployed association this week on behalf of the Roosevelt recovery program.

Particular stress was laid upon the administration's program for unemployment relief and old age pensions. He expressed himself as favoring a decent standard of wages, 30-hour week in industrial plants and unemployment insurance.

"It is becoming increasingly apparent that congress must put into action some form of old age pensions, in which I am in hearty accord," the speaker said, pointing out that if those over 60 are retired on pensions, it will make jobs for those between the ages of 25 and 60 and thus materially reduce unemployment and resulting criminality.

U. S. RODEO EXCITES BRITISH

'Letters-To-Editor' Departments Work Overtime

RATED CARNIVAL OF CRUELTY

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 5. — The Englishman's deep reverence for beef, be it roasted, in a pie, or on the hoof with horns, tail and hide still attached, never was shown more clearly than in the agitation caused by the arrival of an American rodeo at White City stadium, just outside London.

Trouble began when the rodeo officials, who had planned to stage the same show they used in Madison Square Garden each year, held a dress rehearsal for the press. The following day the papers were filled with stories condemning the rodeo as a carnival of cruelty, a bazaar of barbarism, and a mart of misery in which animals, especially cows, were heaped with indignity and pain.

One reporter said, that not since a Zeppelin raid, had he seen anything so horrible as "bulldogging, in which full grown men leap violently on a cow's neck and, by twisting the animal's neck as a housewife does a dishcloth, force the bewildered beast to death, there to roll and bellow in agony."

Another said he could "stomach the bulldogging because there is the happy chance of the animals' assailant breaking his own neck, but that lassoing in which the unsuspecting beast is suddenly checked in its flight, thrown harshly to the ground, and its legs handcuffed, "was more than civilized man could bear."

For several days the "Letters-to-the-Editor" sections of the papers were filled with demands that the rodeo be stopped. It wasn't stopped, is still running in fact, but you wouldn't recognize it as a rodeo. It has been thoroughly de-nicotinized, so to speak. There is no bulldogging, and when a roper lassoes a steer he must immediately drop his end of the rope and allow the steer to trot unhindered about the arena.

To the cows, especially the old troupers who were accustomed to the falling with a thud when the rope settled about them, such business is disconcerting, and many persist in falling down heavily when roped.

The nation became so worked up over what they considered extreme cruelty, that it finally reached the House of Lords, where one august member rose and demanded that the rodeo officials remove the wooden stalls into which the steers are driven after performing in the arena. The lord said he saw, with his own eyes, steers bump into these pens with frightful violence, and he simply wasn't going to stand for it.

"Something must be done, and done immediately," he said in closing his stirring address. "The pens must go."

INVITE PIRATES TO FULLERTON

HELEN JACOBS TRIUMPHS OVER JOAN HARTIGAN

Summaries of Wimbledon tennis matches will be given from London over Radio KHJ from 8:45 to 9 a. m. Friday, and from 9:30 to 9:45 a. m. Saturday.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5. —(UP)—American tennis starts scored two victories today in the All-England championships. Helen Jacobs advanced to the final of women's singles, and the U. S. Chicago and Lester Stoefen of Davis Cup tandem, George Lott of Los Angeles, advanced to the semi-finals of men's doubles.

Miss Jacobs, American champion and favorite to capture the crown left undefended by Helen Wills Moody, breezed to a 6-2, 6-2, victory over Joan Hartigan of Australia.

Then Lott and Stoefen, both tall, powerful players, trounced the smaller German team, H. Denker and H. Henkel, in a quarter-final match, 6-1, 13-11, 6-3.

Miss Jacobs will meet Dorothy Round of England, seeded No. 2, in the final Saturday. Miss Round gained the final today by beating Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Miss Jacobs, America's lone hope of winning either singles crown, triumphed with ease over Miss Hartigan who had advanced to the semi-finals at the expense of two seeded stars. The Berkeley girl played under wraps during the first set. She was content to remain in deep court and merely keep the ball in play until the nervous Australian lass outed or netted.

She took a three-love lead with the loss of but five points.

Miss Hartigan opened the set briskly, breaking her opponent's service at love.

Then Miss Jacobs turned on the power and clicked off four games in a row. She broke down the the Australian's backhand with deep corner shots. After dropping the sixth game, Miss Jacobs came to the net for the first time, winning the seventh with two untouchable volleys. She then broke service to end a dull, uninteresting match.

Wood, Williams Lose

The first American defeat of the day was registered when Jean Borotora and Jacques Brugnon of France, defending champions in the men's doubles, advanced to the semi-final round at the expense of Sidney Wood of New York, U. S. Davis Cup player, and R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia, non-playing captain of the Davis Cup team. The score was 8-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Williams couldn't stand the pace or the terrific heat. As he went to pieces, the Frenchmen drilled winners past him with monotonous regularity. Borotra was particularly brilliant, leaping and stabbing like the "Bounding Basque" of old.

Another partial American victory was scored when Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France, advanced to the semi-finals of women's doubles by beating Miss Jacobs and Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass. The score was 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. Miss Jacobs appeared tired from her singles engagement, and played erratically.

ROMANCE?

Speedy on the matrimonial runway as well as on the track, Glen Cunningham, holder of the world mile run record, soon will march to the altar with Miss Margaret Speir, shown here with him, say his college friends. Both were graduated from Kansas University this spring. Rumor says the wedding will be in Milwaukee.

MARTINEZ AND GUILLEN SCORE RING VICTORIES

Art Breaux today still felt the effects of a terrific solar plexus blow which huge Johnny Martinez, Long Beach heavyweight, delivered on his person for a fourth-round knockout in the Orange County Athletic club's Fourth of July main event yesterday afternoon.

The punch left Breaux, 200-pound Negro from the Ebony club of Los Angeles, limp and helpless on the floor and Referee Mushy Callahan, onetime world's junior welterweight champion, counted him out.

Martinez got away to a slow start and took a terrific beating in the first two rounds. Breaux had him over the proes several times, and opened a severe cut under the Long Beach man's left eye which bled profusely. Martinez rallied in the third, coming out like an Arkansas cyclone and swatting Breaux with everything but the club's license. He had the round by a wide margin and was ahead in the fourth before he put Breaux out.

Melon-Eaters Smeared

The matinee attracted a fair crowd and true to its promise, the management put on one of the best cards of the year. A watermelon-eating contest between seven colored boys topped off an exciting day. Competitors had to devour a large slice, then a small slice, then whistle. E. Robles, the winner, had melon smeared from head to foot.

Paddy Guillen decisioned George Crouch of the Ebony club in the first main event, although Crouch was heavier and had a longer reach. Wee Paddy gave the colored contender such a bombardment of leather in the third and fourth that he caught Callahan's verdict.

After taking a trip to the canvas in the first round, Art Hernandez won the next four and a decision over Eddie Jackson. This, the special event, was one of the best bouts of the show.

Young Lemon, the slugger, outpointed Paul Watkins, the boxer, in a close one.

Williams Outboxes Macia

Jimmie Williams, Ebony club welter, boxed too well for a newcomer from Anaheim, Earl Marcia, and was a decisinve winner.

Myro Soria, another Anaheim fighter, floored Malcolm Walker of the Ebony stable seven times before he finally kept him there. Walker had courage in large quantities.

MORTEMORE IN S. A. CAR WINS 30-LAP FEATURE

Filled with surprising upsets, the American Legion program of midget auto races, held in conjunction with a special July Fourth celebration, attracted one of the best crowds of the season at the Bowl last night.

Three drivers set new track records by qualifying in 16 seconds flat, and new champions were crowned in both the 30-lap main event and the two-lap trophy dash, as the outstanding performances during an evening of breath-taking speed.

Driving No. 96, the car built in Santa Ana, Chester Mortemore came up from behind to win the 30-lap feature in 7 minutes, 51.4 seconds ahead of "Curly" Mills, who brought his No. 36 in second; Neil Theuson, No. 53, third; and Howard Forest, No. 4, fourth.

In addition to taking third in the main event, Theuson earned a surprise victory over Mills in the two-lap trophy dash in 32.5 seconds. Both had qualified in 16 flat to break the record of 16.1 held by Mills. Mortemore also turned in a qualifying lap of 16 flat.

A fireworks display was held during the races.

The results:

Fastest qualifying times — Neil Theuson, No. 53, 16 secs. flat; "Curly" Mills, No. 36, 16 secs. flat; Chester Mortemore, No. 96, 16 secs. flat; Bil Betteridge, No. 7, 16.2; Howard Forest, No. 4, 16.7; "Spud" Naccarato, No. 5, 16.8.

Two-lap trophy dash—Neil Theuson, No. 53, defeated "Curly" Mills, No. 36, in 32.5 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by "Curly" Milsl, No. 36; Howard Forest, No. 4, second. Time, 1 min. 25 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by Neil Theuson, No. 53; Bill Betteridge, No. 7, second. Time, 1 min. 23.5 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by "Spud" Naccarato, No. 5; Art Hungerson, No. 99, second. Time, 1 min. 27.6 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by Don Welsh, No. 17; Pete Naccarato, No. 19, second. Time, 1 min. 28 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by Chester Mortemore, No. 96; John Kelm, No. 22, second. Time, 1 min. 22.5 secs.

NEW UMP WAS CATCHER

NEW YORK, July 5.—Charley Donnelly, newest of the American league umpires, is no stranger behind the bat. He put in nine years as a minor league catcher.

Ruth To Retire After World Tour Next Fall

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—Babe Ruth decided today to make his last appearance as a regular baseball player on foreign soil. He announced that he would make a world tour with an American league team in the fall.

The famous right fielder of the New York Yankees said he would accept the invitation of John Shibe to join the outfit which will go to Japan and Australia. Mrs. Ruth will accompany him. The team expects to go around the world, playing its final game in France.

Ruth figures this is his last year as a regular in organized baseball. He expects to become a manager-player next season or drop out of the game entirely. The players will leave New York right after the World series.

SABELLA LEADS PITCHERS WITH 8 WINS, 1 LOSS

Although several, including Santa Ana's Wilbur Stinchfield, finished the first-half undefeated, "Chico" Sabella of Huntington Beach was the National Night Ball league's premier pitcher during that period, according to averages compiled today.

Sabella lost only one contest while winning eight. His pitching was an important factor in Huntington Beach's successful pennant drive. Louie Neva of Torrange finished second among the "regulars," with Rudy Heman of Olive third. The figures:

MAJOR LEAGUE TRAINING CAMP LIKELY IN '35

Pittsburgh's Pirates, crack National league baseball club, will be officially invited to train in Fullerton next spring.

A formal bid, to be extended within the next few days, was being prepared today by Robert Hatfield, president, and other committeemen of Fullerton's Junior Chamber of Commerce. The invitation will be made through the city of Fullerton, permission to do this having been granted by the council Tuesday night.

The Junior Chamber in entering into negotiations with Pittsburgh officials believes that a major league training camp would put to excellent use the city's fine new grounds recently completed at Commonwealth Park. The field now is used for Sunday and night ball.

Pittsburgh has trained at Paso Robles for many years but President William E. Benswanger and other officials of the club are known to prefer a location closer to Los Angeles. Shortly before the Pirates left for the east this spring, Benswanger and Manager George Gibson, since deposed, investigated several Southern California cities and Benswanger was later quoted in Pittsburgh newspapers as stating that Fullerton offerod the best possibilities.

If Pittsburgh's financial expectations are reasonable, it is believed almost certain that the National leaguers will do their preliminary work in Orange county in 1935. Fullerton's close proxmity to Wrigley field, Los Angeles, where most exhibition contests are played, will be an important factor in that city's favor. So will the fact that Floyd Vaughan, sensational Pirate shortstop, is a Fullerton resident. Vaughan is said to have started the ball-rolling for Fullerton.

GEORGE OSTERMAN FLAG GOLF WINNER

Playing his last shot 24 feet from the flag on No. 2, George Osterman won a flag tournament from a big field at the Santa Ana Country Club yesterday.

Pat Kelly, second, putted into No. 1 cup. Paul Hall was two feet from No. 1 cup. W. H. Spurgeon jr. was three feet away, B. V. Curry, six feet, Ben Osterman 10 and Frank Briggs, 18.

MISS DUNBAR RAPS BAER 'LIFE STORY'

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—(UP)—Verbal sky rockets and other fireworks set off by Dorothy Dunbar, actress, and her rancher-father, today were still sizzling about Max Baer's head, and all because he allegedly wrote into his "own life story" too many references to the actress, who is his former wife.

Miss Dunbar made several facts exceedingly plain:

That Maxie, who is champion of the ring and assertedly, of egotism, did not buy or coax her love through jewels and cash;

That Maxie's ring career interests her no more than yesterday's firecracker which has fizzled out; that, although Maxie is being sued often the Dunbars do not sue, and lastly (as an after thought) there is no new romance in sight for Dorothy Dunbar.

Henry Alexander Dunbar, the actresss' father, who lives near Colorado Springs, Colo., offered a wide variety of comment, including remarks to the effect that Miss Dunbar has always made more money than Maxie, and that he himself has made enough to take care of his family.

It was also made clear that Baer's reference to unpaid for jewelry given his former wife should include with emphasis the fact she returned all the jewelry to him.

TENNIS

Entries for the annual Santa Ana round-robin championships, sponsored by the Santa Ana Tennis club, will close Friday at 6 p. m. Until then, officials said, they may be filed at Al Jasper's sporting goods store, 305 N. Sycamore street; Jim Smalley's Tennis shop, 116 1-2 East Fourth street, or by 'phoning No. 3181J. The tournament fee is 25 cents. Any bona fide resident of this section is eligible.

Players in the round-robin event are grouped in divisions of ten, and every entrant will meet every other entrant in his section. There will be a class for women if enough show interest. Otherwise, officials intimated, the leading feminine contestants may be placed in Class A, a novel departure in local tennis circles.

Committeemen assemble Friday night to seed players and draw a first-round schedule. Matches will be arranged a week in advance and published in The Register every Saturday.

Dollar Jr. First In Tahoe Contest

TAHOE CITY, July 5.—(UP)—Stanley Dollar jr., held the Lake Tahoe speedboat championship today after his "Skipalong" dashed over the mile-and-one-fifth course Sunday five times in 10 min., 38.5 sec.

Mrs. J. Carroll Skinner won the race for 100-horsepower boats, claiming her third victory in this class by making the three laps in 8:40. George Kehect won the 200-horsepower event.

FUN A-FISHIN'

BY JIMMIE DONAHUE

Hat bands play an important part in trout fishing, and making the rounds of several streams this spring we found several clever anglers with original ideas.

Bands have been in use as a convenient place in which to stick flies since the dark ages, but there has been one objection—once the barb of the fly was inserted in the band, the angler ruined his whole day getting it out.

One practical fisherman seen this year had inserted a number of small safety pins in the band of his chapeau, fastening his flies to the pins through their eyes. Another, using snelled flies, had sewed numerous stitches in the band, inserting the barbs under the threads which ran across the surface of the ribbon.

Another we saw had fastened several tiny snap swivels in his hat, fixing the eyes of his flies to the catch of the snap.

EX-BALL PLAYER IS KILLED BY BANDITS

BUTTE, Mont., July 5.—(UP)—Police and sheriff's officers today could find no trace of the bandit-killers of Gaylord Reppy, 32, former major league baseball pitcher.

Reppy died at midnight with an unidentified robber's bullet in his back. He was shot during a service station holdup.

Vieaux Wins Auto Races At Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., July 5.—(UP)—Lloyd Vieaux, Beverly Hills, Cal., speedster today held the most honors of the Lakewood auto races as he won the 20-mile sweepstakes, took two other racing events and made a new track record of 44 1-5 seconds for the mile.

HEARD HIGH IN CITY LEAGUE'S SLUGGING LIST

Hitting safely 15 times in 27 attempts for an average of .556, Jerry Heard of the First National bank's team led Santa Ana City league batters during the first-half of the season.

Heard was hard pressed by two other players who swatted .500 or better. Lawrence Cameron of the 20-30 club had a mark of .533. Harold Finley of the Commercial National bank was third with an even .500.

In the "Big Ten" also were Frank Labrucherie, .480; Lloyd Lichtenwalter, .438; Warren Ashleigh, .429; Joe Cornelius, .412; Tom Lacy, .391; "Baldy" Foltz, .391 and Mickey Walker, .375.

Pressing on in the Santa Ana City league's second-half, four clubs engage in a doubleheader at the Municipal Bowl tonight. The M. E. South Juniors tackle Weber's bakery at 7 o'clock. The South Methodist Seniors face the 20-30 club at 8.

The City League All-Stars, who play the Santa Ana Stars in the Bowl Friday night, dropped a 5-2 game at Irvine Tuesday night but several of their best players were not available.

FLORIDA FROG SETS NEW JUMP RECORDS

WAUCHULA, Fla., July 5.—(UP)—Perennial rivalry between California and Florida, embracing scenic attractions, climate and fruits, has been extended to frog-jumping, with Florida claiming a world record, 13 feet 7 inches, or five inches better than California can boast.

As 15,000 spectators strained forward in their seats and as countless other thousands listened intently on their radios, "Woco-Pep," the victor out of a field of 60, croaked "California, Here I Come!" and leaped the record distance, plopping in a cloud of dust on a flour-covered course.

Every year California holds a similar meet at Angel's Camp, where the best previous mark recorded was 13 feet 2 inches. Determined to wrest whatever laurels leap-frogging lends to any state, public spirited citizens here put on a stirring show the Fourth. The mayor, the postmaster and the clerk of courts were the judges.

"Woco-Pep," entered by Jack Cliett of Wauchula, at first tied with one "Wimpy," owned by Henry Boney, former big league baseball player. They both soared 13 feet, 5 inches. Mayor S. E. Ausley called for a re-leap, and "Woco-Pep," facing westward with a look that carried defeat to California in it, did his stuff.

Officials swore there was "no skullduggery," such as occurred in Mark Twain's humorous account of the jumping frog of the Calaveras. The Florida frogs simply were in the best of leap, and responded nobly for the deep Southeast.

SIX ORANGE COUNTY GIRLS TO TAKE PART IN BALLET IN L. A.

Six Orange county girls will participate in the "Bolero" dance program next Wednesday night, July 11, which opens the summer ballet series at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles, it became known today.

Included in the group are the Misses Louise Goble and Betty Jean Koster, of Santa Ana; Shirley Morse, of Huntington Beach; Betty Jean Cumings, of Buena Park, and Agnes Laforce and Billie Zent, of Fullerton, all of whom are pupils of Estin Burks.

The production will be in charge of Trinidad Goni, widely known Spanish dancer of Los Angeles, featuring her new Moorish version of Ravel's "Bolero," preceded by spectacular Spanish and Mexican dance numbers.

Exotic costumes for the ballet have been created by Corinne, designer of costumes from Grauman's Chinese theater prologues, it is announced.

FARM OFFICIAL REVIEWS BENEFITS ACCRUING FROM AGRICULTURAL LEGISLATION

By W. M. CORY,
Assistant Farm Advisor

Agriculture has for years been striving to get its rightful recognition in legislative enactments and to obtain a parity price with industry for the fruits of her labors. Those engaged in agriculture are subjected to all the adversities of climate as well as markets in getting their products to the consumer. If agriculture is to maintain her rightful place among the great wealth producing classes of the nation, she must be permitted to retain her rightful share of the consumer's dollar.

Fortunately agriculture has been sufficiently awake to this need and has maintained a watchful attitude on legislative enactments which might prove harmful. Likewise much constructive legislation has been enacted which has prevented agriculture reverting here to the landlord-peasant type so characteristic of some of the older nations.

Products coming from the soil are the only truly new wealth producing sources. Manufacture and industry merely have to perform the many and varied services demanded by our present complex civilization.

Preeminent among agricultural legislation was the enabling act permitting groups of producers to cooperatively market their products. Others might be mentioned. The Cooperative Marketing Act, however, stands out among all others as a vehicle by which growers might, themselves, carry on such processes collectively as are necessary in getting their products to the consumers and to derive such monetary gain thereby which was formerly lost to them. With their influence in the market, new forces were felt, that of a tendency to strengthen prices and to ask a price that market conditions would justify, rather than to sell at any price, as was the case, generally, under the commission plan of selling.

Plan Very Helpful

This plan has been very helpful to many of our crops and particularly to our specialty crops. Because of the large numbers of producers involved, the wide-spread area in which they were engaged in production, and the varied soil and climatic conditions, the distance from market, etc., it has apparently been impossible to work out a satisfactory program under the Cooperative Marketing Act for many of the basic commodities. This difficulty has long been recognized and many attempts made, with varying success, to meet this situation. Under the stress of collapsed prices, the Agricultural Adjustment Act was enacted. This was not hasty legislation but legislation that agricultural leaders had been trying to get enacted into law for some time. It was only under the pressure of economic stress that sufficient support was gained.

This act became law on May 12, 1933. Its intent and purpose is very explicitly stated in the Act, in this way, "It is hereby declared to be the policy of Congress—

"(1) To establish and maintain such balance between the production and consumption of agricultural commodities, and such marketing conditions therefor, as will reestablish prices to farmers at a level that will give agricultural commodities a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy, equivalent to the purchasing power of agricultural commodities in the base period. The base period being the pre-war period, August 1909 to July 1914. This period was chosen as it was then a more uniform balance appeared to exist between prices of raw materials and prices of manufactured articles.

"(2) To approach such equality of purchasing power by gradual correction of the present inequalities therein at as rapid a rate as is deemed feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets.

"(3) To protect the consumers' interest by readjusting farm production at such level as will not increase the percentage of the consumers' retail expenditures for agricultural commodities, or products derived therefrom, which is returned to the farmer above the percentage which was returned to the farmer in the prewar period, August 1909 to July 1914."

Powers Granted

In order to bring about the foregoing, the following powers were granted to the Secretary of Agriculture:

(1) To provide for the reduction in the acreage or reduction in the production for market, or both of any basic agricultural commodity, through agreements with producers or by other voluntary methods, and to provide for rental or benefit payments in connection therewith or upon that part of the production of basic agricultural commodity for domestic consumption, in such amounts as the Secretary deems fair and reasonable, to be paid out of any moneys available for such payments.

(2) To enter into marketing agreements with processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling, in the current of inter-state or foreign commerce of any agricultural commodity or product thereof, after due notice and hearing to interest parties.

(3) To issue licenses permitting processors, association of producers, and others to engage in the handling in the current of interstate or foreign commerce of any agricultural commodity or product thereof, or any competing commodity or product thereof.

Since the making of benefit payments to cooperating producers was provided for, the Secretary of Agriculture was granted authority to levy processing taxes which were assessed upon the first domestic processing of the commodity, whether of domestic production or imported and collected from the processor. The rate of the tax was equal to the difference between the current average farm price for the commodity and the fair exchange value of the commodity.

Commodities originally named as basic commodities in the Act included wheat, cotton, field corn, hogs, rice, tobacco, and milk and its products. These commodities have been added to by recent amendments of Congress to include cattle, peanuts, rye, flax, barley and grain sorghums.

Reviews Results

Now that the Act has been in effect over a year, it is well to consider how satisfactorily it has functioned for agriculture. Before condemning too severely or acclaiming too highly, one must be broad minded enough to consider not only the direct returns, if any, but also the general improvement in the purchasing power of agriculture, which has an indirect influence upon the prices of all agricultural commodities. Also the magnitude of the problem when entering into a contract with the individual producers of any of the basic crops. This procedure was taken in the case of wheat, rice, cotton, corn and hogs and tobacco. Sign-up and local administration was the responsibility of local associations comprised of contract signers. The procedure was entirely new to them and they had to be first trained. It is marvelous that such an undertaking could be accomplished with as little delay and friction. Now for some of the accomplishments, as summarized from statements taken from the News Digest, official publication of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

On April 1 there were 1,862,532 growers participating in the wheat, cotton and tobacco adjustment programs. Rental and benefit payments totalling $179,702,687 had been paid to producers. Approximately 1,200,000 corn-hog producers, representing the bulk of the Nation's commercial corn and hog production have signed the adjustment agreement. Payments to this group of producers will total approximately $350,000,000.

The cotton program, which reduced the probable outturn by more than four million bales, has been reflected in increased incomes to growers and renewed business and commercial activity throughout the South. The total indicated income received from the 1933 crop is $856,776,000 as compared with $425,488,000 in 1932.

AGRICULTURAL LEGISLATION BENEFITS TOLD

Farm income from tobacco grown in the United States during the 1933-34 marketing year will approximate 214 million dollars, an increase of 100 percent over the returns from sales of the previous season.

Wheat growers cooperating in the wheat program are receiving a parity price for wheat on their farm allotment.

Hog prices have been higher every week since the processing tax went into effect than they were the corresponding week a year previous. The increase in value per cwt. of hogs to the farmer from week to week when both price and hog processing tax proceeds are included, has ranged from 30 to 76 percent over one year previous. Proceeds from the processing tax are used to make benefit payments to those farmers who cooperate in the hog adjustment program. The benefit payments are in addition to returns producers receive from the sale of their hogs.

Prices Improved

In addition to these programs for basic commodities, marketing agreements are including a large number of farmers within the benefits of the Act. There are 22 such agreements, covering special crops, including fruits and vegetables, which are increasing prices and stabilizing markets for over 740,000 growers. Cling peach growers of California received an income of $5,000,000 for their 1933 crop as compared with $906,000 in 1932. This improvement is attributed to a marketing agreement under which stability was created. California Tokay grape growers, under a marketing agreement providing for proration of shipments, benefited to the extent of approximately a half million dollars. Likewise the California walnut industry has benefited between two and three million dollars by the marketing agreement under which the 1933 crop was marketed. According to Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers association, this was $1,000,000 more than anticipated.

Operation of a national citrus fruit stabilization program has been made possible with approval of Secretary Wallace. Proration of shipments are provided for which regulate the supply to market. Shippers are under license which makes it mandatory for them to observe allotments.

Growers, generally, favor the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and look upon it as the vehicle whereby producers can, through cooperative endeavor, adjust production to effective market demand. After a year under the individual allotment plan, cotton growers, when asked concerning their attitude toward a more stringent production control program, voiced almost unanimous approval. This has resulted in the passage of the Bankhead Act by congress and signed April 21st by the President, which assigns state allotments of the number of bales of cotton which producers in each state may grow and market tax free. Only ten million 500 pound bales may be harvested in the United States during the crop year 1934-35 and marketed exempt from the tax. State allotments are on the basis of average production for the five years 1928-32 inclusive. County allotments will be made by breaking down the state allotments on the basis of past production. County production control associations will be utilized in making and adjusting individual allotments. Cotton produced in excess of the allotment will be taxed 50 percent of the market value of cotton, for which no exemption certificate has been issued.

This form of regulated production is the longest step yet taken toward adjusting production to domestic demand. It will eliminate a great deal of speculation in the marketing of farm crops and will remove a great deal of uncertainty in the mind of the grower as to what the crop returns are to be. A new value will be created for the established farm property which is the right to produce a crop based on past performances. Thus established property values will not be wiped away through the development of new properties producing a product for which there is no established demand. The dairy industry in Southern California developed such a plan of operation over two years ago under voluntary observance. It has not proven successful because of the non-cooperative attitude of a minority. With authority for adequate supervision the plan is thought workable.

A feature of the benefit payment plan which has not been mentioned is that through it the grower is assured a return on a certain percentage of his crop even though none is produced. This in the event of a crop failure due to adverse weather conditions amounts to crop insurance.

New Booklets On Santa Ana Will Be Issued Soon

In the near future, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will issue 3000 new booklets, entitled "Membership Roster and Key to Santa Ana," it was announced today by Secretary George A. Raymer.

These booklets, the secretary said, will give definite details concerning the social, civic and political structure of the city, and will include a great deal of general information concerning this area.

In the membership roster division of the new booklet will be listed members of the chamber of commerce, who will be urged to support each other.

An appeal for aid in compiling the new booklet was made by Secretary Raymer, who desires that all persons who have information of general interest to the public which could be included in a small booklet, to so inform him.

The chamber of commerce wishes to list all the churches of Santa Ana, together with the addresses and names of pastors; clubs of general interest to the public, place of meeting, date of meeting, names of presidents and secretaries, their addresses and telephone numbers, the same data for fraternal organizations and other groups.

Crowds Throng County Beaches For 4th Celebrations

DISPLAYS OF FIREWORKS ON PIERS PLEASE

Thousands of persons flocked to Orange county's beaches yesterday to observe the Fourth of July and to watch the brilliant displays of fireworks which were staged from the Huntington Beach and Balboa piers last night.

Crowds at Huntington Beach, where the Fourth of July celebration was combined with the Fiesta De La Plata, were the largest in the history of the city. It was estimated that more than 25,000 visitors enjoyed the program during the day and evening.

The big parade, which was two miles long got under way at 11 a. m. Horse lovers of the county, with the El Rodeo club taking the lead, put 200 horses in the parade. Some of California's finest show horses were included. Walter Lamb's palamino pair won first prize. John Wagner of Placentia showed a pair of pinto mates that carried saddles and equipment valued at thousands of dollars.

In the decorated auto division, flower-decked cars vied for ribbons, with the Marinello beauty shop, owned by Mrs. Ruth Stricklin, capturing first prize. Lyndon Wells' individual entry took second prize and the Legion Auxiliary took third.

A float decorated with thousands of Shasta daisies entered by the Epworth league won the plaudits of the crowd, as did a float of George Farquhar, with Miss Dorothy Quiggle riding a surf board.

Martial Music

Marching units in the parade providing martial music included the boys' and girls' band of South Gate, the Long Beach Elks drum and bugle corps representing Santa Ana Elks, the Legion drum and bugle corps, the Spanish War Veterans' drum and bugle corps, the Compton Elks band and the Huntington Beach Mpuicipal band.

Japanese floats in the parade were given a special section. Grand Marshal John H. Marion led the parade, riding a decorated horse and wearing a Spanish costume. A historical feature of the parade was Ed Manning, first mayor of Huntington Beach, and C. H. Howard, first councilman, riding in a 1904 Ford car.

Japanese residents of the county entertained at the beach in the afternoon with a program of wrestling matches, followed by Japanese girls in native dances.

The bathing beauty parade in the afternoon drew about 30 girls in the competition for prizes. Miss Gwendolyn Swift, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swift, of Huntington Beach, won first prize. Miss Helen Rhyerd, of the same city, took second place.

In the fancy dress costume prize for bathing beauties, Miss Shirley Morse, of Huntington Beach, won first prize. The swim around the pier in the afternoon was won by Ralph Wilson, of Huntington Beach, with Gordon Stein second and Will Farquhar third.

The horse show and races took place at the ball park in the afternoon. Miss Edith Brush won first prize for the women's plain Western outfit. Clint Brush took the men's prize for the same class. Jean Brush took first for girl's pony outfit and the second prize went to Phyllis Brush. Standing room was at a premium at the horse events.

Queen Crowned

Crowning of the queen of the festival took place at night from the street band stand. Miss Jean Baldwin was crowned queen by Senator N. T. Edwards. A court of beautiful girls acted as her escort. Mayor T. B. Talbert introduced the queen and also Senator Edwards.

The Fiesta De La Plata program closed with a two-hour display of fireworks at night and street dancing. Roy F. Patrick was in charge of the fireworks display, while the pioneer group conducted one dance and the other was conducted by city firemen. Pioneers enjoyed a picnic dinner at the home of Mayor Talbert in the afternoon.

Harbor Events

Thousands of pleasure-seekers thronged to Newport Beach and Balboa for a celebration which culminated in a gigantic fireworks display from the Balboa pier at 8 p. m. It was estimated that about 5000 lined the boardwalks and streets leading to the pier to watch the pyrotechnic display, which last for well over an hour besides thousands who parked their cars on the bluffs over the bay to watch the fireworks display, or were camped about the strand.

In the afternoon Epic clubs of Southern California met at Newport for a mass gathering and picnic, with Harry Gerhart, in charge of arrangements, estimated attracted a crowd of approximately 400, from 10 Epic clubs in the vicinity. Walter Heiser, World war veteran and Sinclair-for-governor organizer in Southern California, headed the list of speakers. Heiser outlined the policies of Sinclair's campaign platform to a crowd gathered in the Newport plaza.

Herbert F. Kenny, Santa Ana, Democratic candidate for assemblyman from the seventy-Orange, candidate for assemblyman from the seventy-fifth district, also fourth district, and C. R. Allen, spoke.

Yacht Races

Earlier in the day the Fourth of July snowbird yachting races, from the Newport Yacht club, claimed the attention of crowds on the beach. The Osprey, piloted by D. Wigley, for the third consecutive day captured first place, followed by J. Daniell, in the Surfbird, and B. Ford in the Puffin. The Dove, Tahee, Blackbird and Albatross II also participated.

Races in the star class were won by Fred Lyons, in the Vela, in four hours, 40 minutes, and 20 seconds. He was followed by Bart Miller in the Inspiration, Foster Sampson in the West Wind, Worth Dickey in the Vega II, H. Ingersoli in the Tempe, and K. Simpson in the Speed Star, in that order.

HELD FOR TRIAL ON DRIVING COUNT

Ralph W. Moon, 32, 823 North Birch street, was bound over to the superior court on drunken driving charges when he appeared in justice court Tuesday.

Moon was arrested by California Highway Patrolman George Stinson on June 24 at Delhi road and South Main street, after Moon's car had struck another machine. Stinson and Dr. Robert S. Wade were called to testify against Moon at the hearing.

Bail was fixed at $500 by Judge Kenneth Morrison.

County Historical Society To Hold Picnic Saturday

Members of the Orange County Historical Society will meet Saturday at 1 p. m. for a basket picnic lunch at Commonwealth Park, in Fullerton, it was announced today by S. M. Davis, secretary.

The welcoming address will be made by W. L. Hale, mayor of Fullerton. Addresses will be made by George H. Amerige and others, it was announced. Those who desire transportation should telephone Dr. C. D. Ball, president, at 63.

COLLECTION OF RARE INDIAN RELICS ATTRACTS ATTENTION; MAY BE HOUSED AT MISSION

An extensive collectino of rare Indian relics accumulated over a period of 40 years, may soon be established at San Juan Capistrano mission, it was indicated today by William P. Magee, rancher living on the Pala highway back of the Santa Margarita Rancho, whose collection is attracting national attention.

"I have long felt that the Mission is the proper place for the display of early California relics," said Magee today "and between myself, Frank Forster, and others I believe we could make a very creditable display."

Magee recently received reports of an extensive early-day Indian settlement on Saddleback, near the new road, and will explore the ruins there for additional relics in the near future.

Many rare stone utensils and implements used by the Indians in preparing food, playing games, and hunting, gathered by Magee at the old reservation above Bell canyon, and an ancient village of the Oak Dwellers near San Luis Rey, and other portions of the back country of Orange and San Diego counties, are on display at his picturesque ranch home.

In these villages of an ancient civilization inhabited long before America was discovered, Magee has found evidences of activities long forgotten.

Among the rarest of his finds are three cog stones, about four inches across and similar to a cog wheel, only a half dozen of which are known to be in existence, the others being in the Smithsonian institute.

"These cog stones are so old that no one knows what they might have been used for" said Magee today. "I have asked thousands of Indians about them but have been unable to find for what purpose they were used.

"S. C. Evans, former mayor of Riverside, was also a collector and claimed to know what the cog stones were used for and planned to tell the story in a book he was writing at the time of his death. The secret died with him. I have been trying to get in touch with Mr. Harrington, of the Smithsonian institute, hoping that he would be able to complete the book."

The ancient Indian village in the San Luis Rey valley covered many acres, Magee's explorations discovered, and was marked by burned rocks and soil where the camp fires had been built. He found many implements scattered about the great circle, picking up a crescent grinder, the first of its type on record, so far as can be learned; the cog stones, a stone for heating water; arrow heads of obsidian, and other articles.

The ancient tribe, according to what information Magee had been able to obtain from present day Indians, were known as the "Old People" or "Viejos." They were also called the Oak Dwellers because they lived in the oak forests and depended much upon acorns for food.

SPRAY METHODS TO BE SHOWN NEXT MONDAY

Two spray demonstration meetings will be held next Monday, July 9, in Orange county for operators and owners of spray equipment to show how to secure the maximum efficiency in the operation of spray machines, according to announcement from the farm adviser's office. The demonstrations are sponsored by the agricultural extension service and agricultural commissioner's office to present recent technical information that bears on efficient management of equipment and methods of application.

J. P. Fairbank, extension specialist in agricultural engineering, University of California, will discuss management of spray equipment and have charge of the mechanical demonstration. Regulations governing spray operations in Southern California counties will be discussed by Roy Black, deputy agricultural commissioner. Climatic and time factors affffecting spray applications will be reviewed by R. K. Bishop, spray inspector. These discussions and demonstrations will be of special interest to spray foremen, operators and citrus growers who operate their own outfits.

In holding these demonstrations, Farm Adviser Harold E. Wahlberg says the sponsoring agencies do not advocate oil sprays as the method of citrus pest control, but merely provide an opportunity to discuss efficiency of application when and where this method is used.

The schedule of demonstrations is announced as follows:

Monday, July 9, 9 a. m.—Holmes Bishop orchard, Fairhaven avenue near Grand avenue, south and east of Orange.

Monday, July 9, 2 p. m.—C. B. Carpenter orchard, corner Chapman avenue and Raymond avenue, just east of Fullerton.

Scout Camp Conditions Given Okay

Sanitary conditions at Camp Rokili, Orange county Boy Scout camp in the San Bernardino mountains, are perfect, according to W. W. Chandler, chief inspector, and E. E. Frisby, sanitary inspector, of the Orange county health department, who have finished a complete sanitary survey of the mountain camp.

Harrison E. White, county Scout executive, expressed considerable gratification over the 100 per cent rating given the camp by the health department inspectors, pointing out that the camp probably is as healthy a place for young boys to be during the summer as any place that could be found.

Trucks leave every Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock from local Scout headquarters, taking boys to camp. Any boy 12 years of age, whether or not he is a Boy Scout, may enter camp provided he obeys the rules of scouting.

Two special periods, beginning July 18, will be held expressly for boys of cub age, 9 to 11, inclusive. Special care and attention will be given these younger boys, and all activities will be supervised by a designated leader.

The camp periods, according to schedule, will end the week of July 25 to August 1.

INSTRUCTION MEET TO BE HELD BY P.-T. A.

Plans for a school of instruction for new officers and chairmen of all city units were formulated at the executive board meeting of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers held Tuesday at the city school administration building. August 7 was selected as the date for the meeting, for which Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, council president, and Mrs. Barry McPhee, program chairman, are completing arrangements.

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson explained the proposed initiative measure that is designed to reorganize the state board of education. This measure would make membership of the state board elective and stipulate that the election of the 10 members should be from designated districts. It would also give the board authority to appoint the state superintendent of schools.

Two new council chairmen, Lyle Mitchell, legislative chairman, and Mrs. Max Holmes, health chairman, called attention to the film estimates appearing weekly in The Register and suggested that local motion picture chairmen file them for future reference.

Considering it desirable to retain Tuesday as Parent-Teacher day in Santa Ana, the council has requested all elementary associations to change their meeting dates to the third Tuesday. The proposed schedule will be the council, the first Tuesday, high school and junior college the second Tuesday, elementary schools, the third Tuesday, and Junior high schools, the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Santa Ana Girl Wedded At Stanford Memorial Chapel

Stanford University is playing a prominent part in the romance of Miss Emalena Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Richards, 816 French street, and Hugh Harris Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Anderson, 400 North Mentor, Pasadena, who were married Saturday, June 30, in Stanford Memorial chapel.

After a honeymoon stay at Carmel, the bride and bridegroom will return to the University campus to make their home for the remainder of the summer. Mr. Anderson received his degree from the University as a member of this year's graduating class.

Santa Anans going to Palo Alto for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Richards and son and daughters, Malcolm Richards and the Misses Evelyn and Helen Richards and Mr. and Mrs. James Richards.

Officiating minister was the Rev. Paul Offenhiser, pastor of Palo Alto First Baptist church, reading the service at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. The chancel was decorated with ferns and shell pink gladioluses, unusually lovely in the glow of cathedral candles rising from candelabra. Harry Allen, university organist, played appropriate selections preceding the ceremony, including Lohengrin's Wedding March as a processional.

The slender young bride was very lovely in a blue net gown worn over matching taffeta. She wore a net turban with shoulder veil whose folds were caught by a cluster of orange blossoms. Her flowers were bride's roses in a very delicate tint of pink.

Her sister, Miss Helen Richards, was maid of honor, wearing floral crepe with a blue jacket. Instead of a hat she wore a pretty coronet. She carried a bouquet of orchid sweet peas and yellow roses. Austin C. Barker, college friend of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride and bridegroom paused in the chapel reception hall for congratulations. Mr. Anderson has a position with the American Trust company at Burlingame. In September, he and his bride plan to go to Washington, D. C., where he will enter George Washington University to study international law.

Guests at the wedding included college friends of Mr. Anderson, in addition to Southland relatives and friends making the trip north for the event. In addition to the group from Santa Ana were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson and daughters, the Misses Caroline and Geraldine Anderson, Mrs. Walter Richards Mr. and Mrs. Ross Anderson, Mrs. John Henry and Miss Barbara Harris, all of Pasadena.

The new Mrs. Anderson has a host of friends in this community, where as a talented violinist she has been especially prominent in musical circles. She is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and Junior college.

Newly Wedded Couple Travel East for Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Dargatz are well on their way to Chicago on a honeymoon trip following their marriage of Sunday, July 1 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Braden, 1502 West Sixth street.

Miss Nova Braden became the bride of Mr. Dargatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dargatz of Anaheim at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with the bridegroom's brother-in-law, the Rev. Howard A. Greene, of Anaheim, officiating. Ferns and flowers banked the fireplace where the double-ring ceremony was read by the light of many tapers.

Miss Ruth La Londe sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Holly, who remained at the piano for Lohengrin's Wedding March.

Miss Braden made a most attractive bride in her gown of white satin, worn with a tulle veil caught with fragrant orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of roses, white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Colleen Braden, was maid of honor, wearing green organdy and carrying pink sweet peas.

Mrs. L. W. Corning (Neva Braden) twin sister of the bride, was a pretty attendant in her dress of coral georgette, with which she carried orchid sweet peas. Little Miss Evelyn Wyckoff, flower girl, wore pink georgette. Master Buddy Braden, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer, wearing a white linen suit with white shoes. Bert Brackman of Anaheim, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and Roy Gregg of Orange was usher.

Mrs. A. F. Braden wore blue and Mrs. Otto Dargatz pink crepe, both with corsage bouquets of gardenias. Wedding cake was served during a reception which followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dargatz left for Chicago to attend the Exposition and to visit with relatives. For traveling, the new Mrs. Dargatz donned a navy blue ensemble with white accessories. On their return, the young people will take up residence in Anaheim.

Miss Dorothy Rossiter And Francis I. Bice Wedded in Yuma

The marriage on Monday, July 2, in Yuma, Ariz., of Miss Dorothy W. Rossiter of Orange and Francis L. Bice of Santa Ana was the happy culmination of a romance of school days when Miss Rossiter attended Orange Union High school and Mr. Bice attended Tustin, each graduating from their respective schools.

Mr. Bice is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bice, 620 East St. Gertrude Place, and his bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. A. Rossiter of 1147 East Chapman avenue, Orange. After her completion of high school she attended Santa Ana Junior college, graduating with this year's class.

The young couple motored to the little Arizona city and were unattended at their quiet wedding, conducted by the Rev. Father Lopez of the Yuma Catholic church. After dispatching telegrams to their waiting parents in this community, they continued on their trip, having planned a honeymoon at Lake Wenatchee and at points in Oregon and Washington.

They will return to the Southland shortly after the middle of July and Santa Ana friends are hoping that they will decide to make their home in this city where Mr. Bice is in the produce business with Elmer Prince.

YOU and your Friends

Miss Myrtle Graham, 1814 Spurgeon street and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Graham and son, Henry, 946 West Pine street, left Wednesday morning for the east. Miss Graham will go to New York City to become the bride of Luther V. Delaney. Mr. and Mrs. Graham and their son plan to visit in Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker, Yorba street, Tustin, left today for an extended trip by automobile. They plan to stop at Yellowstone National Park and other scenic points, continuing to Chicago. At Rochester, N. Y., they will attend the G. A. R. convention scheduled for the week of August 12.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harp and daughter, Miss Rosemary Harp, have moved from 614 West Sixth street to 419 West Washington avenue.

Mrs. Emma Miller, Mrs. Dora Damerest and Mrs. Ella Bridenstine took part in a luncheon held this week in the home of Mrs. Grace Lanning, 403 South Broadway. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Damerest planned the affair in compliment to Mrs. Lanning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Floyd Croddy who left for St. Catherine's, Catalina Island, immediately after their wedding of Saturday, June 30, returned last night to this city and are domiciled at La Hacienda apartments, 1420 North Broadway. Mrs. Croddy was Miss Maurine Mathes.

Ernest S. Ranniger, 1532 West Washington avenue, has been a guest while on a business trip to New York City, at Hotel Lincoln of the eastern metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Olin of Taft, Calif., have announced the birth on Wednesday, June 27, of a little daughter to Mrs. Olin, formerly Miss Dorothy Deck, daughter of the S. E. Decks of Santa Ana and Buttonwillow. The little daughter will be christened Roberta Louise Olin.

Mrs. J. C. James and small son, Jack, 1725 Valencia avenue, returned Tuesday morning from a few days' stay in Arizona, accompanied home by their son and brother, Fred James, who had been attending high school in Tempe, Ariz., for the past term. He made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Botkin.

W. Paul Johnson, whose work keeps him in Modesto, is spending this week with Mrs. Johnson at their home, 1027 Kilson drive.

Concluding a few days' stay in this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Manning, 729 South Broadway, Mrs. E. A. Parker returned early this week to her home in San Diego. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Ethel Mae Manning, who will remain for a week's visit.

Miss Florence M. Bagley, 1908 Valencia avenue, has gone with a motoring party to Lake George, N. Y., planning to return home late in August or early in September. During the summer she will visit relatives and friends in New England, New York City and Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Edward Green and daughter and son, Murial and Billy, 905 West Washington avenue, and Miss Marguerite Haskell, 314 East Santa Clara avenue spent several days recently at Big Bear.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Haskell and sons and daughters, Clifford, Norman and the Misses Grace and Marguerite Haskell, 314 East Santa Clara avenue, accompanied by James Downey and Ray Bales, were at Forest Home over the holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Haskell and their family were dinner guests early this week of Modesto residents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reinhart and sons, Donald and Carl, at Newport Beach, where they are spending their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lupton were hosts at a holiday picnic yesterday in their ranch home at Costa Mesa. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Higgins and son Gordon, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Leavitt, Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Higgins, Orange; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Ludlow, Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. M. Woods, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Mead and sons, Donald and Rodney, and Catherine Fellows arrived last night on the President Hoover from Shanghai, China, where Mr. Mead has been employed with the Standard Oil company for several years. He is on a six months' vacation which he and his family will spend at East Newport. They were welcomed at the harbor last night by Frank Plavan, Miss Wilma Plavan, Miss Mildred Mead and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hill and daughters and son, Betty, Marjorie and John William Hill, spent yesterday at Sunset Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill and daughters, Geraldine, Virginia and Eleanor, of Whittier, who have taken a cottage at Sunset Beach for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hill and son, Herbert jr. of Whittier spent yesterday with Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hales, 1629 West Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hein, with their sons, James and Donald Hein, were hosts last night at a buffet supper in their home on Ball road near Anaheim. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Beamer, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wellington, Miss Mary Catherine Freeman and Gilbert Myers, Santa Ana; Miss Esteline Price, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Beamer and daughter and son, Thelma and Junior Beamer, and Kenneth Brownmeller, Whittier.

Church Board Gives Farewell Dinner For Couple

Shared by Calvary church board members and their wives, a party held last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gall, 1338 West Ninth street, came as a farewell compliment to Mr. and Mrs Ralph Bower of Garden Grove, who left today for Idaho where they will make their home. Mr. Bower has been a member of the board.

Tables were set outdoors beneath large walnut trees for a covered dish dinner served at 6 o'clock. Bouquets of scabiosa served as decorations. After a session of games, the group adjourned indoors for additional entertainment.

Group singing was enjoyed, with Mrs. Frank E. Lindgren at the piano. On behalf of the group, the Rev. Mr. Lindgren presented Mr. and Mrs. Bower with a parting gift, a book by Dr. Lewis Sperry Chaser.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. Lingren and son Frank, Messrs. and Mesdames Ralph Bower, G. C. Bower, William Breckenridge, Eugene Griset, W. E. Cowan, Ralph Haines, L. J. Gall, Mrs. Emma Clelland, Mrs. Cynthia Alger, Mrs. P. R. Struck, A. R. Marshall, E. Van Engen, this community, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bower of Hollywood.

Pretty Setting Given Late June Wedding In Little Chapel

It was exactly a week ago today, Thursday, June 28, that Miss Edna Hearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hearn, 1214 South Broadway, and Duane L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Smith, 802 East Sixth street, exchanged wedding vows in the chapel of Wilshire M. E. church, Los Angeles.

The young people are now honeymooning through northern California, and their relatives and close friends are anticipating their return at an early date to the attractively fitted home awaiting them at 1249 Huntley Drive, Los Angeles.

The chapel of Wilshire church has a quaint old-world charm heightened by the large basket of mingled pink gladioluses and blue delphinium which stood between the tall altar candles where the rites were read. The Rev. Dr. Willsie Martin conducted the 4 o'clock rites after a short organ recital. Miss Aletha Turner was organist and played among other selections, two of the bride's favorites, Rubenstein's "Kamennoi Ostrow," and the "Barcarolle" from "Tales of Hoffmann" by Offenbach. During the ceremony, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" were played softly with beautiful chime effects.

Miss Hearn had chosen delicate pink organza for her gown, wearing with it a corsage bouquet of white gladioluses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. Melvin Maxwell as honor matron, gowned in yellow chiffon worn with a corsage of flowers in the same color combined with blue. Melvin Maxwell assisted Mr. Smith as best man and Messrs. Carl Doss and Ivan Scott ushered.

A hundred or more guests attended the wedding which was followed by a reception for the relatives and a few close friends at the Mona Lisa. Receiving with the new Mr. and Mrs. Duane Smith were the parents of both, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hearn, and Mr. Smith's grandmother, Mrs. R. E. Henderson, who came from Stockton especially for the wedding. She was dignified and charming in blue and white georgette worn with a corsage bouquet sent her by her grandson. Mr. Smith also sent flowers to the two mothers, to harmonize with their costumes, powder blue crepe worn by Mrs. Hearn and Mrs. Smith in ashes of roses.

Refreshments served included the beautiful bride's cake and favors were slices of wedding cake, wrapped in white and silver and distributed by Miss Betty Houston, sorority sister of the bride.

Mr. Smith has been with the Safeway company ever since his graduation from Santa Ana High school and is now manager of one of the Los Angeles stores. His bride followed completion of Santa Ana school course with attendance at U. C. L. A. where she graduated with the class of 1928. She has taught in Santa Ana schools since completion of college.

NO, NOT A CAPE . . . SOMETHING MORE CLEVER!

PATTERN 1858

BY ANNE ADAMS

You're wrong . . . it is not a cape! But something much easier to make, and everybody else is going to be fooled just as you were . . . that's the clever thing about it! It is a sort of glorified yoke which develops into shoulder caps and is frilled all round the edge. You may make the frills of anything you like . . . lace, or net, or the fabric of the frock, and anyway you do them they are devastatingly feminine! Watch their effect on the first friend you meet . . . and all the others thereafter! The frilled and twisted belt-ends add extra chic to the whole pretty business!

Pattern 1858 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 1-4 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the Summer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK FOR SUMMER. EAT AND GROW SLIM

Breakfast

1 shredded wheat biscuit
1-2 cup milk
1-2 cup berries
1 tsp. sugar
1 cup coffee with
1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar
Calory total, 260.

Pour cream off a bottle of milk and use the uncreamed milk for cereal and coffee. The cereal will taste better if crisped in the oven. Serve the berries and sugar over it.

Yesterday a clever kitchen was described. Today's story is about the clever utilization of well space in the dining room of that same house and the treatment of wall surface and wood trim.

As in the kitchen the four corners of the dining room were made into glass doored corner cupboards, lined with a warm banana shade. A recess in one wall was mirrored for a long buffet, and underneath were drawers of various sizes. The balance of the walls had the appearance of being beautifully paneled, while actually the paneling concealed cupboards, the doors doorpulls flush in the wood, simulating panels, the ring

The finish had a mottled antique look which was most fascinating. I was told that a dark creamy lacquer had been brushed, not flowed mind you, over the filler, the brush strokes showing, and over this went a semi-dark glaze which I think might have been a colored shellac. Whatever it was, it made a lovely room. The floors were carpeted to the walls with a dark wine velvet carpet. The brown mahogany dining table on this carpet, against the creamy walls, made a lovely room.

Today's Recipes

Hamburg Cream in Sponge Cake Forms

1 cup sugar
Juice and rind of 2 large lemons
8 egg yolks
8 egg whites, beaten dry

Grate the lemon rind into the sugar, add the lemon juice and egg yolks and beat until foamy. Strain into a double boiler, set over hot water, and stir until cooked to a creamy sauce. Pour over the stiffly beaten whites and chill. Make a sponge form cake, or scoop the center out of 2 sponge layers and pile full with the Hamburg cream, well chilled.

* * *

The lemon cream part has 1580 calories, the sponge forms a possible value of 1000 calories; the quantity serves 12-15.

* * *

Lemon Sponge Cups

1 cup sugar
2 Tbsps. butter
3 eggs
1 1-2 cups milk
5 Tbsps. lemon juice
Grated rind of 1 lemon
4 level Tbsps. flour
Pinch of salt.

Cream butter. Add sugar, flour, salt, lemon juice and grated rind. Stir in the egg yolks beaten with the milk. Add the stiffly beaten whites, cutting them thoroughly into the mixture.

Butter custard cups, fill cups 2-3 full, set them in a pan of hot water and bake 30 minutes in a medium oven, protecting the top with paper as soon as the tops brown. When done, each cup will contain a hot custard in the bottom and sponge cake on top. The pudding is served hot, with a spoonful of fluffed cream. Twelve puddings valued at 130 each.

RUBY REBEKAHS HOLD BROTHERS NIGHT PROGRAM

ORANGE, July 5. — Brothers' night was observed at the regular meeting of the Ruby Rebekah lodge Monday evening in I. O. O. F. hall. The program for the evening was in charge of Edward Noonan. Tables were laid for "500" and pinochle, with Mrs. Mertie Kingsley, Mrs. Eva Scutt, J. W. Bomboy and Clarence Snyder winning prizes in "500" and Mrs. Marjorie Luth, Mrs. Mary Edwards, R. M. Swenson, and George Andrich winning prizes in pinochle.

Preceding the card games, a business session was held during which time Mrs. Ina Cope, noble grand, announced that a special installation service would take place July 16. An invitation was read from the Acacia lodge of Huntington Beach to attend installation July 12, at which time Mrs. Jessica Fournier, president of the Rebekah assembly, will pay her official visit.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served in the banquet room by Sylvester Morrow and his committee.

SEW FOR NEEDY

ORANGE, July 5.—Sewing on various articles of clothing to be distributed among the needy in Orange, occupied the attention of the Alice Lewis Guild of the Presbyterian church in the church parlors Monday night. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Vern Estes, president.

Members present included Mrs. Vern Estes, Mrs. L. R. Doncaster, Mrs. C. E. Wood, Mrs. Seth Tibbetts, Mrs. W. G. Carpenter, Mrs. J. T. McInnis, Mrs. E. J. Campbell and Mrs. Edwin Westcott.

HOLD PROGRAM AT SESSION OF CHURCH GUILD

ORANGE, July 5.—"Our Yesterday" was the interesting topic discussed at a meeting of the Bertha Epley guild of the First Christian church Monday evening in the church parlors. The program was in charge of Mrs. C. Windbigler. An interesting paper on "Recollection" was read by Mrs. D. McCracken, following which a skit, "Whom We Desire to Honor," was presented by Mrs. Miral Crane, Mrs. Madge Koger, Mrs. Lola Ditchey and Mrs. Grace Deck.

Two vola duets, "The Love of Christ Constraineth Me," and "Speak, My Lord," were sung by Mrs. Leon Des Larzes and Mrs. Mae Burkett. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Neleta Wolfe. A violin duet, "The Old Spinning Wheel," was played by Miss Lola June Ditchey and Miss Marie Kast. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dola Ditchey.

During a short business meeting in charge of the new president, Mrs. Eva Atherton, plans for the coming convention of Christian churches in Southern California in Long Beach, July 23-29 were discussed. Delegates will be elected at the next meeting. Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Franklin Minck.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Windbigler and her committee.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Loring White and small son, Duane, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford White spent Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. E. White, who are spending a few days in Newport Beach.

Miss Lulu Thornburg, assisted by her brothers, C. W. and Oliver Thornburg, was hostess Tuesday at a dinner party held at their ranch home near Olive. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thornburg of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schwoob and son Billie, of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nuckols of Anaheim, and Larry and Stephen Thornburg of Pasadena.

Mrs. Essie Rodgers spent Wednesday visiting friends at San Juan Capistrano.

Marvin Wagner, a member of the CCC camp at San Juan Capistrano, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wagner of North Glassell street, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith of Los Angeles, were Orange visitors this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDanel and son, Norman Duane, of Corona, were recent guests in the home of Mr. McDanel's mother, Mrs. Martha McDanel of South Olive street.

Miss Dorothy Raney spent Wednesday visiting friends in Idyllwild.

Miss Rachel Ann Thompson of Los Angeles was a guest of Mrs. Laura Bowen of East Almond avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hessell were hosts at an attractively appointed dinner party Wednesday at their home on South Batavia street. Among their guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hessel and son Lloyd of Glendale.

Miss Etta Weaver of Los Angeles was a recent visitor in Orange.

Mrs. Courtney Angeline of 273 South Lemon street, who recently returned from a 10-day vacation trip to Highland, had as her guests at her home Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berry, Mrs. Arthur Bysshe and son, Bert, all of Long Beach.

Miss Marjorie Louise Smith, of Portland, Ore., who has been spending the past few days as a guest of Mrs. Wayne Davis, has returned to Los Angeles, where she is being entertained by relatives before returning to her home.

Miss Sally Ann Joost, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joost, 832 North Glassell street, is reported as getting along nicely, following a minor operation performed early Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison of the Santa Ana canyon spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison and daughter, Miss Hazel, of Redlands. Miss Ethel Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison, is spending part of the summer as a guest in the J. W. Harrison home.

Firemen, Police Have Quiet Day

FULLERTON, July 5.—Fourth of July passed quietly in Fullerton with no serious automobile accidents reported at police headquarters and but one fire call.

The fire department answered a call where grass was burning around an electric pole, between Commonwealth and Zeinrige avenues, on Highland, evidently ignited by a firecracker or match.

FORUM TO HOLD STEAK BAKE AT PARK JULY 16

ORANGE, July 5.—Plans for a picnic and steak bake to be held at Irvine park July 16 were made at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Young Women's forum Monday evening at the home of Miss Levora Raney. Miss Catherine Frankforther and Miss Louise Dews were appointed by Miss Marion Garber, forum chairman, to be in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Following routine business, tables were laid for various card games. Tallies made by Miss Lavinia Compton cleverly emphasized a patriotic theme. An interpretative reading, "The Waltz," by Dorothy Parker, was read by Miss Shirley Haynes.

At a late hour dainty open sandwiches and punch were served to the following members and friends: Miss Eileen McCollum, Miss Ruth Brubaker, Miss Lilah Erbentraut, Miss Mildred Binkley, Miss Marian Garber, Miss Muriel Anderson, Miss Lavinia Compton, Mrs. Frances Harper Davis, Mrs. Vernell Butler Chastain, Miss Dulcie Green, Miss Dorothy Bartley, Miss Catherine Frankforther, Miss Louise Dews, Miss Frances Dews, Miss Shirley Haynes, Miss Caryl Harper, Miss Helen Lush, Miss Mary Kay Lowrey, Miss Clara Frazier, Miss Billie Muffleman, Miss Dorothy Raney and the hostess, Miss Levora Raney.

FAYE KILGORE AND JOHN TERRY MARRY

ORANGE, July 5.—Miss Faye Kilgore, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kilgore, 393 North Shaffer street, and John Terry, of Fullerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Terry, of Los Angeles, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the parsonage of the First Methodist church.

The bride, lovely in a pale blue crepe dress, with which she wore a corsage of white sweet peas, was attended by Miss Etta Weaver, of Los Angeles. Harry M. House, also of Los Angeles, assisted Mr. Terry as best man. The single ring ceremony was read by Dr. James Edwin Dunning, pastor of the Methodist church.

At the end of the week, the young couple will be at home to their friends at 130 South Yale street, Fullerton. Mr. Terry is employed by the Roberts Chevrolet company in Fullerton.

JOHN C. McDONALD CALLED BY DEATH

ORANGE, July 5.—Death came late Tuesday afternoon to John C. McDonald, rancher of West Chapman avenue, at the age of 73. He was a native of Caledonia, Wis., and had lived in this vicinity for the past 24 years.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Brown and Mrs. J. E. Parker, both of Orange, and a brother, Glenn McDonald, of Phillips, Wis.

Funeral services will be held at the Coffey funeral parlors Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay in charge. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR SANTIAGO PARK

ORANGE, July 5.—Further extensive improvements in the new Orange city park on South Glassell street at the Santiago creek are contemplated under the SERA work relief program, which local officials expect to get under way within a few days. Submission of the projects, which would provide work for 75 men, has been made by the city council.

Erection of a camp kitchen and preparation of picnic grounds in the southwest section of the park are among the initial improvements contemplated. Twenty-five tables, with seating capacity of 250, will be provided. Possibly a lawn may be planted over a large portion of the park. The improvements contemplate an expenditure of $1600 by the city for the materials, with all labor being provided through the SERA.

Churches Arrange Union Service For Next Sunday Night

ORANGE, July 5.—"Following the Highway," will be the topic of a sermon to be delivered by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at the second of a series of union services in the First Methodist church Sunday evening.

Music for the service will be in chrge of the Presbyterian choir under the direction of Percy Green. A tenor solo, "The Holy City," by Adams, will be sung by Vern Estes. The choir will sing "O Lord Remember Me," by Caro Romo. Piano selections will be played by Percy Green.

Mrs. Ray Krueger Entertains Club

ORANGE, July 5.—Lovely in its appointments was the bridge luncheon given this week by Mrs. Ray Krueger jr., of North Glassell street, when she entertained a small club to which she belongs. A color scheme of pink and blue was carried out at the luncheon table.

Afternoon hours were spent playing contract bridge, with Mrs. Ted Hanson, of San Clemente, winning high score.

Mrs. Ted Hanson will be hostess at the next meeting of the club, to be held July 20.

MISS GENDAR BECOMES BRIDE OF H. M. BASTEN

PLACENTIA, July 5. — Miss Frances Gendar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gendar, of Tonner canyon, and Howard M. Basten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evjon Basten, of Pomona, were married on July 1 when the Rev. D. J. Brigham of the Placentia Presbyterian church read the single ring ceremony before more than 100 invited guests and relatives at the Placentia Presbyterian church. Both young people with their families are former Placentia residents.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a long white satin bridal dress, with long fitted sleeves. The dress was cut on princess lines, and a long tulle veil that was held in place by a cap fastened with orange blossoms, covered the dress. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and Cecil Brunner roses. Her attendants were Miss Alberta Jaquish, of Whittier, maid of honor, and Miss Beulah Basten and Miss Ruby White, bridesmaids. Miss Jaquish wore a formal pink lace dress and carried blue delphinium and sweet peas. Miss Basten wore a peach and Miss White a blue organza dress and they carried bouquets of pastel sweet peas. Lou Ann Donahue, of Tonner canyon, wore a blue taffeta dress and carried a basket of flower petals as flower girl, while Patricia Adams, clad in a pink organdy, lighted the candles at the altar preceding the ceremony.

The best man was Alfred Basten, a brother of the bridegroom, and Edward Brigham and Willis Hasson, of Placentia, were ushers.

John Rymer, organist, played the wedding march, and for Miss Johanna Lemke, who gave a group of whistling solos preceding the wedding.

Immediately following, a reception was held at the Gendar home and after that the young couple left for a honeymoon in the San Bernardino mountains.

The young people were graduated from the Fullerton Union High school and she was graduated from the junior college, while he was graduated from Chaffee Junior college. He is employed in Placentia and they plan to make their home there when they return from the week's trip.

Cafe At Laguna To Be Enlarged

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5. — Plans for enlarging the seating capacity of the Crow's Nest Dining room, 509 Coast Boulevard, south, by building an addition to the part facing the ocean, were announced today by J. H. Gamble, organizer of a Sunday morning Breakfast club in this community.

The additional floor space, he said, is needed to accommodate an increasing number of persons attending the Sunday morning gathering. Though originally started as a Unity activity, the club will hereafter be known as the Sunday Morning Breakfast club and will be open to anyone interested in the exchange of thoughts dealing with current problems.

Laguna P. O. Receipts At Keep Up Gain

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Substantial gains, reflecting not only growth of the community but also increase in business activities, are shown in figures bearing on postal receipts for the quarter ending June 30, released today by Postmaster Brayton S. Norton.

Stamp sales for the three months ending June 30, this year, totaled $4438.78, as compared to $3928.40 for the corresponding period of last year, showing a gain of $510.38, or 13 per cent. Total post receipts, including lock box rents, for the same quarter this year, aggregated $5030.50 as against $4532.06, leaving a gain of $498.44, or 11 per cent. A steady gain was also revealed in stamp sales for the month of June this year, which ran up to $1638.32 as compared to $1556.59 for the same month of 1933.

MYRTLE WINTERS TO WED RIVERSIDE MAN

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Myrtle Winters, of Anaheim, to Hubert Williamson, of Riverside, was made in a clever manner when a group of close friends assembled recently for a surprise party in observance of her birthday anniversary at the home of Miss Velda Barnes in Midway City, with Miss Lova Holt of Garden Grove as co-hostess.

After various games had been played the honoree was presented with many lovely birthday gifts. A two-course supper was served on card tables decorated in an orchid and yellow color scheme. Tall orchid tapers and rose buds centered each table. A large birthday cake decorated in the chosen color scheme was cut by Miss Winters. Favors at each place were heart shaped pin cushions with paper hearts attached bearing the names of Miss Winters and Mr. Williamson and the announcement of their marriage in October. A corsage was presented the honoree which held her engagement ring.

Miss Winters is well known in this vicinity having attended Anaheim Union High school and now employed in the county health department in Santa Ana.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes, Miss Vesta Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prior, of Garden Grove; Mrs. Helen Barnes, Vene Barnes, Miss Margaret Beatty, of Midway City and the hostesses.

Dinner Held In Buena Park Home

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Ned Johnson, of Stanton avenue were hosts Wednesday evening, entertaining with a dinner serving the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Johnson.

Patriotic decorations were used about the rooms and at the dinner table, which was centered with a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers. Blue white tapers burned in crystal holders lighting the room during the dinner, which was followed by an informal evening of cards.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hindman of Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown, of Huntington Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ramsey, of Los Angeles.

TWO RESCUED FROM SEA AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5. — Exhausted from battling a strong tide that had carried him to sea while swimming off the end of Euterpe street, Lewis Hakes, 38, of Ontario, was safely brought to shore yesterday morning by Capt. Ed Hobart and Jim Smith, members of the life guard squad, and Frederick Schwankovsky, volunteer life guard. A woman companion of Hakes, who also experienced difficulty in getting back to shore, was picked up by Schwankovsky, who went to the rescue in a rowboat.

After picking up the woman, Schwankovsky made a hard pull for the point where Hakes was making a desperate effort to keep himself from going down. Before he reached there, one of the oars broke. Without a second to lose, Schwankovsky dove into the sea and swam to the aid of the drowning man. Persons residing on the bluff, having noticed the situation, phoned the regular life guard patrol, whose prompt assistance effected the rescue.

CARD PARTY HELD BY CLUB MEMBERS

GARDEN GROVE, July 5.—The regular monthly meeting of the Monday Afternoon Star club was held in the K. of P. hall in Anaheim this week, with Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg, Mrs. Alice T. Smith and Mrs. Anna Larson as co-hostesses. At the business session announcement was made of the public garden party to be held in the form of a dessert bridge at the home of Mrs. A. C. Robbins on July 11 at 1 o'clock. All members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

The next meeting of the Star club will be held at Irvine park August 6, with a covered dish luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mae Henry is chairman of the committee in charge.

First prize in bridge was awarded to Mrs. Louise Lake, second prize went to Mrs. Letty Lee Robbins and consolation to Mrs. Mable Williams.

A refreshment course consisting of chicken salad, wafers and coffee was served at tables decorated in patriotic motif. The red, white and blue color scheme was carried out in the napkins and tiny flags which were at each place.

Those present besides the hostesses were Mesdames Emma Kearns, Ethel Schauer, Mabel Doig, Mary Clark, Mae Henry, Dorothy Jentges, Helen Woodworth, Mabel Williams and her guest, Mrs. Thomas E. Flannigan, of Oakland, Louise Lake, Emma Henry, Ann Haster, Clara Wilson, Amanza Patton, Lida Mitchell and Letty Lee Robbins.

LAGUNA BEACH SCHOOL BUDGET FOR NEW YEAR SET AT $70,491; TEACHERS GIVEN ASSIGNMENTS

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5. — Budget estimates for the maintenance and operation of the Laguna Beach schools call for a total outlay of $70,491, of which aggregate the sum of $36,720 is set aside for the new high school beginning next September, it was disclosed at the regular meeting of the local school board at the Park avenue school building.

Of the total set aside for the high school, it is proposed to spend $17,200 for teachers' salaries and $19,520 for operation expenses including the purchase of supplies, payment of gas and light bills, janitor's services, office help and other incidentals. The bidget for the elementary school calls for a total of $34,271, of which amount $20,330 will go toward the teachers' salary fund and $13,941 for general expenses.

In the matter of selecting an architect for the new building project, the board decided that it would take too much time to employ the competitive method, which, if used, would delay the bonstruction for several months. While no definite action was taken, it was indicated that the board will engage the service of Allison and Allison, Los Angeles school architects and proceed at once with the preparation of plans and specifications.

The following teacher assignments were approved by the board: High school, Paul Colburn, vice principal, shop, mechanical drawing and biology; Miss Alberta Patterson, dean of girls, English, public speaking and drama; Miss Elsie Windsor, English and library; Miss Margaret Taylor, foreign languages; Paul Jackson, commerce; Bronson Buxton, social sciences and boys' physical education; Maurice Guyer, boys' physical education, athletic coach; Miss Eleanor Youngstrom art; Miss Marion Weage, girls' physical education and home economics; John Fergerson, vocal and instrumental music, and Miss Harriet Donaldson, science and mathematics.

Grammar school, Mrs. Ruth Joujou Roche, kindergarten; Miss Marie Madden, first grade; Miss Florence Lazare, second; Mrs. Wilberta Main, third; Miss Dorothy Brickels, fourth; Mrs. Maude Fist, fifth; Miss Jean Giddings, sixth; Mrs. Marie Thurston, seventh; J. Hesslein eighth grade; Miss Ruth Walter, ungraded room; Miss Lauretta Chilton, music; and Miss Josephine Hills, orchestra. Miss Youngstrom, high school art teacher, will teach her subject in the upper grades of the grammar school. Likewise Mr. Guyer, high school athletic coach and boys' physical education teacher, will supervise the physical education training in the grammar grades, it was stated.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED BY LIONS AT MESA

COSTA MESA July 5.—Henry Abrams was installed as president of the Lions club at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday. E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist, of Santa Ana, past president of the fourth district Lions clubs, acted as installation officer. Walter H. Foord was inducted as vice president and tail twister, Dr. C. G. Huston, secretary-treasurer; Judge C. B. Diehl, lion tamer, and Lloyd Braddy and A. H. Dixon, board members.

Following the installation, Abrams appointed Walter Spicer, Dr. Carl R. Jackson and A. H. Dixon as the membership committee, George Ragan and Leroy Anderson as the program committee, and Leroy Anderson, Dr. J. W. Wherry and Charles TeWinkle as the finance committee. Leroy Anderson is the retiring president.

Sundquist gave a short talk in which he reviewed the activities of the fourth district convention at Santa Cruz. Visitors were Ray Wallace, L. R. Daughenbaugh and W. W. Middleton.

Announcement was made that George Ragan will be the chief speaker at next week's meeting, making an address on the topic, "The Tragic Mistakes of Woodrow Wilson."

Shower Held For Couple In Brea

BREA, July 5.—Mrs. A. B. Bowie and Mrs. A. F. Laing entertained at the Bowie home on South Pomona this week with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan (Helen Classen) as honorees at a miscellaneous shower. Following the presentation and viewing of the many lovely gifts, the men attended the ball game while the women of the party enjoyed a social evening. The hostesses served cake, jello and coffee at the close of the evening.

Attending in addition to the honorees were the Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Laing, Mr. and Mrs. Bowie, Maxine and Keith; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Printz and Freddy, Mrs. Erma Classen, the Misses Lois and Muriel Stagner, Charles Mosely, Ella Mae Mosely, Mrs. Fred Woodard, Mrs. Margaret Griffith, Mrs. Alice Thompson, Mrs. C. H. Chansler, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Classen Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Marks, Mrs. Luther Estes, Miss Opal Estes, Mary Ellen Robertson and Bobby Marks.

STORE IMPROVED

SAN CLEMENTE, July 5.—Renovizing of the Adair Brothers' grocery and market has been completed, with extensive changes and improvements made in preparation for the summer's business. The store has been painted, rearranged and restocked, with new vegetable tables and other equipment installed. Arthur H. Adair is manager of the company, with Mike Adair assisting.

CHAMBER TOLD OF PLANS FOR BOND ELECTION

PLACENTIA, July 5.—Another bond election for building a high school at Placentia is to be held in August, according to a report of Louis Jacobsen, former member of Placentia Grammar school board, at the Placentia Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday noon. No official action on the election has been taken by the board of education, but action is expected at the next meeting, according to Jacobsen.

Other business at the meeting included approval of the Irwin plan of advertising Orange county manufactured goods, made after a report by Stuart Strathman. Strathman was appointed to look into the matter of Orange county having a place, under state control, where automobile licenses can be secured, following a suggestion along that line made by William Bielefeldt.

Warren Bradford agreed to enter his boat in the Tournament of lights at Newport Beach July 28, to represent Placentia Chamber of commerce. Bradford, a member of the school board, reported the board has purchased two new school busses.

Jacobsen also reported on a recent meeting at Elks club in Anaheim where Chief of Police Davis, of Los Angeles, talked on crime prevention. A report of the Elliott plan of flood control was brought by William Wallop, representative at the Associated Chambers meeting.

Placentia and the Valencia Union High school received national publicity through the Christian Science Monitor, when it carried a half-column story and a picture of Roy Tillery, the one-man graduating class of the school, Frank Rospaw reported.

Arrange Lecture At Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Program activities at the House of Tibet on Manzanita drive, nodth of the grammar school building, for this week end include a lecture by Mrs. Alice Gray Lissak, a former resident of the Orient now living here, who next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock will speak on astro bio-chemistry. Mrs. Lissak has been connected with metaphysical centers in Shanghai and Honolulu and recently in Los Angeles.

HOLD FUNERAL OF ROWLEY E. DOWNS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 5.—The funeral of Rowley E. Downs, 52, was held this afternoon from the Robinson mortuary in Los Angeles, interment being in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Downs had been a resident of Huntington Beach for the past 14 years, living at the Standard Oil camp. Downs for 18 years had been in the production department of the Standard Oil company, having been located at Newhall and Whittier before being transferred to this city.

Downs was stricken with heart trouble several months ago and was taken to a hospital in Los Angeles. Later as he showed improvement he was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. M. N. Harker, at 1187 Crenshaw avenue, but on Monday afternoon another heart attack caused his death.

The oil man was born in El Monte. He was a Scottish Rite Mason and a life member of Al Malaikah Shrine temple. Besides his widow, Mrs. Edna B. Downs, he is survived by his mother and three brothers and four sisters.

RADIO STAR AT L. B.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—New arrivals in the artist colony include Miss Elvia Allman, well known radio star, who has taken quarters for the summer at 662 Coast boulevard, south. Miss Allman, formerly was with Uncle John and is now with the "Merry-makers" featured on a national hook-up. Being interested in dramatic art, Miss Allman intends to joint the Laguna Beach Community players while residing here.

La Habra Man To Marry In Tacoma

LA HABRA, July 5.—Fred Jordan, accompanied by his father, the Rev. T. C. Jordan of the La Habra Baptist church, and his sister, Miss Lottie Jordan, has left for Tacoma, Wash., where he will be married to Miss Genevieve Easton.

The wedding will take place in the gardens on the Easton estate there, with the Rev. Mr. Jordan reading the lines. Miss Lottie Jordan will be the bridesmaid.

The groom was recently ordained as a Baptist minister and following a honeymoon the couple will go to Texas, where he will resume his work as pastor of a church there.

Dr. Violett Named Creel Club Head

GARDEN GROVE, July 5.—An organization meeting for the local Creel-for-Governor club was held in the Chamber of Commerce building this week with Dr. C. C. Violett elected chairman and Tevis Westgate secretary-treasurer.

The group adjourned to hold a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the same place, with H. C. Head of Santa Ana, as speaker. All interested are urged to attend.

400 PRESENT WHEN COUPLE CELEBRATES 60TH ANNIVERSARY

COSTA MESA, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Vasquez celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary this week when over 400 relatives and acquaintances gathered at their home on West Eighteenth street. Barbecued meats and a variety of Spanish dishes were served out of doors at noon.

Mr. Vasquez was born at San Gabriel in 1852 and Mrs. Vasquez was born at Whittier in 1853. They have lived in Costa Mesa for seven years.

Among those present were seven of their 10 children, Richard, of Pixley, and his wife and six children; Frank, of Santa Ana, and one child; Manuel jr., of Richfield, and his wife and five children; Jake, of La Habra, and his wife and three children; John, of Santa Ana, and his wife and seven children; Pete, who is still at home, and Mrs. Rita Higuera and her 11 children of Costa Mesa. Three of the children, Daniel, Mrs. Anjila Espinoza and Mrs. Victoria, are dead. Daniel's children, nine in number, are living with the grandparents.

Some of the grandchildren are married and almost 200 of those present were of the immediate family.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

KAYAK GROUP GIVEN THREE TROPHY CUPS

FULLERTON, July 5. — Three silver trophy cups for the first three places in the first kayak races held in Southern California, were awarded members of the Fullerton Kayak club at the Hermosa Beach fiesta Tuesday.

The members of the Fullerton club carried away 10 of the first 13 places. The time was 11 minutes and 35 seconds for one mile.

Eleven Fullerton boys entered the race, and those winning were George Jeffry, of Fullerton, riding a kayak built by Ralph Marsden; Burton Sanders, Yorba Linda, in a boat built by himself, won second place, and Jimmie Smith, in a boat built by Leonard Dysinger, won third place. Erwin Miller won fourth and David Miller, club captain, fifth place.

Sixth place was won by J. W. Campbell, of Manhattan Beach; seventh by Ira Hagenback, of Hermosa Beach; eighth by Richard Hedrick, of Pasadena; Dick Chewning, La Habra, ninth; Roderick Royer, Orangethorpe, tenth; Melvin Miller, 11th; Leonard Little, 12th and Roy Hill, 13th, all of Fullerton club.

The silver trophy cups were awarded by Mayor Clark of Hermosa Beach.

Kayak racing adds to beach sports in a most interesting way, acocrding to R. A. Marsden, who has sponsored the Fullerton Kayak club. He said in conenction with the races Tuesday night, "riding the breakers with a kayak is highly spectacular, from the observer's standpoint and adds the thrills of the rodeo to the attractions of the beach."

The kayak is a single seater canoe type boat used by the Eskimo for fishing and hunting, and has just recently been introduced into Southern California waters as a sportsman proposition. The boats are paddled through the breakers and coast back back to shore on the crest of waves, making a double thrill in every trip, according to Marsden.

COUNCIL TAKES UP PLANS FOR SERA PROJECTS

ANAHEIM, July 5.—In an effort to provide jobs under SERA for "white collar" workers the Anaheim city council, at an informal session Tuesday night decided to put in a project that will provide recreational and music programs at the city park during the summer. Details of the plan will be worked out with a committee representing the chamber of commerce. This committee was appointed last week.

It was also decided that City Engineer Hapgood should file for approval a project under the Professional, Technical and Women Workers' division of SERA. This project would provide for the complete codification of all city ordinances and preparation of a clerk's index of the ordinances. The project, if approved, will be carried on under direction of City Attorney George Holden.

Engineer Hapgood informed members of the council that the first SERA workers will start on one of the Anaheim projects tomorrow. He said that it is estimated that approximately 25 men will be started to work on the North street sewer project. Men will be added to the job as fast as their registration is completed it was said. According to the present plan there will be two shifts of 24 hours weekly at work on the project. These shifts will work in series of three eight-hour days.

Members of the city council also approved the request of H. W. Cordes that the city pay one quarter of the expense of closing the water line at the intersection of South Olive street and what will, in the future, be known as East Water street. The open cement ditch that is serving the property owners there will be replaced with a covered pipe. Under the plan approved the city will pay one-fourth, the property owner will pay one-fourth and the Anaheim Union Water company will pay the remaining half.

4 Dancers Given Contest Honors

FULLERTON, July 5—Four Fullerton children claimed dance honors in the Southern California Festival of Arts contest held recently in Los Angeles, in addition to the two first places, in piano and flute, taken by young Santa Ana artists.

Junior Kavanagh, well known young dancer, who has been seen on many programs about the county, took second place in the tap solo class, with his "St. Louis Blues" number. Miss Aberdeen Rubidoux, young Spanish dancer, took third place in this class, while Bobby Waits and Joy Wurgaft placed fourth in their team ballroom number, depicting the old fashioned and modern style of dance.

All are pupils of the local Burks school of dancing.

FEDERAL FUNDS SOUGHT IN MOVE TO SUBSTITUTE CEMENT PIPE LINE FOR OPEN DITCHES

FULLERTON, July 5.—Open irrigation ditches on several streets of Fullerton may be replaced with cement pipelines through SERA labor, it became known today following the city council meeting Tuesday night, when the matter was broached. Pursuant to action of the council favoring the improvement, City Engineer Hiltscher is working out plans for submitting this as a project to SERA officials.

All materials, trucking and supervision will be furnished by the Anaheim Union Water company, according to William P. Wallop, superintendent, who presented the matter to the council. The open ditches on North and South Cypress street, East Ross avenue and Acacia street, will be included in the project, with possibly others to be added. Residents and ranchers of the areas affected are anxious that the improvement be made, it is said, because the open ditches cause accumulations of trash, growth of obnoxious weeds and grasses, and constitute a menace to small children.

The ditches were in use long before the streets were laid out, it is explained, and this prior right makes it necessary that the city defray half the cost of any changes made. City officials are anxious to have SERA labor used in order to save future expense to local taxpayers, it was pointed out.

The report of the water committee, made by Councilman T. K. Gowen, was approved. The new fencing for the water well tract of the city will cost approximately $527.55 when purchased. The report of the committee was to put new fencing on two sides of the tract and use old fencing, raising the height of it on two sides. The placing of the fencing is to come under the SERA.

An ordinance was adopted, No. 787, prohibiting parking on Walnut avenue, between packing houses, except for trucks and cars loading and unloading.

The land belonging to Louise Tousseau along the south side of the Brea road is to be condemned in order to widen and straighten the road with gas tax funds, and a resolution was passed to that effect. Almost all the land on the south side of the highway, between the Hillcrest stables and the Union Oil property belongs to the Tousseau estate and since all the other property is to be deeded to the city for improvement, under given conditions, the councilmen felt it necessary to condemn it that work may be started soon on the improvement pavement. The work is to be done with gas tax money.

The wheel tax ordinance again was delayed for a first reading, awaiting further changes to be incorporated before the meeting on July 17.

It cost the city $2.48 to clean lots and parkings and $1.98 to clean lots of weeds. The total bill for cleaning vacant lots, posted prior to the city job, and not cleaned by the property owners, was $885, according to a report of A. Hiltscher, engineer. Those who pay for this clearing of lots and parkings prior to July 15 will not have that bill added to the regular tax bill, Hiltscher pointed out.

Fullerton will enter the first aid truck in the parade at annual convention of the Pacific Coast association of fire chiefs to be held in Pasadena September 11 to 14, in accordance with the request of Fire Chief Roy Davis. The equipment of the truck will be placed on another car for emergency use in Fullerton.

The annual report of the fire chief revealed that property and contents loss by fire within the city of Fullerton for 1934 was less than half of that for 1933. In 1933, the total loss was $14,500, and in 1934, $6822.50. The department answered 24 calls within the city; 42 calls outside the city, and attended five first aid calls with the resuscitator, according to Chief Davis' annual report. The report of Chief J. M. Pearson showed that 15 drunks had been arrested and five arrests had been made for driving while intoxicated during June.

The annual report of Judge Halsey I. Spence revealed he had collected $1994.50 in traffic fines and $1305 in miscellaneous fines. The total collections for traffic violations for June was $136, and miscellaneous collections were $148 in fines issued, according to the monthly report.

Assistant City Attorney Raymond Thompson presented a report on the matter of prohibiting attorneys from soliciting trade at wrecks, and accident scenes, stating that an ordinance prohibiting such had been passed for Los Angeles county, and that he was asking the city council of Fullerton to approve such an ordinance for Orange county. The councilmen agreed to await action of the supervisors before making a statement.

Historical Group To Meet Saturday

FULLERTON, July 5.—The Orange County Historical society will meet at Commonwealth park Saturday at 1 o'clock for a basket dinner and a meeting, according to announcement of S. M. Davis, secretary of the group.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED AT 20-30 MEETING

FULLERTON, July 5.—At an impressive ceremony, performed by Fred Lamping, retiring president, and before 50 members and guests, new officers of Fullerton 20-30 club were installed Tuesday night following a dinner meeting at El Patio cafe.

Dr. Charles Rapp was installed president, Dick McKee, vice president; Lowell Backman, secretary; Herb Maland, treasurer; Ken Savage, sergeant - at - arms; Fred Lamping, chaplain; S. D. Brown, Sam Adams, Adton Reinert, Lloyd Verry and John King, board of directors.

The program included a talk by Capt. Don Wilkie, candidate for sheriff of Orange county, and songs by the Collins sisters of Anaheim. Following the program and installation, dancing occupied the evening.

ARRESTED TWICE IN WEEK FOR DRINKING

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Ben H. Harrison, Indian rancher who recently paid his fourth fine in less than 60 days for being drunk in Anaheim, has a runner up for the honor of being the Anaheim police department's most regular over-night guest. The new contender for this honor is Victor Gill, 30, Anaheim painter. At present Gill has the record for posting $50 bail twice in one week on drunk charges.

At liberty under $50 bail posted last Monday to guarantee his return for trial July 16 on a charge of being intoxicated Gill, this morning posted another $50 bond after having been in jail since Tuesday night.

According to police reports all the liquor that Gill drinks goes to his legs causing them to fold like an old-fashioned folding-bed. Last Saturday night when Gill was arrested police found him lying in a street parking. Tuesday night he was taken in custody by Officer Sidebottom who found him lying on the sidewalk in front of 923 North Los Angeles street. He was so drunk, according to the police that he had to be carried into the jail. Gill posted his second $50 bond this morning.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Manuel Aguerre was taken to the county jail Tuesday afternoon to start serving a 50-day sentence in lieu of a $100 fine imposed by Police Judge Frank Tausch. Aguerre was sentenced following his conviction of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

An unknown person was injured yesterday in an automobile accident at the intersection of Los Angeles and South streets. Edna E. Rudder of Whittier, driver of one of the automobiles reported the collision and said that one of the passengers in the other car had been slightly injured. The driver of the other car had not yet reported the accident.

ST. JOSEPH TO OFFER ENTIRE H. S. COURSE

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Following the completion of the transfer of St. Joseph's girl's school from the Dominican Sisters to the Sisters of Providence came the announcement that when school opens in the fall the institution will be equipped to offer a complete high school course in addition to the elementary course always offered.

The Rev. James J. Cornelius, chaplain of the school said that the Sisters of Providence are well known as educators and that all of the sisters connected with the St. Joseph's school have received degrees from Washington University. The high school he said would be established for the entire county and will be for Catholic girls and will also welcome non-Catholic students.

In announcing plans for opening a high school in connection with the educational institute Reverend Father Cornelius said that the school will be thoroughly equipped for its educational purpose and will be in a position to give thorough instruction in languages taught in other high schools but every other subject as well.

The Dominican Sisters who, for the past four years, have had charge of the school will be divided with a portion of the order being sent to Los Angeles where they will teach in the Soledad Mission parochial school. The remainder will go to Laguna Beach where they will open a small parochial school.

LEGION DELEGATES TO CONCLAVE NAMED

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Nomination of delegates to the state convention to be held in San Francisco August 13, 14 and 15 and a Court of Honor for members of Boy Scout Troop No. 72, sponsored by the post constituted the principal business transacted Monday night when Anaheim post of the American Legion held its regular session.

Twelve delegates were nominated, with six of them to be elected at the next regular meeting of the post Anaheim is entitled to send six delegates and six alternates to the state conclave. Delegates nominated last night were: Commander Ray Van Wagoner, Adjutant James Heffron, J. F. Sidebottom, Ray E. Smith, H. E. Akerman, J. C. Elliott, Clair Liebhart, Al Dutzi, Fred Hays, Ted Masterson, Ed Campbell and Ed Hund.

At the Scout Court of Honor presided over by Kenneth Petk Merit badges were awarded Bob Wallin and Edwin Tyreman; Eugene Francik received a Star badge and Edwin Wisser and Glenn Lehmer were given Tenderfoot badges. Bob Wallin also received a Five Year Veteran badge.

Following the Court of Honor Dr. James E. Waters gave a brief talk on "Americanism" and two boys and a girl, directed by Mrs. Orilla Bigelow gave a Hawaiian entertainment featuring dances and music of the islands. The Auxiliary joined with the Legion post for the Court of Honor and the program.

MRS. JEWETT IMPROVED

FULLERTON, July 5.—Chief of Police J. M. Pearson and Mrs Pearson have returned from Coalinga where they were called by the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. William Jewett. They reported that Mrs. Jewett who was taken to a hospital, was improved when they started home.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

As Jack and Jill went tumbling through the air, toward them Scouty flew. He shortly grabbed Jill by the hand and sat her on the ground.

And then, by quite a lucky chance, he grabbed poor Jack right by the pants, and shouted, "Are you hurt?" as all the Tinies gathered 'round.

"No, I'm all right," said Jack, "but Jill has taken quit an awful spill. Run back to her and see if she is injured. Hurry, please!"

But Jill had jumped up to her feet. "The way you rescued me was neat," she shouted. "I am quite all right, except I skinned my knees.

* * *

"Now, where's our bucket? We must hike right back for water. I would like it very much if one of you kind tots would help a bit."

"I'll get the bucket, miss, for you. And I'll go fetch the water, too," said Coppy. "I am strong, and I know I can carry it."

Then, as he started up the hill, wee Windy shouted, "Wait until I join you. 'Twill be easier if both of us take part."

They filled the pail with water. Then they went back down the hill again. Both Jack and Jill said, "Thank you. Now it's time that we depart."

* * *

When they had disappeared from sight, a man raced by with all his might. Behind him was a butcher who was yelling, "Stop that thief!

"I don't know what he did it for, but he just came and robbed my store. His name is Taffy. Catch him, please. He has some of my beef!"

Then Scouty cried, "I have some rope. With it I'll capture him, I hope." He sailed his lasso through the air. It caught on Taffy's feet. "Pull hard," yelled Coppy. Scouty did. 'Twas fun to see ol' Taffy skid. In just about a second he went tumbling to the street.

Mrs. J. J. Allen Is Birthday Honoree

BREA, July 5.—Mrs. J. J. Allen, 115 West Ash street, was honored on the occasion of her birthday anniversary this week when members of her family and friends surprised her at her home on her return from church. Guests brought a pot luck dinner and a birthday cake was included.

Those sharing this happy occasion with Mrs. Allen were her husband, J. J. Allen, her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen, all of Brea, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and daughter, Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. John Hinds and son, Billy; Mrs. Betty Cunningham and Miss Pearl Parker, Fuller Park; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Norris, Redlands; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Adams and daughter, Betty Anne, of Ontario, and Mrs. Bennie Blackford, Fullerton. The honoree was presented with several gifts.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lawson, of Homewood avenue, entertained a group of Los Angeles relatives with a party Wednesday at Newport Beach. A picnic lunch was held on the sand and the afternoon spent in cards and swimming. In the evening, the group viewed the fireworks display at Huntington Beach.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmon.

DRAWS $25 FINE

LA HABRA, July 5.—Clyde Fletcher, 38, of Montebello, was arraigned before Judge H. A. Robinson in La Habra city court Monday afternoon and fined $25 on a charge of drunkenness on the city streets. Fletcher was arrested Sunday noon by Chief A. J. Collins. He paid his fine.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

As Taffy flopped down to the ground, all of the Tinies gathered 'round and Scouty said, "I'm sorry, sir, but you've done something wrong.

"I lassoed you because I thought that it was time that you were caught. Don't try to get away. You can't, because my rope is strong."

"Oh, I am sorry," Taffy cried, "that I stole something. I just tried to get myself a bite to eat." Then came a real loud shout.

'Twas from the butcher. He was mad! He yelled, "Hang on to that bad lad. He's stolen from my butcher shop. I'll make him work it out."

• • •

"That's fair enough," said Scouty. "Gee! I think he's lucky as can be that he's let off that easy. Why, he could be sent to jail.

"Though he returns the beef, I'd say he should be punished right today. Put him to work in your shop with a scrub brush and a pail."

"A very good idea, son," the butcher said. "It shall be done. And you wee tots can have the beef for what you've done for me.

"Just build a fire, right near at hand, and cook it. It will taste just grand." "Hurray for you," yelled Duncy. "I'm as hungry as can be."

• • •

The butcher then took Taffy by the ear and said, "No don't you try to run, 'cause I will catch you." Then they disappeared from sight.

Wee Goldy said, "It is too bad! I feel quite sorry for the lad, but, after all, his punishment will teach him wrong from right."

Soon Windy cried, "Gee, let us start to build a fire. I'll do my part. And, when we cook our dandy beef, I'd like my portion rare."

"Now, wait a minute," Scouty said. "I see a small house, straight ahead. If someone's home, perhaps they'll let us cook this fine beef there."

Beach Boy Burned When Firecracker Explodes In Hand

SEAL BEACH, July 5.—A "safe and sane fourth" was enjoyed by a large crowd at the beach here yesterday. Only one injury was reported, a small boy suffering a severely cut and burned hand when the large firecracker he was holding exploded in his hand.

Of the large number of bathers in the water only a small number were given help by the life guards posted along the beach. Late in the afternoon life guards were called to the assistance of two people in a small speed boat which had capsized in the surf opposite the Los Angeles Gas and Electric plant. The boat overturned when the motor stalled and it drifted into the breaker line. Its occupants were not hurt.

STAMP EXPERT WILL TALK ON ITALY POSTAGE

All the magnificence of Italy from the Renaissance to the present day and the history of her many varied issues of postage stamps will form the theme of "The Stamp Adventurer's" broadcast from KREG tonight at 6:45, it was stated.

This popular radio feature, sponsored by the Weber Baking company which has been on the air for 18 weeks, is becoming more and more a favorite with radio fans—judging from the mail received, according to officials of the bakery.

On his program tonight "The Stamp Adventurer" will, as usual, not only furnish his listeners with much valuable information about stamps and their value to collectors, but will relate parts of the colorful and romantic life of Italy's great poet, Dante.

CHRIS OLSEN PLAYS ON HIS HARMONICA

More contrasts and several distinctive favorites will be included in Chris Olsen's group of melodies which he will play on his harmonica this evening at 5:30 on KREG.

His program will include "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "After the Ball Is Over," "Dixie Land," "Shepherd Show Me How to Go," "Where Is My Wandering Boy" and another of his own compositions called "The Echo."

Chris Olsen is scheduled each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at the above time on the local station.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Beatrice Lillie, celebrated English comedienne, and the famous old vaudeville team of McIntyre and Heath will head the list of guest performers at the Variety Hour broadcast over an NBC coast-to-coast network including KFI at 4 this afternoon.

Alexander Smallens will inaugurate the second season of summer symphonic broadcasts by musicians of the Philadelphia Orchestra over the Columbia network including KHJ from 4:30 to 5:30 this evening. Conducting the orchestra in Robin Hood Dell, Fairmont Park, Philadelphia, Smallens wil present a program selected from the works of Weber, Mendelssohn, Wagner and Richard Strauss.

Music inspired by childhood fairy tales will be high lights of a Standard Symphony Hour concert which also includes classic gems of Mozart, Wagner, Beethoven and Liszt, to be broadcast at 8 tonight, over an NBC network including KFI, with Alfred Hertz in the conductor's stand.

FRIDAY

Reports on the Wimbledon Tennis matches will be heard over KHJ at 8:45 a. m. Friday.

Henry L. Smith, Dean of the School of Education of Indiana University, will preside during a broadcast from the 72nd annual convention of the National Education Association over the Columbia network including KHJ at 12 noon Friday. He will introduce Thomas E. Benner, Dean of the College of Education, University of Illinois, who will speak on "Democracy in Education"; Armand J. Gerson, Associate Supt. of Schools, Philadelphia, Pa., whose talk is entitled "Culture for Democracy"; and Mrs. Myrtle Hooper Dahl, Chairman, N. E. A. Committee on Resolutions, who will discuss the "Resolutions Adopted at the 72nd Annual Convention."

HARRY BATESON WILL DISCUSS FALL FLOWERS

"Flowers that bloom in the winter warm up the winter," Harry L. Bateson said in announcing the subject of his broadcast from KREG tonight.

"Southern California can boast of the finest winter floral climate in the world. My opinion is based upon my experiences of growing flowers from New York and New Zealand and from the Arctic Circle to Tierra Del Fuego in the Antarctic. Let's decorate our gardens for a winter display!" he stated.

In addition to orginating many new varieties of flowers, Bateson has achieved international recognition as a horticulturist, it was stated. He is also the originator of the "Back-to-the-Soil" movement and the "Acre-and-a-Home" movement, both of which he has discussed and is explaining from time to time during his broadcasts from the local station.

He is heard on KREG exclusively each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:15 p. m.

LIFE OF PAPEN TO BE SUBJECT FOR BROADCAST

Vice-Chancellor von Papen; Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, "Minister of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment," and Dr. Otto Meissner, super secretary to President von Hindenburg will be discussed exclusively in this week's broadcast of "People Who Make News" from KREG at 7:30 tonight.

With the 4th of July fireworks going off somewhat prematurely in Germany, tonight's descriptive broadcast of these personalities is most contemporary with the events.

Something of von Papen's activities soon after 1914, of his alleged intrigue to have the Welland Canal blown up and of subsequent happenings will be told, together with his present position in German politics. Dr. Goebbel is described as one of the extremists who compose the rank and file of the Nazis and his present activities, status and personality will be discussed. Dr. Otto Meissner's political relationship to President von Hindenburg will also be told.

LAGUNA ENFORCING CANINE ORDINANCE

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5—Their ears cocked anxiously and their eyes searching for familiar faces, a miscellaneous collection of dogs, ranging from pups with a mile-long pedigrees to mongrels of obscure genealogy, today were enjoying the hospitality of the city pound, located in the Laguna canyon.

The dogs had been picked up on the beach by the poundmaster who a few days ago was instructed to enforce an ordinance prohibiting dogs on the beach except when on leash. The rounding up of the dogs followed representations by the chamber of commerce to the effect that numerous complaints have been voiced against the dogs running loose on the beach.

Lancers Troop At Beach Maneuvers

LAGUNA BEACH, July 6. — "Boots and saddles" and other familiar cavalry trumpet calls mingled with snappy commands and the clinking of spurs and clatter of accoutrements this week told the residents of Laguna that troop "C" of the California Lancers was on the march, engaged in war game maneuvers.

The force was divided in two opposing forces, one designated as "Black" invading, commanded by Capt. Walter Hammond of Santa Ana, and the other as "Blue" defending commanded by Capt. Walter F. Stromerson. Acting as umpires in the games, conducted on Temple hills, were Major W. R. Mattock of Long Beach and Capt James Stafford, of Anaheim. The maneuvers, devoted principally to reconnoitering and contact service, were brought to a close late in the evening, the umpires holding the defending force had failed to stop the invaders. Lieut. William S. Caldwell, of Laguna Beach, acted as intelligence officer.

Announcements

Faholo class members of First Baptist church will have a covered-dish dinner Monday at 6:30 p. m. at Anaheim park, entertaining their husbands as guests.

MAN DROWNED YESTERDAY AT DANA POINT

Following a search of nearly 24 hours, the body of Melecio Montiento, 33, Uplands Filipino, was recovered from the surf at Dana Point this morning and removed to the Laguna Beach Funeral home.

Montinento was drowned shortly before noon yesterday while bathing on the strand near the Dana Point pier. Other bathers near him were unable to help him and he was swept out to sea. His body was visible at times in the kelp beds but could not be recovered until today.

Coroner Earl Abbey will not hold an inquest and it is probable that the body will be shipped to the Philippine Islands for burial. The victim was unmarried and had lived in this country for nine years.

TRIAL OPENS TODAY IN DRUNK DRIVING CASE

Trial of Earl James Chandler, 35, charged with driving while drunk, commenced today in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court, where prosecution and defense attorneys were engaged during the forenoon session with selection of a jury.

Chandler was arrested by Horace Inge, of the California highway patrol, after he had allegedly driven his car through traffic assembled at the wreck of two cars at Wright and Hazard streets, Garden Grove, on the evening of May 5.

Officer Inge and Constable J. L. Elliott, Santa Ana, were directing traffic at the wreck when Chandler, they charge, drove past, disregarding their flashlight signals to stop.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner is conducting the prosecution, with Attorney Z. B. West appearing for the defense.

By HARRY GRAYSON

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Marvin Owen, Tigers' third sacker, has a pair of the largest mitts in baseball....being able to hold seven balls in his right hand.... Harry Mehre will have another Notre Dame man helping him teach the University of Georgia grid squad this year....He is Jim Harris, Irish guard a couple years ago, who will tutor the Georgia line....Johnny Goodman was baptized Johnny Gudman....He is of Lithuanian lineage....One of the boys to look out for in the coming Intercollegiate tennis meet at Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, is Gene Mako, Southern Cal soph, who wowed the racqueteers last year....That rookie, Curt Davis, seems to be the prize find of the year....hurling six victories with the seventh-place Phillies....And that guy Ralph Birkofer, starting his first full year with the Pirates, isn't any slouch, either.

The new Detroit professional football outfit got a star back the other day when it signed Herman Everhardus . . . who glittered for Michigan last year . . . and Boston may get Joe Galius, co-captain and end at Ohio State in 1933. . . . "Chick" Evans says the country club is the center of life in small cities. . . . Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's High Quest won't work out by himself in the morning. . . . Trainer Bob Smith has to send a couple of other horses along before the Preakness winner will behave properly. . . . And now we're ready for that Jewish natural, pitting Champion Max Baer against Art Lasky, the newest Pacific Coast threat to come up with dynamite in his hands. . . . While you're thinking of a successor to Babe Ruth as home run king, don't forget little Mel Ott, of the Giants. . . . The kid is right up there with the leaders these days. . . . "Goofy" Gomez, "Dizzy" Dean, "Noisy" Newsom—oh, yeah!

Chicago Bd. of Trade

CHICAGO, July 5.—(UP)—A steady flow of small commission house buying orders sent the wheat market up almost 2 cents a bushel today, prices closing 1½ to 1¾ cent higher. Corn was under pressure early as a result of improved crop prospects, but late short covering firmed up the market and the close was unchanged to up ⅛ cent. Oats closed ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Wheat was helped by purchases here against sales at Winipeg and against sales of corn. While considerable hedging was put into the wheat pit, the good class of commission house buying readily absorbed the offerings. Closing prices were near the day's highs, with July at 89¼ cents, September 90¼ and December 91⅞.

JOBS FOR 6 MEN

The Los Angeles Branch of a several million dollar corporation rated AAA1, is now ready to intensively develop the Orange County territory. We have excellent openings for six good men to work in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton.

Our method of paying our men where each shares in the profits on a liberal commission, profit sharing, and good will bonus has enabled us to build one of the largest and highest paid specialty sales organizations in America.

Earnings of our men who want to work run anywhere from $19 to over $200.00 in a week. H. O. Vern past ten days working in Los Angeles has earned over $200.00. E. L. Trowbridge, Santa Ana has earnings of over $80.00 in a week. John Radder, formerly railroad brakeman has had earnings of over $1000.00 in a month this year.

If you are of neat appearance, between 25 and 47 years of age, of sterling character, and think you can measure up to our requirements call Friday morning at 10 A. M. for preliminary employment meeting.

Men selected have no investment of any kind. We pay the rent, light, heat, place you where the business is and pay you weekly.

Call Friday morning 10 A. M. (No other time.)

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

LAW MUST BE RULE OF ACTION IN CIVILIZATION

Probably before this editorial is read by The Register subscribers, the state militia will have been called out in the longshoremen's strike by the governor of the state. We do not see how the governor can desist from such action.

The only hope of permanent progress along those lines, that make for values in our civilization, is to keep ourselves established directly upon law as the rule of action. However clear and just may be the claims of the longshoremen in their contest with their employers, they have no legal or moral right, in their attempt to obtain their own claims, to interfere with the constitutional rights of other men, as they are pursuing their course of action.

The longshoremen have a right to strike, that is, they have a right to either singly or en masse cease to work for their employers, under the conditions which are laid down. But they are law violators the very moment they attempt to interfere with the rights of any of their members, or any people who are not their members, who are willing and desire to work for these same employers.

The privilege of a man to work is as sacred as a man's privilege not to work. We understand fully the arguments that can be raised against the strike breaker for taking the place of the men who are endeavoring to better their condition. We a.e in sympathy with many of these arguments.

But we know that after one has exhausted these arguments upon those who are employed as strike breakers, and they still insist on their right to work, the law of the land, the police force of the city, the state militia, and, if need be, the standing army of the country, should be used to protect them in that right to work, and we would say the same in respect to the man's right not to work.

We are supposed to be living in a civilized age, where we are governed by laws, which have been made by the majority vote of the people. The question may be well asked how then, if the strikers are just in their demands, can they finally get their demands, if they do not use physical force?

If they are just in their demands, they can find redress at the ballot box, by either initiating legislation, or the election of representatives in the state legislature or in Congress, who will provide legal methods for the attainment of their just ends.

To be sure, this is not immediate redress, but it is the only method of obtaining redress when appeals and arguments have been used, and the workers have ceased work, and still failed to accomplish their purpose.

The right way, in the end, is the shortest way, as well as the best way. Fear may be the means of winning a temporary victory, but fear will not win a permanent victory.

It is only after the need of laws has been written upon the hearts and consciences of the people, so that it finds expression finally in legal enactment, can we see that the remedy has been brought forth in a democracy.

It is unfortunate indeed that the NRA does not provide for a remedy in this situation, and it is more unfortunate that the degree to which it is provided is not adhered to.

But armed camps on the two sides of an industrial dispute interfere with individual rights of those who would work. Violence to the person and the destruction of property, through practical anarchy, is a condition that is intolerable. And the only answer that can be made, if injustice is being done anywhere, providing there is no remedy through law, is to provide law, so that there will be a remedy.

We have instituted courts and legislatures and executives to that end, and a constitution for the securing of rights to all with that purpose.

As the Master declared of Himself, in the days when He walked the earth, that He was the door, and that any who tried to get into the sheepfold by any other means were thieves and robbers, so they who would accomplish the purposes of individuals or groups by any other method than appeal to reason and lawful procedure, are working out of harmony with American institutions.

There seems to be an unusual demand for coins of all denominations, says Secretary Morgenthau. What's so unusual about that?

MME. MARIE CURIE

Madame Marie Curie, who with her husband discovered radium, has passed away. She gave her life to science, actually to the great discovery which has been so beneficial to mankind, for her physicians said that the radium rays which accumulated in her system caused her death. Small and frail, looking old beyond her years because of her devotion to the laboratory, one hardly realizes until one has such an occasion as this to look the matter up that she was not very old, only sixty-seven years as a matter of fact; though her wide renown and the familiarity of millions the whole world over for so many years with the name of Madame Curie has brought to people's minds the associations usually placed upon one who has lived a very long time.

Scientists are better able to honor her worth at this time. Dr. Millikan said:

> In some ways Mme. Curie's discoveries of radium and the radiation emitted by it may be considered a starting point of the newer development in physics.
>
> It was that which really convinced the world that the heavens are not eternal and changeless, but that atomic transformations are taking place in nature all the time, old atoms being destroyed and new atoms being created out of them.

Dr. Albert Einstein said: Her ingenuity and her extraordinary energy enabled her to solve some of the most important problems which led to the discovery and to the scientific understanding of the radioactive phenomena.

While honoring her as a scientist it is highly significant for the layman to note that this peerlessly intelligent woman scientist was devoted to the cause of peace, devoting her precious time and limited energy to service which she believed would promote peace.

Roger Babson says this country is on its way toward dictatorship. He probably hasn't read the speeches of some of our congressmen.

FOREIGN FEUDS ON AMERICAN SOIL

Our American population, made up of many nationalities among its varied groupings still clings to many of the traditions and memories of its European ancestry. One group celebrates in memory of Kosciusko and Pulaski the Poles; another commemorates Steuben the German; still another Kossuth the Hungarian; and yet another Garibaldi the Italian.

Following hard upon our national holiday, another group will celebrate once more the battle of the Boyne which marked the victory of William of Orange who became William III of England. That victory has left a feud between Protestantism and Roman Catholicism which is about as bitter as any feud existing on American soil. To be sure, it does not lead to open violence as it does in Ireland, but it does keep open a wound which in a land of religious tolerance ought long ago to have been closed.

It is well enough to hold sacred memories of the past, but in a country where we all have to live together under one political government, the less divisiveness there is over past conficts on European soil the better it will be for the peace of us all. Happily, the time has past when a parade of Orangemen always led to street fights. The hurling of invectives and recriminations, however, still goes on. This is not well. There is a positive note which can always be struck. Our Fourth of July celebration is no longer anti-British. It is much more a celebration of political freedom and civil liberty. These are the things to be emphasized.

Science and Weather

Oakland Tribune

Learned scientists, in the conventions and laboratories, find time to "talk of the weather." Some of them who make a specialty of the subject talk of little else.

Some recent conversations of foremost authorities would absolve the sun and its recurring spots of much of the blame for hot weather. When there is a prolonged period of extreme heat, such as has been suffered in our Middle West and East it is not fair to blame the sun. Certain "centers" of the earth's surface are responsible.

It is H. Helm Clayton, editor of World Weather Records for the Smithsonian Institution, who comes forward to clear up some paradoxes which have bothered the professional and amateur weather men for some years and bring a little closer the day when long-range predictions may be made.

To be sure, says this expert, the surface of the earth receives all of its heat from the radiation of the sun, and that radiation increases when the sun spots progress from minimum to maximum in number. Yet at those times some parts of the earth are cooler.

The explanation, according to Dr. Clayton, who is joined by Professor Simpson, the British wind specialist, is that while the temperature of the earth as a whole may depend upon the heat received from the sun, that at any given spot at any given time does not depend directly upon the sun's radiation, but upon where the air is coming from as well as the cloudiness prevailing. At the seat of the whole problem is the question of masses of warm and cold air and high and low pressure areas.

Of course this much is not new. These "centers of action" have been known, studied and placed on the daily weather maps. Dr. Clayton is interested in the ways these centers shift with the intensity of the sun's activity, and the resultant differences which come in weather. A paradox comes in the fact that increased solar radiation in the northern hemisphere tends to make the weather there cooler instead of hotter, because of a shift of high pressure areas northward. They push the cold air southward and at the same time the contrary push of the northward air is weakened.

Camp Ethics

Oakland Tribune

How many California families will visit the wilds of their state this summer and fall?

An answer is to be seen in the crowds now moving to the forests, beaches and streams. Whenever there is a movement of size there is somone close behind with timely words of warning. If you go into the out-of-doors there are rules to be obeyed, for your own sake and that of your fellows.

One of these rules prohibits the cutting of living trees. Firewood may be taken only from fallen, dead timber. Another insists that the campfire be extinguished even if it is to be left unattended for but a few minutes. Forests are dry in this season and it only takes a spark to occasion huge loss. Here are other rules:

Dig a garbage pit, if the camp is situated in a place where garbage disposal is not provided. Do not drive nails in living trees, nor leave camp after the vacation with boxes, racks and the like "decorating" forest trees.

Nothing so takes the joy out of a camping trip as the too-often necessity of cleaning up an otherwise attractive campsite after the former occupants left. Burnable refuse should be burned in the campfire, and after it is burned be sure the fire is out, then cover with fresh earth.

In seeking firewood, leave gates, fences, etc., strictly alone. They were put there for a specific purpose, and their destruction will only result in eventually closing more privately owned land to campers and vacationists.

Observation of these few rules of common outdoor courtesy will result in a more enjoyable camping trip and also will preserve the site for some other lover of the out-of-doors who might come later to the same spot.

More Truth Than Poetry

A PLEA FOR JUSTICE

I'm growing, every passing day,
Uneasy in my mind,
For when I seek to write a lay,
No code for bards I find.
While toiling from the rise of sun
Till very late at night,
No mandate comes from Washington
To tell me how to write.

The plumber, with his ells and tees,
The joiner with his kit,
The man who comes to prune the trees
Know when to start and quit.
The painting and the sculping clan,
The merchant and the cop,
The driver of the moving van
Are told to work or stop.

But when I pen a lilting song
To which I sign my name,
No General Johnson comes along
To give me praise or blame.
Nor is there any keen-eyed clerk,
Whose word must be obeyed,
To say how long I'll have to work
At my fatiguing trade.

We poets do the best we can,
The laws we never flout,
So why, in this recovery plan,
Should we be counted out?
A humble rhyming folk are we,
A useful work we do,
So we demand that there shall be
A code for poets, too.

BE THANKFUL

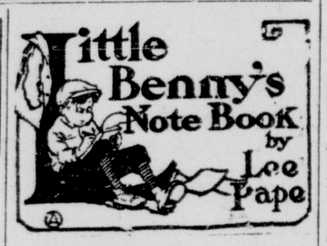
Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape



This afternoon ma started to tawk to herself, saying, If that man comes home today without flowers or a box of candy or some little token to show he remembered our anniversity, after me going to special panes to order liver and onions for his supper, I declare I'll never forgive him.

Meening pop, and I thawt, G, I bet he forgets.

And I was sitting on the front steps when he came home, saying, Hay pop, do you know this is your anniversity, have you got any flowers or anything?

By gollies so it is, didn't those flowers come? pop said. And he went in saying to ma, Happy anniversity, where are your flowers, I dont see them on display.

Why Willyum, nobody delivered any flowers, ma said, and pop said, Confound that fellow Pokadopoliss or whatever his Greek name is. Benny, run up to that florist shop on the Avenue and ask that fellow what the devil he thinks I stopped in there this morning and ordered a dozen roses for? Ask him if he thinks I just stopped in to make him a present of a little money because I like his face. Tell him I dont like his face or his way of doing bizzness either, and tell him if that dozen of roses isn't around here in 5 mintash of his around his big red nits I'll wrap that big black musnose for him. Can you remember all that, every werd is important, pop said.

Yes sir, I said. And I started to start and pop came out in the hall after me, saying, And wait a minnit, tell him I never saw his wife and children but I don't like their faces either. And he quick pushed a 5 doller bill in my hand and pushed me out the front door, and I went up to the flower place, saying to the man, Did my father order a dozen roses this morning? and he said, I dont know your father but nobody's bawt anything but daisies for 3 days, I'm going to give up this bizzness, and I said, Well give me a dozen big red roses.

Wich he did after he saw the 5 dollers, and I snuk the change back to pop, not being hardly any to sneek.

JULY 5, 1920

Since July 4 had fallen on Sunday, this was recognized as a legal holiday. Santa Ana merchants did not open their places of business through arrangements made by Merchants and Manufacturers' association. Banks and all public offices were closed also.

Golfers from various parts of the Southland joined local members of Orange County Country club in an interesting day on the 18-hole course on the mesa above Newport Bay. There was a flag tournament with special prizes and also sweepstakes for Classes A and B.

A giant Fourth of July celebration at Huntington Beach attracted hundreds of merrymakers to that city. There was a bathing beauties' parade, while band concerts throughout the day and a street dance at night furnished other attractions.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

WHERE BRAIN TRUST STARTED

I am amused by the business men who, as they chat in club lounge or at dinner, seem to assume that Roosevelt invented the idea of a brain trust.

The initiating source of the brain trust idea was big business itself.

The whole elaborate application of the results of research in the physical sciences to industrial production, which gave us this age of plenty that we have not learned to manage, was made possible by the innumerable brain trusts assembled by captains of industry and installed in the laboratories of American industry.

The research staffs of which all the major industries boast are nothing but brain trusts to big business.

When Mr. Roosevelt took over the reins of power some fifteen months ago he found that research in the social sciences had not kept pace with research in the physical sciences, with the result that the age of plenty produced by the brain trusts of big business was utterly out of hand.

It was logical to think that a brain trust for economic policies might function quite as effectively as a brain trust for technical processes.

No leader and no party will, in the end, get far by fighting the idea of using brains in the formulation of policy.

There is a point of difference, however, between the way big business uses a brain trust and the way government sometimes uses a brain trust.

Business keeps its brain trust in the laboratory.

Government too often asks its brain trust to function in the laboratory and serve at the executive's desk all on the same day.

This rarely works. Greatest progress comes from a union of the utterly objective thinking of the researcher and the intensely practical dealing of the executive and leadership type of mind.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

BREAKING BAD HABITS

If you want to get anything done, and well done, you have to make it a job. You have to set aside a bit of time, save up a lot of energy, and center your mind on the task. After that you keep at it until it is done to your satisfaction. That is a tried and proven recipe for getting something done.

One of the troublesome jobs that all mothers have to face is that of getting a child to break a bad habit. I believe the difficulty is greatly increased by the mother's idea that mentioning the thing to the child, reminding him occasionally, is enough to do the trick. After telling him a number of times, reminding him a host of times, he still keeps on doing as he did before and his mother sighs and says, "I've done my best to cure him . I might as well give up."

Don't give up. You can train an intelligent child to do about anything you want if you settle down to the business of teaching him. Suppose he doesn't come when he is called. He has the bad habit of not hearing, or of saying, "Yes, in a minute," and forgetting all about it. Complaining to him won't change him. He has to have repeated experiences that pull him toward the idea of obeying on call.

Tell him ahead of time that he is going to be called. Let him know that you expect him to come promptly. Call him. Wait a reasonable time for him to respond. If he doesn't come, instead of calling him again go after him, bring him along, have him do what you wanted him to do, and then, make him sit on a chair in a certain place, where he can see you and be seen by you. Let him meditate on the expediency of answering a call promptly.

Don't keep him there more than fifteen minutes or so. Let those minutes be silent, no word from you, or from him. If he talks don't answer. Then release him and tell him that he will be called at a certain time. Repeat the process. Keep on repeating it day after day until it registers. It will do that by and by when the experiences pile up to form a background strong enough to pull its way. The rule of behavior is, "The idea with the strongest background wins out."

The bad habit was formed because the idea to do things that way was stronger than the opposite idea. The child was allowed to pile up experiences on that side until they were strong enough to sway him. Now you must pile up the experiences on the opposite side until they overweigh the wrong ones.

The question is not one of bad characteristics . It is one of training. Take time out to make the idea you want to set take hold. Make a job of it. Clear the way for your task by arranging your daily schedule for it. If a habit is bad enough to want correction it warrants concentrated, directed effort. Telling is not enough. The experiences are what move the thought and action of a child. Attend to them.

You haven't time? Suppose he had to have an operation? Would you take time out to prepare him, and see him through? This is on the same basis of importance. A bad habit must be cured.

NATIONAL GUARD IS ORDERED OUT IN SAN FRANCISCO DOCK STRIKE

Von Papen Remains In Cabinet As Vice Chancellor

RESIGNATION REJECTED BY HINDENBURG

Nazi Party Chieftains Meet to Discuss Future as Cabinet Also Convened

TROOPS GUARD MEETS

Future of Conservative Von Papen Still is Uncertain Reports State

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

BERLIN, July 5. — (UP) — Nazi political chieftains, the men who know the towns and provinces and the people in the streets met today to discuss the party's present state and its future trend and fortunes.

Their job, it seemed, was to discuss the state of the people while the cabinet here discussed the state of the nation, and to make sure the bloody Roehm revolt left the Nazi party stronger for the loss of leaders who had become embarrassing.

Black uniformed SS men of the picked bodyguard corps of storm troops guarded the sessions and patrolled the streets of the town of 30,000 in strong numbers. German newspapers were forbidden to publish any accounts of the meeting except those issued through the official news agency.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler ordered what amounted to an emergency national party convention. He and Rudolph Hess, German counterpart of Postmaster General James J. Farley, were expected to join the convention today if it seemed advisable.

80 In Convention

There were 80 delegates in the convention—state governors and federal and district leaders from the states and towns. They sped yesterday by airplane and special train from all over the country to the convention city—Flensburg, on the German-Danish frontier away from the turmoil of the capital.

In addition to the 80 there were 60, or more aides and advisers. In charge were Dr. Robert Ley, leader of the national labor front, comprising all former workers' unions, who was chairman; Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda; Baldur von Schirach, leader of all the youth publicists and editor of the weekly newspaper Der Osteurmer; and Lieut. Gen. Franz Ritter von Epp, governor of Bavaria and the Nazi party's military adviser.

A communique covering the first day's sessions said that the delegates met, gave the usual "heils," vowed allegiance to Hitler—and listened to reports on economic problems, including an announcement that 90 per cent of old party members who were promised jobs had obtained them.

The future of Franz von Papen, vice chancellor, representative of President Paul von Hindenburg and spokesman for the army and the catholics in the cabinet, still was uncertain.

One Of Siamese Twins Is Denied License To Wed

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—The Siamese twins sidled into the marriage license bureau today.

Violet Hilton, one half of the 26-year-old combination, blushed because it is the usual thing for a prospective bride.

Daisy Hilton blushed because an incautious reporter wondered aloud just how she intended to keep three from being a crowd. The chief clerk pondered this last, colored a bright vermillion and guessed he would get a legal ruling from the acting corporation counsel.

That austere gentleman, aghast at the potentialities of the situation, out-blushed all the others.

"Immoral," he said denying the application for a license. Maurice Lambert, 29-year-old orchestra leader and would-be bridegroom, managed to retain his normal complexion. He said they would get a license somewhere in New Jersey.

CONFESSES HE KILLED FORMER KLAN LEADER

Woman Also Admits She Paid Itinerant Painter $60 to Murder Man

JEFFERSON, Wis., July 5.—(UP)—An itinerant painter confessed today that he killed Earl Gentry, former Indiana Ku Klux Klan leader, Sheriff Joseph Lange announced.

The sheriff said George King, 35 admitted he shot Gentry for $60 "and a million dollars worth of satisfaction."

King's capture and confession came a few hours after Mrs. Carrie Gill, 58-year-old widow, confessed she planned Gentry's death because she was "deathly afraid of him."

Mrs. Gill said she paid King $60 for the slaying. Her brother, Ferdinand Probst, 63, admitted he helped King remove Gentry's body from his sister's blood spotted kitchen and place it in an automobile. The car and body were found last Sunday, a few hours after the killing, at a lonely spot on Rock river.

King offered no resistance when he was captured last night.

"Sure I shot him," Lange said he told him.

"He should have been killed a long time ago. I'm glad I did it and I'd do it again. I got a million dollars worth of satisfaction out of removing him."

Gentry had lived with Mrs. Gill since he was acquitted seven years ago of the murder of Madge Oberholtzer, Indianapolis girl. The same charge sent D. C. Stephenson, former grand kleagle of the Indiana klan, to prison for life.

Lange said King would be arraigned on a first degree murder charge today with Mrs. Gill. Her brother was to be arraigned as an accessory.

Solution of the mystery of Gentry's death came from discovery of a will in which he had left his property to Mrs. Gill. Across its face Gentry had scrawled; "Nulled and void by Earl Gentry, Nov. 28, 1933, when I was threatened to be killed by Carrie Gill."

Mrs. Gill confessed after four days of questioning.

NELLIE MADISON IS SENTENCED TO HANG

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—Nellie Mae Madison, the coolest murder defendant ever tried in Los Angeles county, today was sentenced to hang for the murder of her husband, Eric D. Madison.

Mrs. Madison, whose attitude during the trial won her the title of "the Sphinx Woman," looked Judge Charles Fricke squarely in the eye as the jurist sentenced her to the gallows Sept. 24.

There was not the slightest trace of emotion on her face as she heard the judgment pronounced.

Marie Curie Dies Martyr To Science

Co-discoverer of Radium May Be Buried in Pantheon with Husband

PARIS, July 5.—(UP)—All the world today mourned the death of Marie Curie, co-discoverer of radium, one of the greatest of modern scientists, and one of the greatest women of all time.

While her body was being brought back to Paris from the Savoy Alps where she died yesterday, a movement was under way to bury her and her husband in the Pantheon, which is to France what Westminster Abbey is to England.

Physicians said the woman whose discoveries saved untold lives and allayed the sufferings of thousands, died a martyr to science. The direct cause of death was a lung infection, but contributing was physical fatigue. For months she had worked 10 and 12 hours a day in her laboratory.

Mme. Curie will be buried first beside the simple grave of her husband, Pierre Curie, in a suburban cemetery. Curie died in 1906. If later both bodies are transferred to the Pantheon it will be the greatest honor France ever bestowed upon a foreigner. Mme. Curie was a Pole by birth, although she spent almost all her adult years in Paris.

Pursues Research

Mme. Curie realized several months ago that her days were numbered. Eager to continue the researches she began with her husband that gave the world two new elements—ononium and the all important radium—she pursued her research in black uranium oxide furiously.

Easter she caught a cold that persisted and settled in her left lung. Thursday she was taken to the Alpine sanitarium at Saint Cellemoz where infection developed and rapidly got out of control because of a generally weakened condition brought about by overwork.

Her daughters, Mme. Irene Curie-Joliot, her assistant in many scientific experiments, and Eve, musician and playwright, were at the bedside as were assistants of the Curie Institute.

She had worked so hard during the past few months that she prepared her meals in her laboratory over a Bunsen burner.

The government indicated it would continue to subsidize the Curie Institute which it established and financed on condition Mme. Curie would be its director and supervise research devoted entirely to application of radium in the treatment of cancer and other tissue diseases.

Associate Researcher Fournier announced that Mme. Curie's assistants had full knowledge of the progress of her studies and would be able to continue.

Mme. Curie received the Nobel prize twice—once alone and again with her husband and Henry Becquerel, whose original researches into the radio active properties of uranium provided the inspiration for the discovery of radium.

EXECUTE THREE IN AMERICAN'S DEATH

BAGHDAD, July 5. — (UP)—Three men convicted of the murder of Raymond Fisher, Cincinnati student, and Rudolf May, a German companion, were reported today to have been hanged at Diwaniyah.

No official announcement has been made, but it was said that precautions were taken to insure there was no public demonstration against carrying out the death penalty. The hangings were reported to have been effected last week.

Fisher and May were killed by thieves as they were canoeing.

TWO ORANGE COUNTY PERSONS KILLED IN LONG BEACH; 22 OTHERS HURT OVER HOLIDAY

HEAVY HOLIDAY traffic, especially near the beaches, brought injury to at least 22 persons, in Orange county Tuesday, Wednesday and this morning, as the result of the nine wrecks reported to police and hospitals. In addition, two county residents were killed in Long Beach yesterday.

Four persons were hurt seriously. They were:

Motor Officer La Verne Keller of Huntington Beach, in St. Joseph's hospital with fractured spine.

Wayne Vaughn, 20, San Bernardino, unconscious and suffering from possible skull fracture in St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wilkins, both 24, of San Diego, were injured at 2 a. m. today near Dana Point and are confined in St. Joseph's hospital.

Word was received early this morning that O. T. Aldridge, father of Mrs. Floyd Pike and Mrs. Arthur Finnegan, both of Anaheim, had died in the Long Beach Community hospital, from injuries received in an accident yesterday. Details of the accident were not available.

Lean of Death

The first report of Aldridge's injuries came last night when Anaheim police were requested to notify the two local women that their father had been seriously injured.

The other Orange county fatality in Long Beach involved Joe B. Trujillo, 22, 211 South Philadelphia street, Anaheim, who was killed when he fell from a speed-

SENATOR BORAH TO BACK FIGHT ON MONOPOLIES

Idaho Solon Hits Bureaucracy in Address Over Radio to Nation

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, individualistic as ever, today dedicated himself to a fight against government by bureaucrats.

In the first of a series of addresses to the nation, the Idaho orator spared neither Republican nor Democratic policies. He praised the American tradition of constitutional government, attacked the new Republican leadership and cited bureaucracy as the chief threat of the New Deal.

What threatens today, he said, is:

"Simply that meddlesome, irritating, confusing, undermining, destructive thing called bureaucracy. It is a form of government which steals away man's rights in the name of public interests and taxes him to death in the name of recovery.

"Of all forms of government which has ever been permitted to torture the human family, the most burdensome, the most expensive, the most demoralizing, the most devastating to human happiness and the most destructive of human values is a bureaucracy.

"It has destroyed every civilization upon which it has fastened its lecherous grip."

Borah decried fears that America was headed toward a dictatoral form of government.

"I do not call this Nazi-ism," he said, "God forbid. Ido not claim it is Fascism or Communism. It is none of these."

Monopoly, he said, "is the most vital problem before the American people today." He attacked Republican policies for leading to this condition and for continuing to ignore it.

Borah promised to support all efforts by the administration to fight monopoly.

As causes of the depression, Borah listed first the World war, second the continued expenditures for armaments, then speculation, manipulation of the monetary system, waste of public money and extension of the hold of monopoly upon the American public.

BLAZE DESTROYS HOMES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5. —(UP)—Crews in widely separated districts are fighting range and forest fires which have destroyed a dozen farm houses and outbuildings while sweeping over 60,000 acres of land, state fire wardens reported today.

Another blaze, near Newtown, was extinguished last night but a crew of 150 was unable to control a fire which had burned over 4000 acres in Calaveras county.

THEATERS PLAN TO SHUT DOWN OVER BOYCOTT

Four Hundred and 50 Owners Say They to Close Within Two Weeks

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(UP)—Motion picture theater owners in eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware maintained a position of watchful waiting today before putting into effect their threat to close about 450 theaters in a boycott against allegedly immoral films which was instituted by the Catholic church.

Neither Leonard Schlessinger, zone manager for Warner Brothers, nor Lewen Pizor, president of the Motion Picture Owners' association, would add to the announcement made Tuesday when they threatened to close their houses unless the boycott was modified within two weeks.

In New York, however, Joseph Barnhard, general manager of Warner Brothers theaters, announced that the closing would be delayed as long as possible.

Barnhard also said the statement made Tuesday by Schlessinger had been necessitated by contracts with labor unions and it was merely a routine matter.

"We will hold off as long as possible," Barnhard said. "The financial burden of the boycott is very heavy, but we do not wish to pass that burden on to employes and trades people unless forced to do so. Eighteen theaters will be closed in Philadelphia Saturday in accordance with the summer schedule."

Closing of the theaters, it was estimated, would throw about 20,000 persons out of work. There are approximately 10,000 machine operators and about the same number in allied industries such as distributors' offices, bill posters, advertising employes and printers.

Meanwhile, in the absence of Dennis Cardinal Dougherty in Europe, Monsignor Hugh L. Lamb, chancellor of the diocese, refused to comment on the situation.

FIVE MAKE ESCAPE FROM OREGON JAIL

SALEM, Ore., July 5.—(UP)—Behind hastily thrown up barricades, state policemen, prison guards and peace officers guarded all roads south of Salem today to intercept five armed convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary annex late yesterday.

The convicts, outdistancing pursuers by a quick exchange of stolen automobiles, were believed early today to have failed to penetrate police defenses and were hiding in a sparsely populated area between here and Lebanon, 50 miles south.

With the fleeing convicts was A. C. Rahm, a farmer, whom they kidnaped after he had refused to give them $250 demanded of him.

Rahm was a hostage in his own car, which the convicts commandeered after they abandoned two other stolen machines in which they fled from Salem. Later Rahm's car was found abandoned.

ROOSEVELT IN LETTER URGES WELFARE WORK

Private Activities Necessary to Recovery Declares President

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt has emphasized the need for continuance of private welfare activity at a high level, Newton D. Baker, chairman of the 1934 mobilization for human needs, revealed today.

Baker made public a letter written by the president just before his departure for a vacation, emphasizing that private charity must continue to share with the government the relief burden.

"I wish to state again," said the president, "that volunteer welfare services are indispensible to national recovery. This is every whit as true this year as it was last year."

The president invited the 1934 mobilization committee to meet at the White House Sept. 28 to launch its fall campaign.

Baker pointed out the fallacity of the impression that because the government's appropriations for all forms of welfare activity that the strain on private purses could be relaxed.

He said that only half the unemployed were on relief rolls at all and that average relief expenditures were only $24 a month for each family on the rolls.

At the same time the U. S. Chamber of Commerce reported that approximately 20 per cent of the nation's income would go for taxation this year. The chamber's report admitted the need for the huge recovery expenditures but warned that borrowing "must not be allowed to become so great as to increase public indebtedness to unmanageable proportions."

EXPORT TRADE IN L. A. REVEALS GAIN

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—Commerce staged a remarkable recovery at Los Angeles harbor last month despite the strike of marine workers, export trade gaining 71 per cent over the corresponding month of 1933, according to the southwest business review of the chamber of commerce.

Exports for the month totalled $7,410,000 compared with $4,329,678 for June, 1933, the survey estimated. Imports showed even a greater increase, advancing from $1,970,905 in 1933 to $6,263,000, a gain of 218 per cent. The report attributed the gains, partially at least, to the strike itself. Much of the trade was diverted to the local port from other coast shipping points, closed by the strike.

Shipping to Hawaii draw an extremely heavy diversion of tonnage from other ports, the report stated, advancing from $651,000 in 1933 to $1,842,000 last month.

TROOPS ARE MOBILIZED FOR ACTION

Col. Mittelstaedt Announces That Militia Ordered to Embarcadero Today

TO MAINTAIN ORDER

No Statement Issued From Governor's Office But One is Being Prepared

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(UP)—Col. R. E. Mittelstaedt, commanding the 250th coast artillery, California National Guard, in a formal statement this afternoon said his troops had been "ordered to the Embarcadero to maintain law and order in the city of San Francisco."

At the time his statment was issued no announcement of the calling out of the National Guard had been made by the governor's office in Sacramento. Guardsmen were being mobilized at their armories, however.

"The public must realize," Col. Mittelstaedt's statement said, "that the national guard is now a part of the army of the United States and is trained and equipped by the United States government as are troops of the regular army.

"Our troops are officered by World War veterans and we propose to undertake duties as soldiers in the same manner that we would undertake a wartime mission. In view of the fact that we are equipped with rifles, bayonets, automatic rifles and machine guns, which are all high-powered weapons, the Embarcadero will not be a safe place for persons whose reasons for being there are not sufficient to run the risk of serious injury.

"We have 4,000 additional national guard troops behind us and should this number be insufficient we can call the regular army, the navy and the marine corps to our assistance.

"Law and order will be maintained at any cost."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(UP)—Bloody rioting swept the San Francisco waterfront today.

Two thousand pickets posted by the striking maritime workers who have tied up commerce since May 9 answered the challenge of public and private agencies attempting to open the port, with bricks and flying fists.

Five men were shot and wounded. A dozen more were injured so as to require hospital treatment.

Two freight cars were set afire.

Stray bullets pierced houses in the waterfront area. Trucks were smashed. Much property damage was done.

Workmen engaged on the new San Francisco bay bridge were driven away by the rioting. Work had to be suspended.

May Call Militia

Gov. Frank Merriam and his adjutant general, Seth Howard, in Sacramento, kept in constant touch, planning to call out the state militia the moment the situation got beyond police control. At 11 a.

142 VIOLENT DEATHS REPORTED ON FOURTH

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

NEW YORK, July 5.—America's celebration of the Fourth of July under widespread police orders for a safe and sane observance resulted in 142 violent deaths, a United Press survey revealed today.

But the danger from explosives—once most feared on Independence day—was reduced to the lowest point in many years. Only five fireworks deaths were reported. Many thousands, however, suffered injuries in firecracker and skyrocket accidents, the total running to almost 2500 in New York City alone.

Airplane and traffic accidents killed more than 50 persons throughout the nation as highways were jammed with holiday crowds.

About the same number were drowned.

Householders exemption totalled $244,675.

PLEADS GUILTY ON MAIL FRAUD COUNT

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—The defense in the mail fraud trial of James C. McKay and William Graham appeared to have suffered a setback today when Nobel J. Moore, a co-defendant, pleaded guilty upon completion of the jury in federal court.

Moore, who is serving a prison sentence on similar charges, pleaded through his attorney, Leonard Obermier. The judge reserved decision.

The plea came after selection of a jury of businessmen. Court attaches described the jury as "intelligent."

MRS. SAMUEL INSULL LANDS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—Mrs. Samuel Insull, wife of the utilities magnate, was en route to Chicago today to join her husband, confident he will be vindicated.

Mrs. Insull, once leader of Chicago society, arrived aboard the Majestic in a $126 tourist class cabin. She was met at quarantine by her son, Samuel Insull jr.

Bargains For Shoppers Offered Here

Santa Ana merchants today completed final plans for staging the big Santa Ana Clearance Sale Days, to be staged under the auspices of the merchants division of the chamber of commerce starting tomorrow and continuing through July 14.

One of the greatest arrays of merchandise in the history of the city will be offered at unusual values to thousands of shoppers who are expected to take advantage of the city-wide event.

PAPAN RETAINS CABINET POST, REPORTS STATE

Official announcement that he would remain in the cabinet for the present despite the humiliations to which he had been subjected, deepened an apparent mystery.

To Von Papen's influence there was added the fact that he was perhaps the only skillful political negotiator in the government and that he was the only man who could meet the Junkers, or powerful landowners, the industrialists and the Catholics on equal terms, and that he was the government's only contact on confidential terms with Hindenburg, a man revered by the people and, in fact, commander-in-chief of the army.

ROOSEVELT CATCHES 35 POUND BARRACUDA

ABOARD U. S. S. GILMER, WITH PRESIDNET ROOSEVELT, July 5.—(UP)—The cruiser Houston, President Roosevelt's home for a month's vacation cruise, lay anchored off Cape Haitien today awaiting a visit from President Vincent of Haiti.

The Haitian executive was scheduled to be a luncheon guest on the Houston.

Yesterday Mr. Roosevelt captured "the grandfather of all barracuda," his first game fish of his present trip. It was a 35-pounder. Dressed in white pants and a blue sweater, Mr. Roosevelt fished from a small gig accompanied by his two sons and his naval aide, Captain Wilson Brown.

ing car on the Cyclone racer on the pike. His brother Paul, 20, riding in the car ahead, was not aware that an accident had occurred and was horrified to find that the fatally injured victim was his brother. Trujillo died enroute to a hospital.

Keller, former chief of police of Huntington Beach, injured himself in a heroic effort to save the lives of many persons standing along the line of march of a Fourth of July bathing beauty parade. Keller and a fellow officer were roaring their motorcycles while driving slowly, to keep the crowds back. Keller's motorcycle unexpectedly slipped into gear and hurtled toward the crowds. He turned sharply and deliberately overturned the heavy vehicle, being pinned underneath.

Taken To Hospital

He was rushed to the hospital here and was reported in a slightly improved condition today from the spine injury. He also received cuts and bruises.

Roger W. Dunning, a Santa Ana city employe, was struck by the falling motorcycle and suffered severe bruises.

Wayne Vaughn was hurt in a head-on collision at 9 o'clock last night on Newport road near the country club between his car and a machine driven by Walter Cole, 28, Ontario. Vaughn received a possible skull fracture, Ted Lockaby of San Bernardino, riding with him, suffered from shock, cuts and bruises, Mrs. Cole received a leg injury and Cole was slightly hurt. Both Vaughn and Lockaby were taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

No Report Made

No report has been made on the wreck near Dana Point early today in which Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins were hurt. Two cars were involved, it was learned. Wilkins is unconscious and suffering from a possible skull fracture, bruises and cuts about the head, while his wife suffered a fractured arms, lacerated right eye and other injuries. They were brought to St. Joseph's hospital about 5 a. m.

Sidney Standing, 66, 2615 West First street, was treated at the Orange county hospital yesterday for injuries he received when he was knocked from his bicycle on West First street by a car driven by Vernon E. Altic, 22, Inglewood.

Three persons were hurt at 10:30 o'clock last night when cars driven by Matthias Wilmes, 22, Los Angeles, and Alvin Beatty, 40, 222 North Berkeley street, Fullerton, collided on Talbert road near Canner road. Those injured were Earl T. Adams, 37, and Amy Adams, 35, both living at 127 West Whiting street, Fullerton, and Marjorie Beatty, 12. Both cars stopped in a bean field.

Joseph L. Williamson, 30, Redlands, and Jackie Grigsby, 26, Anaheim, were hurt at 1 a. m. yesterday when Williamson's car struck a telephone pole after a brake drum had locked. The wreck occurred on Ninth street near Lampson street in Garden Grove.

Four Injured

Three persons in one family were among the four injured at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday when cars driven by Laura E. Harris, 63, Covina and Virginia Wedsweiler, 27, Costa Mesa, collided on Newport boulevard at Seventeenth street in Costa Mesa. Those hurt were Virginia Wedsweiler, Joyce Wedsweiler, 7, Richard Wedsweiler, 1 1-2, and Irene Harris, 29, Covina.

William J. Caraway, 50, Glendale, and Virgil Stiles, 16, 500 East Chartress street, Anaheim, were slightly hurt at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when Stiles' car crashed into the rear of the Caraway machine on Newport boulevard near the Arches. Stiles had been drinking, according to official reports.

When a small car registered to Joseph Scott, 1199 South Orange Grove, Pasadena, turned over in attempting to negotiate a sharp turn on Temple Hill road in Laguna Beach yesterday, two women were slightly bruised, it was reported. No report has been filed with the beach police.

RIOTS BREAK OUT AGAIN IN SAN FRANCISCO

railroad reported it moved a total of 75 cars into five docks, all on schedule.

The city began looking to Sacramento for action. Governor Merriam, in a formal statement last night, had said that state militia would be called today if the strikers interfered with operation of the state-owned and operated Belt Line railroad.

Many believed this outbreak would be considered the "overt act" and draw action from the governor.

Rocks Thrown

At one time during the rioting 500 men, throwing rocks and shouting, charged toward police down the slopes of Rincon hill. Police drove them back, far up the hillside, using clubs and gas.

The crowd was pressed back and back to a line roughly drawn as Bryant, Beal and Main streets, close to half a mile from the scene of activity around the piers.

It remained menacing. Rioters apparently were attempting to barricade themselves behind piles of material—sand, gravel, bricks—being used in the construction of the San Francisco bay bridge.

The president's mediation board, appointed more than a week ago, went into hurried session with Thos. G. Plant, president of the waterfront employers' union.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, chairman of the board, admitted that the board "fears still worse trouble."

Later officials of the industrial association were called to the conference.

The disorders on the waterfront forced suspension of work on the new San Francisco Bay bridge, a joint state, city and federal project.

Police Use Gas

Workmen were driven from the shore workings of the bridge when fighting began on Rincon Hill. Police gas bombs put them to flight along with the strikers and sympathizers.

Governor Merriam directed Chief Engineer C. H. Purcell of the bridge project to suspend work and to confer with Chief of Police Quinn as to the future course to be followed.

At noon foremen's whistles blew in the working area of the waterfront and truckmen and freight handlers quit work for an hour. Police field kitchens served policemen hot coffee and sandwiches. At several points strikers relief committees fed strikers also.

At that hour the picket lines had been pressed back more than half a mile from the working area of the waterfront and Rincon hill had been cleared entirely. But strikers, in ugly temper, still moved through the warehouse district on Townsend, and nearby streets.

Harry Bridges, Australian, chairman of the marine strike committee, took advantage of the lull in hostilities to call at the mayor's office and leave a protest charging:

That police "wilfully shot" five strikers.

That police jammed gas guns into strikers' ribs and discharged them, burning strikers' flesh.

That police used a new, and allegedly "unsporting" type of "nausea gas."

"None of the violence," he said, "was started by our men. We have witnesses of police brutality." m. police still seemed able to cope with the rioters who were becoming scattered, tired and showing signs of disorganization.

As the rioting subsided, police were moving up additional equipment including fire wagons. At several points streams from fire hoses were turned on the rioters.

Emergency wagons brought up new supplies of gas.

The scene during the fighting on Rincon Hill had been one of great violence. Strikers charged police and police returned the charge time and again. Long night sticks beat a tattoo on heads, shoulders and ribs. Many police, unable to get within arms reach of rioters threw their heavy night clubs. Rioters pelted police lines with stones and bricks. There was gunfire from both sides but it was not effective nor was it general.

Grass Fired

Rioters set fire to dry grass on Rincon Hill and pelted fire trucks with rocks when firemen came. Police and fire hoses drove away the rioters and put out the fire, as men, struck by the powerful streams of water, went rolling down the hillside.

Reports that wild bullets were flying across the Embarcadero from Rincon Hill caused police to send a detail to search for snipers on sections of the hill which had been cleared.

While the rioting was going on commerce moved on the waterfront at the greatest rate since May 9. The industrial association reported its trucks carried away goods from the piers where they were operating at the rate of 34 loads per hour. The Belt Line Hardly had the hands of the clock passed 1 p.m. signaling the end of the lunch hour, than violence broke out again.

Fire On Engine

A Belt line locomotive halding a long string of box cars, was fired upon by a crowd gathered at Steuart and Folsom streets. Police rushed with tear gas .

Another group of rioters broke through police lines at pier 14.

Grass fires were set on Stuart street by retreating strikers.

Suddenly between 500 and 1000 strikers and sympathizers surged over the crest of Rincon hill, cleared during the morning. They drew two lines, one about half way up the hill, the other about two-thirds of the way up.

Police from the embarcadero set out in squad cars to drive them back.

The crowd from Stuart and Folsom streets retreated to Spear and Main streets, about a block and a half, and there set up a group of unidentified workmen while police tried to quell the rioting. Several were beaten.

There was sharp fighting at the same time at Howard street and the embarcadero marked by police gas bombs going through windows of the Seaboard hotel and driving out the occupants; at pier 18 nearby and around Rincon hill. One man was shot in the stomach as scattehed revolver-fire marked the Howard street battle.

Fire Breaks Out

Fire broke out again in the grass on the slipes of Rincon hill and burned down the hillside toward the waterfront.

The pickets who had surged over the crest of Rincon hill, retreated as police charged, leaving the dry grass on the hillside burning. Firemen put out the fires as police drove the pickets back, but only after warehouses of the Farnsworth-Ruggles company and the American Marine Paint company had been endangered.

The fighting grew violent from Mission to Howard street on Stuart street and the embarcadero. Police charged the Seaboard hotel, routing strikers. Two were shot. The hotel was filled with gas.

Two more men were reported shot at Mission and Stuart streets.

Joseph Rosenthal, San Francisco Daily News reporter, was struck in the head by a wild bullet and was beaten allegedly by strikers, but not gravely hurt.

DENY REQUEST TO ASK FOR SPECIAL MEET

Members of the board of directors of Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting held today in the chamber offices in the courthouse annex, failed to comply with a request made by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce that the local chamber endorse the calling of a special session of the state legislature to perfect the necessary legislation to put into effect the enforcement of price control and other features in various trades in the state.

Secretary George Raymer read a letter from the San Diego group which said there is a "desperaate need for the enactment of legislation which would correct practices now in effect detrimental to industry and business and the need for operation under codes which are applicable to to conditions in California rather than in the East."

A letter of reply from the local chamber pointed out that a special session of the legislature, it is believed, will be called primarily for the purpose of passing legislation specially to relieve the unemployment situation.

"The presentation of other matters regardles sof their respective merits will have a tendency in our opinion to detract from the effectiveness of proposed necessary legislation to take care of the unemployment problem," the letter said.

"Calling for legislation on matters othe rthan unemployment would probably keep the governor from calling the special session," it stated.

The board of directors appointed C. H. Chapman to represent the chamber of commerce at a meeting of all water interests in the county tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in Anaheim at the Elks clubhouse.

KIDNAP SUSPECT HELD FOR TRIAL AFTER HEARING

Following a lengthy preliminary hearing in justice court Tuesday, Billy Griffin, 49, unemployed dishwasher, was held to answer to the superior court on charges of kidnaping and a statutory offense against a 6-year-old Santa Ana girl.

Testimony was given by Dr. D. H. Abbott, of the Orange County hospital staff, Mrs. Jessie Cowden, mother of the girl, Officer W. B. Sherwood and Mrs. Edith Truxel. The courtroom was closed by Judge Kenneth Morrison except for court attaches and those connected with the trial.

Griffith's own admission that he had taken the girl to his rooms from a point near Birch Park, and had kept her there all night, was one of the most damaging points held against him by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner. Dr. Abbott testified that the girl had been attacked, according to court records.

At the time of his arrest, Griffin admitted to officers that he had been drinking beer and bayrum, according to police reports.

Judge Kenneth Morrison maintained the $25,000 bail he set when Griffin was arrested.

Accident Victim Demands $27,390 From Railroad

Mrs. Jessie Hollenbeck, orange packer, of 112 South Lyon street, Santa Ana, today asked $27,390 damages against the Southern Pacific Railway company for injuries she received September 30, 1933, when an automobile was struck by an S. P. locomotive on the North Batavia street crossing at Orange.

Mrs. Hollenbeck was riding in a car driven by Cleo Owens when a locomotive backed into it, causing her to suffer concussion of the brain, and broken leg and other injuries, which disabled her for eight months, she claims.

SURVEY SHOWS GOOD BUSINESS IN SANTA ANA

A survey just completed by A. Cavalli, manager of the merchants division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, shows that business here for the month of June held its own, it was announced today.

The usual falling off of business in the summer which is evident all over the United States, did not hit Santa Ana, however, as hard as it has before, Cavalli said, but some merchants reported a small decrease in sales, which is customary in their lines during June.

"The majority of our merchants state that they did better business this June than in June of 1933," the chamber official declared, "all of which points to the fact that business is getting better all over Southern California.

"With July clearance sales in progress for the next week and midsummer stocks being offered at attractive prices, business in Santa Ana this July should be far ahead of last year.

"During June five well known firms opened offices here, one a nationally known institution and the others doing business in this state for many years. This points to the fact that Santa Ana is the recognized trading center of Orange county.

"It is also noticeable that there are very few stores vacant on Fourth street from Broadway to Bush street and that key locations are at a premium."

MRS. EMMA MAIR DIES AT HER HOME

Mrs. Emma C. Mair, 62, resident of this city for the past seven years and a prominent member of the O. E. S., died today at her home, 615 French street. She was the widow of the late Thomas A. Mair. She had been ill for some time.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. H. Mair, Riverside and Mrs. M. C. Landreth, of Galax, Virginia, and three brothers, S. M. Phillippi, of Fairland, Oklahoma, Charles Phillippi of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and E. V. Phillippi, of Alberta, Canada.

Announcement of the time of funeral services will be made later by the Winbigler Funeral home.

L. A. COUNTY RELIEF GARDENS DECREASE CHARITY COSTS, PAVE WAY TO SUBSISTENCE HOMES

By ERIC E. EASTMAN

The Agricultural Extension service, University of California, recently conducted a tour of Los Angeles County relief gardens under the direction of Assistant Farm Advisor F. H. Ernst, for the purpose of providing an opportunity for civic and public leaders to view at first hand methods used in the relief gardening program by the various agencies involved. Also the results which are being obtained from these plots in terms of food produced and of rehabilitation of otherwise idle men was demonstrated. Although most of those in attendance were from Los Angeles county, San Bernardino, Ventura, San Diego and Orange county were represented by welfare officers and other leaders.

There are at present 41 relief gardens in Los Angeles county, comprising about 600 acres. The county is divided into four districts with a superintendent in charge of each district. The whole program is headed by Linton H. Smith of the county charity department. New gardens are being established at the rate of about 100 acres a week, so that ultimately all unemployed heads of families will be within a two mile zone of a garden. Those who are assigned to a garden donate 40 hours labor per week in exchange for a guarantee of sufficient food produce for their families. From the county relief standpoint, the production is enabling a reduction in expense of $2 per week to be made to each family involved. Also the program is valuable in eliminating the "chiselers" as those who are able but unwilling to participate in the program may be dropped from the charity roll.

Inasmuch as many of the unemployed on the charity roll are "marginal workers," who find employment difficult and sporadic even in prosperous times, the relief gardens by furnishing supervised training in home gardening are a potential and effective means whereby the families involved may be prepared for and inducted into a more satisfactory mode of life, now known as subsistence homesteads. The Agricultural Extension service in Los Angeles county is cooperating with the county relief garden program by inspecting the soil, making cropping recommendations, and supplying technical information as needed.

The tour included visits to seven relief gardens in District Four, namely the Ascot Park, Huntington Park, Bell, Lynwood, Compton, Long Beach City or "Thrift," and Long Beach County relief gardens. The program objectives were described by federal, state and county officers during the luncheon hour.

Gas Office Here 1st In Contest

Santa Ana office of the Southern Counties Gas company received nation-wide recognition for its sales record in selling Electrolux gas refrigerators, it was announced today.

The local office was first in a nation-wide contest for cities of its size, outranking such cities as Lowell, Massachusetts, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and Wheeling, West Virginia, all cities of far larger population.

A letter of congratulation to Fred Merker, district manager, and Loren Moore, district commercial agent in the Orange county territory, has been mailed by R. A. Malony chairman of the gas refrigeration committee of the American Gas association.

BREAKFAST CLUB TO GREET CANDIDATES

It will be open season on political candidates when the Orange County Breakfast club stages a special meeting for candidates for political jobs two weeks from today in James' cafe.

President Hubert Bown appointed C. F. Skirvin, Claude McDowell and Thomas Pickrill in a committee to take charge of the candidate's meeting, at the regular meeting of the club this morning in James' cafe.

Plans also were discussed for a big open air breakfast to be staged by the club in the near future.

Entertainment for the meeting today was provided by Olive Eleanor Schweitzer, pianist, and John Hart Stout, violinist. They were introduced by Fred Schweitzer, club secretary, who is father of the talented young piano player. Jerry Hall, program chairman, arranged the meeting.

HEISER MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR SINCLAIR

Advocating repeal of the sales tax, and warning that 60 per cent of the taxable property of the state wil be forced to bear the burden of a rapidly mounting state deficit, Charles Heiser spoke before the Upton-for-Governor club of Orange county at Birch park last night.

"With 40 per cent of the taxable property delinquent and non-taxable, the 60 per cent will be forced to bear the burden of a rapidly mounting state deficit,' he said. "This cannot go on. Idle land, idle men, and idle factories can be put to work through the agency of the state and aided by the Federal government. It takes something besides blatant phraseology to cut taxes and put the unemployed back to work; it takes a concrete plan as proposed by Upton Sinclair."

The speaker urged a repeal of the sales tax, and a complete reorganization of the state's tax system which, he claimed, would place the tax on wealth, and not poverty, thus balancing the state's budget and creating a huge surplus.

Heiser, who is a war veteran, appealed to veterans to make common cause with all the veterans of industry and agriculture and raise the living standard of the whole people.

"The attack upon Upton Sinclair by Justus Wardell is fortunate for the Epic candidate," said the speaker. "This was expected to happen in the last few days before the primary election, which would not have given Upton Sinclair and his organization an opportunity to reach the people with a reply.

"The same tactics of holding up the communist bogy, and calling Upton Sinclair an emmisary from Moscow has been made upon Franklin D. Roosevelt and even Mrs. Roosevelt herself has not been spared from such calumnies. The charge of regimentation and collectivism in the Epic plan as having the threat of Communism running all the way through it is either advocated by the misinformed or those who are resorting to deliberate misrepresentation.

"Communism is a dictatorship, political, industrial and economic, placed upon the whole of society by a minority group known as the communist party. They propose to enforce their decree by a reign of terror which is the same technique used by fascism in fascist countries like Italy and Germany.

"Upton Sinclair's proposal of land colonies simply means to use our political democracy in order to apply industrial democracy to agriculture and industry executed through the will of the whole people or their majority through the medium of political action."

DEATH CRASH DRIVER WINS EXONERATION

Al Brunner, 41-year-old Long Beach fisherman and ex-boxer, was acquitted of a murder charge by the jury that heard his trial in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court and returned its verdict late Tuesday night.

The jury deliberated six hours before returning its verdict at 10 p. m.

Brunner was accused in connection with a crash between his automobile and another driven by Max Devitt, Los Angeles, at Dana Point, last March, the wreck resulting fatally to Mrs. Mildred Devitt, 26, Mrs. Jennie Orinstein, 45, and her daughter, Beverly, 23, all of the Devitt party.

It was charged that Brunner was intoxicated. Five physicians, including two who had actually examined Brunner after the accident, testified for the prosecution that he was intoxicated, three basing their opinion upon a hypothetical question. The defense summoned two physicians, Dr. J. M. Burlew, of Santa Ana, and Dr. H. A. Johnston, of Anaheim, who testified, answering hypothetical questions, that Brunner was not intoxicated.

The jury accepted the latter theory and, by its verdict, not only held that Brunner was not intoxicated but cleared him of responsibility for the wreck, as no lesser verdict was returned.

Defense Attorney L. W. Blodget succeeded in convincing the jury with his evidence and his argument, that Brunner's condition immediately following the wreck was due to concussion of the brain, caused by the crash, rather than to intoxicants.

Deputy District Attorney Leo J. Friis conducted the prosecution.

BEACH BOY HURT BY GIANT CRACKER

Eddie Eader, 15, son of John H. Eader, pioneer Huntington Beach bakery owner and former head of the elementary school board at the beach city suffered a badly lacerated hand from the premature explosion of a giant cracker he was attempting to shoot off yesterday.

The fingers of his left hand were badly burned and torn by the explosion. Physicians said they hoped to save the fingers but the hand will be permanently injured.

Drunk Arrests In S. A. Reach Record Total

BIG INCREASES SHOWN OVER 6 MONTH PERIOD

ARRESTS for drunkenness in Santa Ana climbed to a new all-time record during the six-month period just ended, when 223 persons were arrested as compared to only 78 for the corresponding six months in 1933, or nearly three times as many, it was shown today in a report from the police department.

Drunken driving arrests were more than twice as many than during the 1933 period. There were 24 drunken drivers arrested from January to July 1, 1934, and only 11 during the same months last year. The six month period ending last December showed the greatest drunken driving total, however, when 44 persons were taken into custody. This period followed closely upon the repeal of the prohibition laws.

Every month of the 1934 period showed an increase over the 1933 figures for drunkenness, the report revealed. March of this year hod the highest total in the history of the city, when 66 persons were jailed. February was next with 41 arrests and June had 40. The highest months in the 1933 period were May and June, with 16 arrests.

The monthly totals for drunkenness during the two periods, with the 1933 figures preceding those for this year, are as follows: January, 13, 16; February, 10, 41; March, 10, 66; April, 13, 35; May, 16, 26; June, 16, 40.

More Drunken Driving

Arrests for drunken driving showed an increase this year over every month except one. The monthly totals were as follows: January, 4, 5; February, 0, 3; March, 1, 6; April, 0, 4; May, 4, 1; June, 2, 3.

Arrests for violation of the liquor laws increased 333 per cent, with 26 in the first six months of 1934 and 6 in 1933. There were only 18 during the entire year of 1933.

Violations of the California Vehicle Act, which include reckless driving, speeding, failure to stop and render aid, and other offenses, jumped from 193 in 1933 to 543 in 1934, more than the 12 month total in 1933 of 495. Every month showed an increase this year, with the monthly totals as follows: January, 33, 99; February, 32, 49; March, 18, 132; April, 45, 122; May, 25, 94; June, 40, 47.

More Disturbance

Disturbing the peace arrests jumped from 6 in 1933 to 15 in 1934. There were two arrests in 1934 from inebrecy and only 1 in 1933.

An increase from 811 in 1933 to 1082 in 1934 was shown in arrests on city traffic violations, with every month except February showing a gain over the period a year ago. Petty theft arrests dropped from 32 in 1933 to only 17 in 1934. There was a total of 53 during the entire year of 1933.

Vagrancy arrests dropped from 16 in the six months of 1933 to 10 in 1934, as compared to the 13 month total of 30 in 1933.

There were only one third as many arrests for burglary this year, and all three were in the month of June. There were 9 in June 1933 and a total of 32 for the entire year.

Arrests made for other cities were virtually the same, with 11 in 1933 and 10 in 1934. There were 25 during the entire year of 1933.

The complete arrest report for June, issued together with the six month report, is as follows: assault and battery, 2; burglary, 3; drunkenness, 40; disturbing the peace, 2; grand theft of automobile, 1; petty theft, 1; liquor laws, 2; license ordinance, 1; statutory offense, 2; vagrancy, 1; violation of the California Vehicle Act, 47; city traffic ordinance, 126; driving drunk, 3; alien gun law, 1; bench warrant, 2; for other cities, 1; and defrauding a cafe owner, 1. Total, 235.

SEVEN SERA PROJECTS GET STATE OKAY

Seven now projects for the Orange county SERA work relief program have come to local offices with the approval of the state SERA, it was announced today by Dan Mulherron, construction superintendent of the works division. This makes a total of 11 projects which have been approved.

The newly approved projects include improvement work on the San Clemente state beach park, improvements on the Huntington Beach city park, Orange park improvements, moving four buildings at the Anaheim Union High school, demolition of the auditorium and administration buildings at the Anaheim High school and improvement work on the Fullerton park.

A total of 1010 persons have been certified for work relief under the SERA in this county, according to W. J. Tway, manager of the works placement bureau. There have been 800 persons who have been interviewed for classification on work as to their trade. A total of 372 men have been given work so far under the new program.

Members of the county SERA committee were scheduled to meet at 6:15 o'clock this evening in an attempt to select a permanent director for the work relief and direct relief programs, both of which will be under the one director.

At a meeting held last Thursday night, the committeemen were unable to come to an agreement on a director, and it is believed that the selection will be made tonight.

TWO MEN HURT AT BEACH HORSE SHOW

Two men were hurt yesterday at the horse show in Huntington Beach, held in conjunction with the Silver Jubilee and Fourth of July celebration. A. E. Rankin of Santa Ana suffered a dislocated shoulder when a horse he was holding reared suddenly. Dale Williams of Huntington Beach suffered a sprained back when thrown from his mount.

BOYS ESCAPE FIRE IN LEAP FROM WINDOW

Two Costa Mesa youths narrowly escaped death Tuesday night when they were forced to jump from the second story of their home, which was consumed by flames.

Charles and Eugene Corson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Corson of Orange and Del Mar streets, Costa Mesa, were awakened by the roar of the flames and the smoke.

They were unable to leave their bedroom to leave the blazing house by the stairs, and were forced to leap from the second story to the ground. Both were uninjured. The stucco house was completely hazed, but a garage was saved. Damage was estimated at more than $2000. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Joe Scherman, state forest ranger, received a call at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night and rushed to the scene of the fire with the state fire truck and his crew from Orange.

RELEASE ORDERED

Narciso O'Campo, 26, San Juan Capistrano, booked at the jail Tuesday night for investigation of failure to stop and render aid after an accident, was released today by the district attorney's office, following an investigation by Constable C. J. Erracarte of San Juan Capistrano, the arresting officer.

SUPPORTERS OF CREEL BEGIN ACTIVE DRIVE

Organization of a Santa Ana Creel-for-Governor club, with an initial membership of 75 men and women, was announced today by C. Harold Dale, secretary. The club was formed at a meeting in the Creel headquarters at 811 North Main street, opened this week, at which many Democratic leaders of the community were present.

Horace C. Head, recently appointed chairman of the county Creel organization, was also selected to head the Santa Ana club, and Harold Dale was chosen secretary, to serve in a dual capacity in the Santa Ana and Orange county clubs.

J. G. Mitchell, Santa Ana police judge and chairman of the Democratic county central committee, was chosen vice president of the Santa Ana club and Col. S. H. Finley was named chairman of the finance committee.

Officials of the club advocate the election of George Creel, and his nomination on the Democratic ticket in August, as the leading Democrat who can be elected governor, and an active participant in the recovery program, as well as a personal friend of President thus assuring complete California co-operation in the administration's recovery program.

Progressive voters of the county are invited to call at the headquarters and secure literature and information regarding Creel and his stand upon any important topics of interest to the people.

Water Meet To Be Held Friday

A meeting of Water Incorporated of Orange County, comprised mainly of private water pumpers, will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Ocean View schoolhouse, northwest of Huntington Beach, according to notices sent out by Harry A. Lake, Garden Grove, secretary.

Any persons interested in the water problems of the county and who wish to hear reports on progress made in organization and program of Water Incorporated are invited to attend the session, it was stated.

CHEMISTRY OF CITRUS TREES TOLD GROWERS

Many Orange county citrus growers joined the pilgrimage to the new campus of the U. C. L. A. at Westwood last Saturday. Some 400 growers from all parts of Southern California attended the "house-warming" session of the Citrus Institute, held under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and the Farm Bureau citrus department.

The morning session, held in the Chemistry building, featured talks on the history of the institution and the courses of horticulture offered by the College of Agriculture in the Southern branch.

A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana, who was identified with the early negotiations for the establishment of the campus in the South, told of the various steps taken by farm interests in this part of the state to materialize the long-hoped-for recognition for a southern branch in keeping with the large patronage that comes from the South. The total student enrollment last year was 8500. The faculty numbers 300, and the total investment is about $15,000,000 to date.

Dr. L. D. Batchelor, director of the Citrus Experiment Station, outlined the 50 research projects under way at the Riverside institution, and R. W. Hodgson explained the agricultural curricula now available at Westwood. He said that the first two years of any course in agriculture or forestry may be secured at U. C. L. A. The only four-year major course offered there now is subtropical horticulture.

In discussing the chemistry of an orange tree, Dr. S. H. Cameron of the University staff presented data secured from analyzing several 10-year-old trees that were taken in entirety from the orchard, dissected part by part, weighed and analyzed. The trees were removed and analyzed at different seasons of the year. It was found that the nitrogen content of the tree was greatest from September to December, and lowest in May and June. Starch content was highest from November to March and lowest from May to October. The dry weight of a 10-year-old tree averaged 135 pounds. Twenty-five per cent of the total weight was in the root system and 75 per cent above ground. A detailed report of the investigation will be made available in bulletin form at a later date, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

MAY CANCEL LICENSE FOR BEER GARDEN

Mrs. C. Richter, proprietor of a beer garden on West Santa Fe avenue in Placentia, faces prosecution for keeping a noisy and boisterous place of business and possible revocation of her business license as the result of a series of fights in her cafe Sunday night, which included a knife fray between two Mexicans.

Mrs. Richter was arrested late Tuesday by Police Chief Gus Barnes and arraigned before Judge S. C. Harmony. She posted $100 bail and had her hearing set next Thursday. The arrest followed action of the city council Monday night in deciding to close her place of business in case she was convicted on violation of the local ordinance.

In addition, she will be cited before the state board of equalization if a conviction is secured, it was learned from Barnes and the council.

Manuel Tafolla, 52, who was severely injured in a knife fight in the cafe Sunday night, is recovering in the Orange County hospital but his assailant, Pedro Ramirez, 65, Placentia, is facing charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Ramirez was jailed for drunkenness Sunday but the charges were changed to assault when he was arraigned before Judge Halsey Spence of Fullerton Tuesday. Bail was fixed at $500, which he has not posted, and his preliminary hearing will be held Tuesday.

In a report to the city council Monday, Barnes declared that three other fights occurred in the cafe while he was taking Ramirez to the county jail Sunday night.

Huge Increase Is Reported In Bank Deposits

Deposits of Security-First National bank have increased $31,787,538.12 since last January 1, according to Frank J. Was, manager of the institution's Santa Ana branch.

On January 1 the bank's total deposits were $438,328,487.88. In the recent statement of condition, issued as of the close of business on June 30, the total deposits were shown to have increased to $470,116,026.00.

A substantial part of the gain in deposits is in savings accounts, according to Was.

11 BOOKED AT BASTILE FOR DRUNKENNESS

Eleven persons were booked at the county jail Tuesday and Wednesday on liquor violations including two for drunken driving, one for drunkenness on the highway and eight for intoxication.

Manuel Aguirre, 52, 214 East La Palma street, Anaheim, and Martin Casillas, 32, Belvedere Gardens, were brought to the jail Tuesday evening to start sentences for drunken driving.

Aguirre was sentenced to serve 50 days or pay a $100 fine by Judge Charles Kuchel of Anaheim while Casillas was sentenced to pay $250 or serve 125 days by Judge D. C. McCharles of Tustin.

Dovegdia Apapas, 30, Indian woman from Pala, was booked at the jail for drunkenness at 10 p. m. Tuesday after Deputy Sheriffs Claude Potter and Steve Duhart were sent to a hobo camp near Atwood on Yorba boulevard.

Officers F. L. Grouard and William Heard arrested Andrez Cruz, 21 and Gregorio Cruz, 33, both living on Lincoln street, and booked them at the jail at 2:47 a. m. Wednesday for drunkenness. Gregorio Cruz was later released on a $25 bond.

Frank Hernandez, 21, Atwood, was arrested for drunkenness on the highway at Atwood and brought to the jail yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs R. E. Steinberger and James Workman.

Police Chief Gus Barnes of Placentia brought three men to the jail for drunkenness last night. Manuel Nulise, 46, Santa Ana, was booked at 5:33 p. m. and later given treatment at the Orange County hospital for a cut eye, lacerated lip and bruises, received in a scuffle at Placentia. Anacito Perez, 29, and Felix Macias, 31, both of Corona, were booked at 10:35 p. m.

Charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace Jose Perez, 42, Westminster, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Sam Snodgrass and Walter Dungan near the postoffice in Westminster. He was booked at the jail at 10 o'clock last night.

T. Kelleam of Santa Ana was arrested near a pool room at Fourth and Birch streets at midnight last night and booked at the jail for drunkenness by Officers William Heard and W. E. B. Sherwood.

Denies Guilt On Assault Charge

Roy Mayo, 40, 1319 West Second street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of simple assault in justice court Tuesday and had his case set for July 12 at 9 a. m. without a jury.

Mayo was charged with assaulting N. A. Lucas at Fourth and Ross streets several weeks ago. The defendant was arrested Monday night by sheriff's officers.

It's Here! Our SHOE SALE!

PETERSON'S FAMOUS SEMI-ANNUAL EVENT for men, women and children STARTS TOMORROW!

$2.95

The first thirty or forty people to arrive tomorrow morning will get nice soft cushiony seats . . . after that, one sits on the wooden ledge and watches one's chances! You've never sat there very long, have you? We're pretty well organized and have learned how to take good care of our customers during a sale. We've HAD to learn! . . . they come in such crowds!

This sale's ancestors have given it a reputation that it will uphold very creditably this year! It's a little more modern, maybe, because ALL summer shoes are included . . . men's, women's and children's . . . just a great big happy get-together! The men can have their own private smoking corner unless they want to sit brazenly out in the open and take a lesson in bargain-getting from the feminine contingent!

$6.95

ADVICE GIVEN BY P.-T. A. ON NEW PICTURES

Recommendations made by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers on a group of moving pictures recently released were made public today by Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, chairman of the moving picture committee of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers. The recommendations follow:

"I Give My Love"—Universal, with Wayne Gibson, Paul Lukas, John Darrow, Sam Hardy and Eric Linden. Adults, interesting; 14-18, perhaps too strong; 8-14, beyond.

"Kiss and Make Up"—Paramount, with Cary Grant, Helen Mack, Genevieve Tobin, Edward Everett Horton, Lucien Littlefield and Mona Maris. Adults, matter of taste; 8-18, no.

"Let's Try Again"—RKO with Diana Wynyard, Clive Brook, Helen Vinson and Arthur Hoyt. Adults, interesting; 14-18, mature; 8-14, no.

"The Life of Vergie Winters"—RKO, with Ann Harding, John Boles, Helen Vinson, Betty Furness, Creighton Chaney, Donald Crisp, Ben Alexander and Molly O'Day. Adults, excellent; 14-18; unsuitable; 8-14, no.

"Operator 13" MGM, with Marion Davies, Gary Cooper, Jean Parker and the Four Mills Brothers. Family picture; adults and 14-18, good entertainment; 8-14, yes.

..'Shoot the Works"—Paramount, with Jack Oakie, Ben Bernie, Dorothy Dell, Arline Judge, Alison Skipworth, Lew Cody, Roscoe Karns, William Frawley. Family; adults, good; 14-18, enjoyable; 8-14, little interest.

"We're Rich Again"—RKO, with Marion Nixon, Edna May Oliver, Billie Burke, Reginald Denny, Buster Crabbe, Gloria Shea, Grant Mitchell, Edgar Kennedy and Joan Marsh. Family; adults, very entertaining; 14-18; 8-14, yes.

CRACK CORPS AIDS CELEBRATION

Police News

George Buck, 19, mechanic living at 710 South Van Ness street, was jailed by sheriff's officers yesterday on burglary charges after admitting the theft of a ring, coat and boxing gloves from the home of Grover Spray of Holt road, Tustin, Tuesday afternoon. He is also facing reckless driving charges in the Santa Ana police court after being arrested last week on West Edinger street for speeding 70 miles per hour and nearly causing a wreck.

Victor Ayres, 16, Los Angeles youth who ran away from home and came to visit Santa Ana friends yesterday, was taken in custody by Deputy Sheriff R. E. Steinberger and held in the county jail until taken to his home by Los Angeles police.

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

CRISIS

The story behind the promotion of Donald Richberg is that Mr. Richberg has just about reached the limit of his NRA endurance.

He is a very patient man, but his associates have noted privately that he has found it increasingly difficult lately to work with his good friend, General Johnson.

That is not hard to understand. Messrs. Johnson and Richberg are of entirely different temperaments. Mr. Richberg is the cool, calculating lawyer. Mr. Johnson is the tense, nervous top-sergeant. They were able to march along for months side by side, without difficulty, mainly because Mr. Richberg always gave in to the General.

There is always a limit to such arrangements. If the NRA insiders can trust their eyes and ears, noting little differences cropping up here and there, the limit was reached about two weeks ago, probably entirely unknown to General Johnson.

* * *

TREATMENT

It was then that the buzz went around the inner circle that Mr. Richberg ws getting rather tired of his NRA work. His pals made no mention of the general, but they pointed out that Mr. Richberg could make far more money at the much more pleasant task of private attorney.

There was no blow-up. Johnson and Richberg were good friends and probably still are. Nevertheless, the hint was dropped by those in the know that, if President Roosevelt went off to Hawaii leaving Johnson in charge of the NRA, he probably would not find Mr. Richberg among those present on his return.

That is just the kind of crisis which the great salve healer, Dr. Roosevelt, seems to be most adept at handling. In fact, he has never lost a case, even that aggravated case of George Peek and the AAA.

The cure he effected this time was exactly the same one he used on Peek. It has come to be known as the smooth promotion cure.

It so happened that Mr. Roosevelt was looking for a man of Mr. Richberg's primary calibre to take Frank Walker's job during the summer. You may recall that, at the time Peek had difficulties with the Tugwell-Wallace faction. It so happened that Mr. Roosevelt was looking for a foreign trade man to put the tariff policy in the cooler.

The swap worked even more beautifully this time because no one outside was the wiser.

RECOVERY

The final outcome of the situation is not yet clear, probably not even to Mr. Roosevelt. It is all settled until September first, but no one knows what will be done then.

There are insiders who believe Mr. Roosevelt is grooming Mr. Richberg to take General Johnson's place in case Johnson retires then. There are two things wrong with that theory. One is that Richberg needs no grooming and the other is that Johnson has been hanging on to his job tenaciously with White House encouragement and approval. Most people will no longer accept reports of his retirement until they see him walk out the door.

Of one thing you may be quite certain. Mr. Richberg will not go back into the NRA as long as Johnson is running it. You can understand how that is.

* * *

ACTING PRESIDENT

Mr. Richberg got off to a bad start by being mentioned in the public prints as the acting president during Mr. Roosevelt's absence. Neither Mr. Richberg nor the White House circle liked that.

Apparently no one is to be acting president, unless it is Louis Howe, but Mr. Richberg will be as important as anyone else.

To show you how important he has become, he wrote Mr. Roosevelt's executive order which will cut building prices 15 per cent below the code prices.

* * *

FARM

There were quite a few congressional eyebrows raised when Mr. Roosevelt signed the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill.

The truth is that certain administration leaders in congress were permitted to understand that they could pass the measure because it was certain to be vetoed. One administration leader spread the word around the senate room to that effect.

Most insiders believe the president did intend to veto the bill, but changed his mind at the last minute, believing he could prevent collapse of the farm mortgage markets by a conservative administration of the act. The administrators have received their White House orders to go very slowly.

* * *

The promise of conservative administration has not entirely assuaged the inner fears of insurance companies and bankers. They have an idea that none will want farm mortgages if there is going to be a six-year moratorium on any considerable number of them.

It sems to be a case of holding an ax over the heads of mortgage holders. They may be reasonably certain it will never fall, but they will always be afraid it will.

* * *

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

CRESCENDO

New York doesn't always say it with sledge hammers in criticizing the New Deal. An ultra-tactful method of setting the administration straight—worked out by the head of an investment counsel firm—has won cordial approval in high conservative quarters. You are likely to see it widely used to win support for the conservative cause among those who voted "yes" in the Literary Digest poll. The Crusaders haven't adopted it officially but it fits nicely with their style and supplements the blood-and-thunder assault from the Republican sector.

Boiled down the argument runs this way. The administration's purposes are sincere and sound. It's right to set humanity above dollars and okay to step up payrolls and shorten hours. NRA and AAA should be accepted in principle as part of a permanent plan. Neither business nor labor should be allowed to dominate the government. The government should confine itself to the role of umpire in labor disputes—not try to act as dictator.

Observe the crescendo in that sequence.

SWING

Then comes the big punch. All these laudable objectives will flop unless the profit incentive is encouraged more definitely. Business must be allowed to increase its income before it is asked to assume greater wage and hour burdens. It's not too late to mend.

Tryouts of this sales talk on a minor scale have registered remarkably well. A number of local leaders believe they've found out how to use the New Deal's very popularity to swing it permanently into safe channels and away from the "socialistic" theories of the brain trust.

* * *

OUTLOOK

New York has become very bearish on the summer business outlook in the last few weeks. Informed sources advance no less than seven reasons why the recovery machine is likely to go into reverse for the next two months.

1. Seasonal factors and oversize inventories will bring a lull in manufacturing activity through July and August. This means loss of payroll purchasing power which will be partially but not entirely offset by drought relief.

2. Prices are due for a brief but dizzy tailspin.

3. Expenditure of PWA funds is still lagging and won't be felt much before fall.

4. The housing program can only succeed if the government forces reduction of costs. Any move in that direction means more labor trouble.

5. Trade negotiations under the president's tariff authority will be too slow to help this summer.

6. Direct loans to industry by the RFC and federal reserve will fizzle (for reasons recently given in this column).

7. There will be plenty of refinancing under the securities act but almost all of it for refunding purposes—not for new activity which would put people to work.

* * *

INFLATION

But the same sources expect plenty of pep in the fall through free-handed government spending and additional use of monetary powers—including further devaluation. The housing program should also be in full stride by September if it is ever going to be.

Some authorities point out that inflation is already here in a subtle form that few people recognize. The extra funds raised by the treasury in recent months through sale of securities represent chiefly bank subscriptions. These were paid for not in cash but in newly created credit—a simple book entry. The government then disbursed this credit and thus puts fresh money into circulation without printing it.

There's no serious objection to this form of inflation even by conservatives—except from the angle of a top-heavy federal debt. There's plenty of headshaking about an eventual crisis from this cause but it's admitted that intermediate effects should stimulate recovery.

* * *

TAMMANY

Tammany will have to choose a new leader soon. The inside juggling that's been going on to gain control is ruining discipline—and Tammany without discipline is Babe Ruth without a bat. The leaders are beginning to realize that their factional rows may land their machine in the junk-heap—which won't do any of them any good.

Resentment increases among Tammany old-timers at efforts by the recovery wing of the party to kidnap the Manhattan organization. Fifty out of 84 jobs in the Manhattan internal revenue collector's office have been handed to recoveryites. The regular boys thing Mr. Farley has done them dirt and sentiment is growing that they've nothing to lose if they tell him to go peddle his papers elsewhere.

* * *

WHEN

Informed New Yorkers remark that Nazi Ambassador Luther was right in saying he wasn't going home to be fired. He's only going back to find out when he'll be fired. It's noted the term he was serving as reichsbank head when removed in favor of Schacht expires in October. All Hitler promised him was another job to fill out that term.

SIDELIGHTS

Local sharps name 160 million as the trading price on Russian debt settlement—to be paid through jacked-up interest on commercial credits. Russia bought no U. S. airplanes last year—but more aircraft engines than any other country....Reports are current that racketeering lawyers are due to be keelhauled by a congressional committee....Wall Street hope's it's true....It's estimated the Leviathan's losses on its seven guaranteed trips will average around $100,000 per trip....Several railroads are due to resume or increase dividends before the end of the year ....The list includes Union Pacific, Louisville and Nashville, Reading and Atlantic Coast line.

EXPENDITURES $2000 UNDER BOARD BUDGET

PLACENTIA, July 5.—Expenditures of the Placentia Union Grammar school district were more than $2000 under the budgeted expenditures, and for the first time in many years the funds were all written in the black as the year closed, and there will be about $11,000 in the reserve fund, according to Ralph F. Essert, superintendent of the school, who reported at a specially called board meeting this week at the Bradford avenue school.

The budget for the year was $89,000 and expenditures did not reach that amount. A vote to purchase two new busses, which will cost about $7000, will add to this year's expenditures, however, he said.

Bids were opened on materials for the new unit of the La Jolla school and for reconstruction of the manual arts building at the Bradford avenue campus, and according to Essert, the bids were almost identical.

Lawrence Lemke was appointed as a committee of one to look after repair of buildings by the president, LeRoy Lyon.

A regular meeting was called for July 9, to make up the budget for the coming year.

Shower Held At Costa Mesa Home

COSTA MESA, July 5.—Mrs. Morris Pierson was honoree at a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gray on Albert place Tuesday, at which time she received many beautiful and useful gifts from friends and neighbors. A pot luck luncheon was enjoyed by the party at noon on the lawn.

Those present were Mrs. Etta Lesnick, Mrs. J. Anderson, Miss Tessie Anderson, Mrs. William Humes, Mrs. G. G. Smalley and sons, William and Melvin; Mrs. Lloyd Braddy and daughters, Vera Jean and Marilyn; Mrs. Dorothy Alleman, Mrs. Charles Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray, Mrs. Barbara Wertz, Mrs. Lucy Davis, Mrs. W. H. Young, Mrs. H. L. Braddy, Mrs. Lloyd Willcutt, Mrs. Otis Pierson, Mrs. William Kesel and son, Merlin; Miss Wilma Kesel, Miss Mildred Wyers, the honoree and the hosts.

Politically Speaking

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5.—(UP)—Political opponents of Gov. Frank F. Merriam are airing details of the Crescent City Investment company's 1929 promotion of a stock scheme which promised extensive development of Crescent City as a tourist resort and shipping center. Merriam formerly was president of the company, against which new suits are pending.

The attacks on Merriam were regarded as an indication of the intensive fights which will precede the primary election.

Quinn is confident of winning the Republican nomination, but fears he will not be able to defeat Sinclair in November.

"There's no use kidding ourselves," he said. "I think Sinclair will win the Bourbon nomination, and I will win the Republican. But I'm afraid I won't be able to beat him in November."

George Creel, Democrat, has attacked Sinclair and his principles as "balderdash," "rubbish," and "bunkum."

Justus S. Wardell, snorting at reports he would be offered a federal job to remove him from the Democratic race and thus aid Creel, formally announced his campaign platform a few days after he qualified for the race.

He proposes reduction of state expenditures and issuance of a bond to cover the state deficit; shorter working days and weeks; enactment of health insurance and old age pensions; reduction of fixed charges and taxes; abolition of overlapping bureaus; a sales tax on gross receipts; moratorium on taxes; modification of the parole system; reconstructing the present Railroad Commission into a Public Utilities Commission.

The Democrats should have a merry race, with a widely split field. This, politicians claim, should help Sinclair. Republicans, on the other hand, will have only four candidates from whom to choose. They include Raymond L. Haight, who is registered a Commonwealth.

Politicians claim a bit of skullduggery has appeared in the similarity of names which may be listed on the ballot. Justus S. Wardell and James E. Waddell are Democratic candidates for governor. Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Republican, and Carl Alexander Johnson, Democrat, are candidates for the Senate. State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson and John Franklin Johnson are Republican candidates for state treasurer. Controller Ray L. Riley, Republican, and C. Clifton Reailly, Democrat, will seek the controller's post. The second named in each case denied he hoped to win votes because of the similarity of names.

LAGUNA FESTIVAL COMMITTEE NAMED

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Another step looking toward the organization of the Festival of Arts association of Laguna Beach was taken Tuesday afternoon at the regular luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce at Laguna Beach hotel with the appointment of a special contact committee by Andrew Hall, temporary chairman in charge of the organization movement.

The new committee, composed of Perry E. McCullough, John Jehle and Capt. George A. Portus, is charged with submitting names of between 40 and 50 prominent citizens, men and women, representing different organizations and activities, who are willing to serve on a general board of directors of the proposed Festival of Arts association. In this connection it was suggested that the new organization follow the policy of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses association and endeavor to have, as far as possible, all interests represented on the board.

A tentative constitution, drawn up by a committee composed of Leslie Kimmel, Arthur C. Peterson, Dr. Luther F. Mallow, Dr. David R. Hoffman and Frank Hevener, was adopted.

Candidate Backs Old Age Pensions

GARDEN GROVE, Julyy 5. — James L. Davis, of Santa Ana, Democratic candidate for congress, addressed a meeting of more than 50 members of the Garden Grove Unemployed association this week on behalf of the Roosevelt recovery program.

Particular stress was laid upon the administration's program for unemployment relief and old age pensions. He expressed himself as favoring a decent standard of wages, 30-hour week in industrial plants and unemployment insurance.

"It is becoming increasingly apparent that congress must put into action some form of old age pensions, in which I am in hearty accord," the speaker said, pointing out that if those over 60 are retired on pensions, it will make jobs for those between the ages of 25 and 60 and thus materially reduce unemployment and resulting criminality.

U. S. RODEO EXCITES BRITISH

'Letters-To-Editor' Departments Work Overtime

RATED CARNIVAL OF CRUELTY

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 5. — The Englishman's deep reverence for beef, be it roasted, in a pie, or on the hoof with horns, tail and hide still attached, never was shown more clearly than in the agitation caused by the arrival of an American rodeo at White City stadium, just outside London.

Trouble began when the rodeo officials, who had planned to stage the same show they used in Madison Square Garden each year, held a dress rehearsal for the press. The following day the papers were filled with stories condemning the rodeo as a carnival of cruelty, a bazaar of barbarism, and a mart of misery in which animals, especially cows, were heaped with indignity and pain.

One reporter said, that not since a Zeppelin raid, had he seen anything so horrible as "bulldogging, in which full grown men leap violently on a cow's neck and, by twisting the animal's neck as a housewife does a dishcloth, force the bewildered beast to death, there to roll and bellow in agony."

Another said he could "stomach the bulldogging because there is the happy chance of the animals' assailant breaking his own neck, but that lassoing in which the unsuspecting beast is suddenly checked in its flight, thrown harshly to the ground, and its legs handcuffed, "was more than civilized man could bear."

For several days the "Letters-to-the-Editor" sections of the papers were filled with demands that the rodeo be stopped. It wasn't stopped, is still running in fact, but you wouldn't recognize it as a rodeo. It has been thoroughly de-nicotinized, so to speak. There is no bulldogging, and when a roper lassoes a steer he must immediately drop his end of the rope and allow the steer to trot unhindered about the arena.

To the cows, especially the old troupers who were accustomed to the falling with a thud when the rope settled about them, such business is disconcerting, and many persist in falling down heavily when roped.

The nation became so worked up over what they considered extreme cruelty, that it finally reached the House of Lords, where one august member rose and demanded that the rodeo officials remove the wooden stalls into which the steers are driven after performing in the arena. The lord said he saw, with his own eyes, steers bump into these pens with frightful violence, and he simply wasn't going to stand for it.

"Something must be done, and done immediately," he said in closing his stirring address. "The pens must go."

HELEN JACOBS TRIUMPHS OVER JOAN HARTIGAN

Summaries of Wimbledon tennis matches will be given from London over Radio KHJ from 8:45 to 9 a. m. Friday, and from 9:30 to 9:45 a. m. Saturday.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5. —(UP)—American tennis starts scored two victories today in the All-England championships. Helen Jacobs advanced to the final of women's singles, and the U. S. Chicago and Lester Stoefen of Davis Cup tandem, George Lott of Los Angeles, advanced to the semi-finals of men's doubles.

Miss Jacobs, American champion and favorite to capture the crown left undefended by Helen Wills Moody, breezed to a 6-2, 6-2, victory over Joan Hartigan of Australia.

Then Lott and Stoefen, both tall, powerful players, trounced the smaller German team, H. Denker and H. Henkel, in a quarter-final match, 6-1, 13-11, 6-3.

Miss Jacobs will meet Dorothy Round of England, seeded No. 2, in the final Saturday. Miss Round gained the final today by beating Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Miss Jacobs, America's lone hope of winning either singles crown, triumphed with ease over Miss Hartigan who had advanced to the semi-finals at the expense of two seeded stars. The Berkeley girl played under wraps during the first set. She was content to remain in deep court and merely keep the ball in play until the nervous Australian lass outed or netted.

She took a three-love lead with the loss of but five points.

Miss Hartigan opened the set briskly, breaking her opponent's service at love.

Then Miss Jacobs turned on the power and clicked off four games in a row. She broke down the the Australian's backhand with deep corner shots. After dropping the sixth game, Miss Jacobs came to the net for the first time, winning the seventh with two untouchable volleys. She then broke service to end a dull, uninteresting match.

Wood, Williams Lose

The first American defeat of the day was registered when Jean Borotora and Jacques Brugnon of France, defending champions in the men's doubles, advanced to the semi-final round at the expense of Sidney Wood of New York, U. S. Davis Cup player, and R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia, non-playing captain of the Davis Cup team. The score was 8-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Williams couldn't stand the pace or the terrific heat. As he went to pieces, the Frenchmen drilled winners past him with monotonous regularity. Borotra was particularly brilliant, leaping and stabbing like the "Bounding Basque" of old.

Another partial American victory was scored when Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France, advanced to the semi-finals of women's doubles by beating Miss Jacobs and Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass. The score was 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. Miss Jacobs appeared tired from her singles engagement, and played erratically.

ROMANCE?

Speedy on the matrimonial runway as well as on the track, Glen Cunningham, holder of the world mile run record, soon will march to the altar with Miss Margaret Speir, shown here with him, say his college friends. Both were graduated from Kansas University this spring. Rumor says the wedding will be in Milwaukee.

HEARD HIGH IN CITY LEAGUE'S SLUGGING LIST

Hitting safely 15 times in 27 attempts for an average of .556, Jerry Heard of the First National bank's team led Santa Ana City league batters during the first-half of the season.

Heard was hard pressed by two other players who swatted .500 or better. Lawrence Cameron of the 20-30 club had a mark of .533. Harold Finley of the Commercial National bank was third with an even .500.

In the "Big Ten" also were Frank Labrucherie, .480; Lloyd Lichtenwalter, .438; Warren Ashleigh, .429; Joe Cornelius, .412; Tom Lacy, .391; "Baldy" Foltz, .391 and Mickey Walker, .375.

* * *

Pressing on in the Santa Ana City league's second-half, four clubs engage in a doubleheader at the Municipal Bowl tonight. The M. E. South Juniors tackle Weber's bakery at 7 o'clock. The South Methodist Seniors face the 20-30 club at 8.

The City League All-Stars, who play the Santa Ana Stars in the Bowl Friday night, dropped a 5-2 game at Irvine Tuesday night but several of their best players were not available.

MARTINEZ AND GUILLEN SCORE RING VICTORIES

Art Breaux today still felt the effects of a terrific solar plexus blow which huge Johnny Martinez, Long Beach heavyweight, delivered on his person for a fourth-round knockout in the Orange County Athletic club's Fourth of July main event yesterday afternoon.

The punch left Breaux, 200-pound Negro from the Ebony club of Los Angeles, limp and helpless on the floor and Referee Mushy Callahan, onetime world's junior welterweight champion, counted him out.

Martinez got away to a slow start and took a terrific beating in the first two rounds. Breaux had him over the proes several times, and opened a severe cut under the Long Beach man's left eye which bled profusely. Martinez rallied in the third, coming out like an Arkansas cyclone and swatting Breaux with everything but the club's license. He had the round by a wide margin and was ahead in the fourth before he put Breaux out.

Melon-Eaters Smeared

The matinee attracted a fair crowd and true to its promise, the management put on one of the best cards of the year. A watermelon-eating contest between seven colored boys topped off an exciting day. Competitors had to devour a large slice, then a small slice, then whistle. E. Robles, the winner, had melon smeared from head to foot.

Paddy Guillen decisioned George Crouch of the Ebony club in the first main event, although Crouch was heavier and had a longer reach. Wee Paddy gave the colored contender such a bombardment of leather in the third and fourth that he caught Callahan's verdict.

After taking a trip to the canvas in the first round, Art Hernandez won the next four and a decision over Eddie Jackson. This, the special event, was one of the best bouts of the show.

Young Lemon, the slugger, outpointed Paul Watkins, the boxer, in a close one.

Williams Outboxes Macia

Jimmie Williams, Ebony club welter, boxed too well for a newcomer from Anaheim, Earl Marcia, and was a decisinve winner.

Myro Soria, another Anaheim fighter, floored Malcolm Walker of the Ebony stable seven times before he finally kept him there. Walker had courage in large quantities.

MORTEMORE IN S. A. CAR WINS 30-LAP FEATURE

Filled with surprising upsets, the American Legion program of midget auto races, held in conjunction with a special July Fourth celebration, attracted one of the best crowds of the season at the Bowl last night.

Three drivers set new track records by qualifying in 16 seconds flat, and new champions were crowned in both the 30-lap main event and the two-lap trophy dash, as the outstanding performances during an evening of breath-taking speed.

Driving No. 96, the car built in Santa Ana, Chester Mortemore came up from behind to win the 30-lap feature in 7 minutes, 51.4 seconds ahead of "Curly" Mills, who brought his No. 36 in second; Neil Theuson, No. 53, third; and Howard Forest, No. 4, fourth.

In addition to taking third in the main event, Theuson earned a surprise victory over Mills in the two-lap trophy dash in 32.5 seconds. Both had qualified in 16 flat to break the record of 16.1 held by Mills. Mortemore also turned in a qualifying lap of 16 flat.

A fireworks display was held during the races.

The results:

Fastest qualifying times — Neil Theuson, No. 53, 16 secs. flat; "Curly" Mills, No. 36, 16 secs. flat; Chester Mortemore, No. 96, 16 secs. flat; Bill Betteridge, No. 7, 16.2; Howard Forest, No. 4, 16.7; "Spud" Naccarato, No. 5, 16.8.

Two-lap trophy dash—Neil Theuson, No. 53, defeated "Curly" Mills, No. 36, in 32.5 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by "Curly" Mills, No. 36; Howard Forest, No. 4, second. Time, 1 min. 25 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by Neil Theuson, No. 53; Bill Betteridge, No. 7, second. Time, 1 min. 23.5 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by "Spud" Naccarato, No. 5; Art Hungerson, No. 99, second. Time, 1 min. 27.6 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by Don Welsh, No. 17; Pete Naccarato, No. 19, second. Time, 1 min. 28 secs.

Five-lap trial—Won by Chester Mortemore, No. 96; John Keim, No. 22, second. Time, 1 min. 22.5 secs.

Thirty-lap main event—Won by Chester Mortemore, No. 96; "Curly" Mills, No. 36, second; Neil Theuson, No. 53, third; Howard Forest, No. 4, fourth; "Spud" Naccarato, No. 5, fifth. Time, 7 min. 51.4 secs.

Class B 15-lap—Cancelled on account of poor condition of track.

No. 53, driven by Neil Theuson, was selected as the best-appearing auto.

NEW UMP WAS CATCHER

NEW YORK, July 5.—Charley Donnelly, newest of the American league umpires, is no stranger behind the bat. He put in nine years as a minor league catcher.

Ruth To Retire After World Tour Next Fall

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—Babe Ruth decided today to make his last appearance as a regular baseball player on foreign soil. He announced that he would make a world tour with an American league team in the fall.

The famous right fielder of the New York Yankees said he would accept the invitation of John Shibe to join the outfit which will go to Japan and Australia. Mrs. Ruth will accompany him. The team expects to go around the world, playing its final game in France.

Ruth figures this is his last year as a regular in organized baseball. He expects to become a manager-player next season or drop out of the game entirely. The players will leave New York right after the World series.

SABELLA LEADS PITCHERS WITH 8 WINS, 1 LOSS

Although several, including Santa Ana's Wilbur Stinchfield, finished the first-half undefeated, "Chico" Sabella of Huntington Beach was the National Night Ball league's premier pitcher during that period, according to averages compiled today.

Sabella lost only one contest while winning eight. His pitching was an important factor in Huntington Beach's successful pennant drive. Louie Neva of Torrange finished second among the "regulars," with Rudy Heman of Olive third. The figures:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Hargis, Torrance	4	0	1000.
Coggan, Anaheim	2	0	1000.
Stinchfield, Santa Ana	2	0	1000.

MAJOR LEAGUE TRAINING CAMP LIKELY IN '35

Pittsburgh's Pirates, crack National league baseball club, will be officially invited to train in Fullerton next spring.

A formal bid, to be extended within the next few days, was being prepared today by Robert Hatfield, president, and other committeemen of Fullerton's Junior Chamber of Commerce. The invitation will be made through the city of Fullerton, permission to do this having been granted by the council Tuesday night.

The Junior Chamber in entering into negotiations with Pittsburgh officials believes that a major league training camp would put to excellent use the city's fine new grounds recently completed at Commonwealth Park. The field now is used for Sunday and night ball.

Pittsburgh has trained at Paso Robles for many years but President William E. Benswanger and other officials of the club are known to prefer a location closer to Los Angeles. Shortly before the Pirates left for the east this spring, Benswanger and Manager George Gibson, since deposed, investigated several Southern California cities and Benswanger was later quoted in Pittsburgh newspapers as stating that Fullerton offered the best possibilities.

If Pittsburgh's financial expectations are reasonable, it is believed almost certain that the National leaguers will do their preliminary work in Orange county in 1935. Fullerton's close proxmity to Wrigley field, Los Angeles, where most exhibition contests are played, will be an important factor in that city's favor. So will the fact that Floyd Vaughan, sensational Pirate shortstop, is a Fullerton resident. Vaughan is said to have started the ball-rolling for Fullerton.

GEORGE OSTERMAN FLAG GOLF WINNER

Playing his last shot 24 feet from the flag on No. 2, George Osterman won a flag tournament from a big field at the Santa Ana Country Club yesterday.

Pat Kelly, second, putted into No. 1 cup. Paul Hall was two feet from No. 1 cup. W. H. Spurgeon jr. was three feet away. B. V. Curry, six feet, Ben Osterman 10 and Frank Briggs, 18.

MISS DUNBAR RAPS BAER 'LIFE STORY'

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—(UP)—Verbal sky rockets and other fireworks set off by Dorothy Dunbar, actress, and her rancher-father, today were still sizzling about Max Baer's head, and all because he allegedly wrote into his "own life story" too many references to the actress, who is his former wife.

Miss Dunbar made several facts exceedingly plain:

That Maxie, who is champion of the ring and assertedly, of egotism, did not buy or coax her love through jewels and cash;

That Maxie's ring career interests her no more than yesterday's firecracker which has fizzled out; that, although Maxie is being sued often the Dunbars do not sue, and lastly (as an after thought) there is no new romance in sight for Dorothy Dunbar.

Henry Alexander Dunbar, the actresss' father, who lives near Colorado Springs, Colo., offered a wide variety of comment, including remarks to the effect that Miss Dunbar has always made more money than Maxie, and that he himself has made enough to take care of his family.

It was also made clear that Baer's reference to unpaid for jewelry given his former wife should include with emphasis the fact she returned all the jewelry to him.

FUN A-FISHIN'

BY JIMMIE DONAHUE

Hat bands play an important part in trout fishing, and making the rounds of several streams this spring we found several clever anglers with original ideas.

Bands have been in use as a convenient place in which to stick flies since the dark ages, but there has been one objection—once the barb of the fly was inserted in the band, the angler ruined his whole day getting it out.

One practical fisherman seen this year had inserted a number of small safety pins in the band of his chapeau, fastening his flies to the pins through their eyes. Another, using snelled flies, had sewed numerous stitches in the band, inserting the barbs under the threads which ran across the surface of the ribbon.

Another we saw had fastened several tiny snap swivels in his hat, fixing the eyes of his flies to the catch of the snap.

TENNIS

Entries for the annual Santa Ana round-robin championships, sponsored by the Santa Ana Tennis club, will close Friday at 6 p. m. Until then, officials said, they may be filed at Al Jasper's sporting goods store, 305 N. Sycamore street; Jim Smalley's Tennis shop, 116 1-2 East Fourth street, or by 'phoning No. 3181J. The tournament fee is 25 cents. Any bona fide resident of this section is eligible.

Players in the round-robin event are grouped in divisions of ten, and every entrant will meet every other entrant in his section. There will be a class for women if enough show interest. Otherwise, officials intimated, the leading feminine contestants may be placed in Class A, a novel departure in local tennis circles.

Committeemen assemble Friday night to seed players and draw a first-round schedule. Matches will be arranged a week in advance and published in The Register every Saturday.

Dollar Jr. First In Tahoe Contest

TAHOE CITY, July 5.—(UP)—Stanley Dollar jr., held the Lake Tahoe speedboat championship today after his "Skipalong" dashed over the mile-and-one-fifth course Sunday five times in 10 min., 38.5 sec.

Mrs. J. Carroll Skinner won the race for 100-horsepower boats, claiming her third victory in this class by making the three laps in 8:40. George Kehect won the 200-horsepower event.

EX-BALL PLAYER IS KILLED BY BANDITS

BUTTE, Mont., July 5.—(UP)—Police and sheriff's officers today could find no trace of the bandit-killers of Gaylord Reppy, 32, former major league baseball pitcher.

Reppy died at midnight with an unidentified robber's bullet in his back. He was shot during a service station holdup.

Vieaux Wins Auto Races At Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., July 5.—(UP)—Lloyd Vieaux, Beverly Hills, Cal., speedster today held the most honors of the Lakewood auto races as he won the 20-mile sweepstakes, took two other racing events and made a new track record of 44 1-5 seconds for the mile.

FLORIDA FROG SETS NEW JUMP RECORDS

WAUCHULA, Fla., July 5.—(UP)—Perennial rivalry between California and Florida, embracing scenic attractions, climate and fruits, has been extended to frog-jumping, with Florida claiming a world record, 13 feet 7 inches, or five inches better than California can boast.

As 15,000 spectators strained forward in their seats and as countless other thousands listened intently on their radios, "Woco-Pep," the victor out of a field of 60, cronked "California, Here I Come!" and leaped the record distance, plopping in a cloud of dust on a flour-covered course.

Every year California holds a similar meet at Angel's Camp, where the best previous mark recorded was 13 feet 2 inches. Determined to wrest whatever laurels leap-frogging lends to any state, public spirited citizens here put on a stirring show the Fourth. The mayor, the postmaster and the clerk of courts were the judges.

"Woco-Pep," entered by Jack Cliett of Wauchula, at first tied with one "Wimpy," owned by Henry Boney, former big league baseball player. They both soared 13 feet, 5 inches. Mayor S. E. Ausley called for a re-leap, and "Woco-Pep," facing westward with a look that carried defeat to California in it, did his stuff.

Officials swore there was "no skullduggery," such as occurred in Mark Twain's humorous account of the jumping frog of the Calaveras. The Florida frogs simply were in the best of leap, and responded nobly for the deep Southeast.

SIX ORANGE COUNTY GIRLS TO TAKE PART IN BALLET IN L. A.

Six Orange county girls will participate in the "Bolero" dance program next Wednesday night, July 11, which opens the summer ballet series at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles, it became known today.

Included in the group are the Misses Louise Goble and Betty Jean Koster, of Santa Ana; Shirley Morse, of Huntington Beach; Betty Jean Cumings, of Buena Park, and Agnes Laforce and Billie Zent, of Fullerton, all of whom are pupils of Estin Burks.

The production will be in charge of Trinidad Goni, widely known Spanish dancer of Los Angeles, featuring her new Moorish version of Ravel's "Bolero," preceded by spectacular Spanish and Mexican dance numbers.

Exotic costumes for the ballet have been created by Corinne, designer of costumes from Grauman's Chinese theater prologues, it is announced.

FARM OFFICIAL REVIEWS BENEFITS ACCRUING FROM AGRICULTURAL LEGISLATION

By W. M. CORY,
Assistant Farm Advisor

Agriculture has for years been striving to get its rightful recognition in legislative enactments and to obtain a parity price with industry for the fruits of her labors. Those engaged in agriculture are subjected to all the adversities of climate as well as markets in getting their products to the consumer. If agriculture is to maintain her rightful place among the great wealth producing classes of the nation, she must be permitted to retain her rightful share of the consumer's dollar.

Fortunately agriculture has been sufficiently awake to this need and has maintained a watchful attitude on legislative enactments which might prove harmful. Likewise much constructive legislation has been enacted which has prevented agriculture reverting here to the landlord-peasant type so characteristic of some of the older nations.

Products coming from the soil are the only truly new wealth producing sources. Manufacture and industry merely have to perform the many and varied services demanded by our present complex civilization.

Preeminent among agricultural legislation was the enabling act permitting groups of producers to cooperatively market their products. Others might be mentioned. The Cooperative Marketing Act, however, stands out among all others as a vehicle by which growers might, themselves, carry on such processes collectively as are necessary in getting their products to the consumers and to derive such monetary gain thereby which was formerly lost to them. With their influence in the market, new forces were felt, that of a tendency to strengthen prices and to ask a price that market conditions would justify, rather than to sell at any price, as was the case, generally, under the commission plan of selling.

Plan Very Helpful

This plan has been very helpful to many of our crops and particularly to our specialty crops. Because of the large numbers of producers involved, the wide-spread area in which they were engaged in production, and the varied soil and climatic conditions, the distance from market, etc., it has apparently been impossible to work out a satisfactory program under the Cooperative Marketing Act for many of the basic commodities. This difficulty has long been recognized and many attempts made, with varying success, to meet this situation. Under the stress of collapsed prices, the Agricultural Adjustment Act was enacted. This was not hasty legislation but legislation that agricultural leaders had been trying to get enacted into law for some time. It was only under the pressure of economic stress that sufficient support was gained.

This act became law on May 12, 1933. Its intent and purpose is very explicitly stated in the Act, in this way. "It is hereby declared to be the policy of Congress—

"(1) To establish and maintain such balance between the production and consumption of agricultural commodities, and such marketing conditions therefor, as will reestablish prices to farmers at a level that will give agricultural commodities a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy, equivalent to the purchasing power of agricultural commodities in the base period. The base period being the pre-war period, August 1909 to July 1914. This period was chosen as it was then a more uniform balance appeared to exist between prices of raw materials and prices of manufactured articles.

"(2) To approach such equality of purchasing power by gradual correction of the present inequalities therein at as rapid a rate as is deemed feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets.

"(3) To protect the consumers' interest by readjusting farm production at such level as will not increase the percentage of the consumers' retail expenditures for agricultural commodities, or products derived therefrom, which is returned to the farmer above the percentage which was returned to the farmer in the prewar period, August 1909 to July 1914."

Powers Granted

In order to bring about the foregoing, the following powers were granted to the Secretary of Agriculture:

(1) To provide for the reduction in the acreage or reduction in the production for market, or both of any basic agricultural commodity, through agreements with producers or by other voluntary methods, and to provide for rental or benefit payments in connection therewith or upon that part of the production of basic agricultural commodity for domestic consumption, in such amounts as the Secretary deems fair and reasonable, to be paid out of any moneys available for such payments.

(2) To enter into marketing agreements with processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling, in the current of inter-state or foreign commerce of any agricultural commodity or product thereof, after due notice and hearing to interest parties.

(3) To issue licenses permitting processors, association of producers, and others to engage in the handling in the current of interstate or foreign commerce of any agricultural commodity or product thereof, or any competing commodity or product thereof.

Since the making of benefit payments to cooperating producers was provided for, the Secretary of Agriculture was granted authority to levy processing taxes which were assessed upon the first domestic processing of the commodity, whether of domestic production or imported and collected from the processor. The rate of the tax was equal to the difference between the current average farm price for the commodity and the fair exchange value of the commodity.

Commodities originally named as basic commodities in the Act included wheat, cotton, field corn, hogs, rice, tobacco, and milk and its products. These commodities have been added to by recent amendments of Congress to include cattle, peanuts, rye, flax, barley and grain sorghums.

Reviews Results

Now that the Act has been in effect over a year, it is well to consider how satisfactorily it has functioned for agriculture. Before condemning too severely or acclaiming too highly, one must be broad minded enough to consider not only the direct returns, if any, but also the general improvement in the purchasing power of agriculture, which has an indirect influence upon the prices of all agricultural commodities. Also the magnitude of the problem when entering into a contract with the individual producers of any of the basic crops. This procedure was taken in the case of wheat, rice, cotton, corn and hogs and tobacco. Sign-up and local administration was the responsibility of local associations comprised of contract signers. The procedure was entirely new to them and they had to be first trained. It is marvelous that such an undertaking could be accomplished with as little delay and friction. Now for some of the accomplishments, as summarized from statements taken from the News Digest, official publication of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

On April 1 there were 1,862,532 growers participating in the wheat, cotton and tobacco adjustment programs. Rental and benefit payments totalling $179,702,687 had been paid to producers. Approximately 1,200,000 corn-hog producers, representing the bulk of the Nation's commercial corn and hog production have signed the adjustment agreement. Payments to this group of producers will total approximately $350,000,000.

The cotton program, which reduced the probable outturn by more than four million bales, has been reflected in increased incomes to growers and renewed business and commercial activity throughout the South. The total indicated income received from the 1933 crop is $856,776,000 as compared with $425,488,000 in 1932.

Farm income from tobacco grown in the United States during the 1933-34 marketing year will approximate 214 million dollars, an increase of 100 percent over the returns from sales of the previous season.

Wheat growers cooperating in the wheat program are receiving a parity price for wheat on their farm allotment.

Hog prices have been higher every week since the processing tax went into effect than they were the corresponding week a year previous. The increase in value per cwt. of hogs to the farmer from week to week when both price and hog processing tax proceeds are included, has ranged from 30 to 76 percent over one year previous. Proceeds from the processing tax are used to make benefit payments to those farmers who cooperate in the hog adjustment program. The benefit payments are in addition to returns producers receive from the sale of their hogs.

Prices Improved

In addition to these programs for basic commodities, marketing agreements are including a large number of farmers within the benefits of the Act. There are 22 such agreements, covering special crops, including fruits and vegetables, which are increasing prices and stabilizing markets for over 740,000 growers. Cling peach growers of California received an income of $5,000,000 for their 1933 crop as compared with $906,000 in 1932. This improvement is attributed to a marketing agreement under which stability was created. California Tokay grape growers, under a marketing agreement providing for proration of shipments, benefited to the extent of approximately a half million dollars. Likewise the California walnut industry has benefited between two and three million dollars by the marketing agreement under which the 1933 crop was marketed. According to Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers association, this was $1,000,000 more than anticipated.

Operation of a national citrus fruit stabilization program has been made possible with approval of Secretary Wallace. Proration of shipments are provided for which regulate the supply to market. Shippers are under license which makes it mandatory for them to observe allotments.

Growers, generally, favor the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and look upon it as the vehicle whereby producers can, through cooperative endeavor, adjust production to effective market demand. After a year under the individual allotment plan, cotton growers, when asked concerning their attitude toward a more stringent production control program, voiced almost unanimous approval. This has resulted in the passage of the Bankhead Act by congress and signed April 21st by the President, which assigns state allotments of the number of bales of cotton which producers in each state may grow and market tax free. Only ten million 500 pound bales may be harvested in the United States during the crop year 1934-35 and marketed exempt from the tax. State allotments are on the basis of average production for the five years 1928-32 inclusive. County allotments will be made by breaking down the state allotments on the basis of past production. County production control associations will be utilized in making and adjusting individual allotments. Cotton produced in excess of the allotment will be taxed 50 percent of the market value of cotton, for which no exemption certificate has been issued.

This form of regulated production is the longest step yet taken toward adjusting production to domestic demand. It will eliminate a great deal of speculation in the marketing of farm crops and will remove a great deal of uncertainty in the mind of the grower as to what the crop returns are to be. A new value will be created for the established farm property which is the right to produce a crop based on past performances. Thus established property values will not be wiped away through the development of new properties producing a product for which there is no established demand. The dairy industry in Southern California developed such a plan of operation over two years ago under voluntary observance. It has not proven successful because of the non-cooperative attitude of a minority. With authority for adequate supervision the plan is thought workable.

A feature of the benefit payment plan which has not been mentioned is that through it the grower is assured a return on a certain percentage of his crop even though none is produced. This in the event of a crop failure due to adverse weather conditions amounts to crop insurance.

New Booklets On Santa Ana Will Be Issued Soon

In the near future, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will issue 3000 new booklets, entitled "Membership Roster and Key to Santa Ana," it was announced today by Secretary George A. Raymer.

These booklets, the secretary said, will give definite details concerning the social, civic and political structure of the city, and will include a great deal of general information concerning this area.

In the membership roster division of the new booklet will be listed members of the chamber of commerce, who will be urged to support each other.

An appeal for aid in compiling the new booklet was made by Secretary Raymer, who desires that all persons who have information of general interest to the public which could be included in a small booklet, to so inform him.

The chamber of commerce wishes to list all the churches of Santa Ana, together with the addresses and names of pastors; clubs of general interest to the public, place of meeting, date of meeting, names of presidents and secretaries, their addresses and telephone numbers, the same data for fraternal organizations and other groups.

Crowds Throng County Beaches For 4th Celebrations

DISPLAYS OF FIREWORKS ON PIERS PLEASE

Thousands of persons flocked to Orange county's beaches yesterday to observe the Fourth of July and to watch the brilliant displays of fireworks which were staged from the Huntington Beach and Balboa piers last night.

Crowds at Huntington Beach, where the Fourth of July celebration was combined with the Fiesta De La Plata, were the largest in the history of the city. It was estimated that more than 25,000 visitors enjoyed the program during the day and evening.

The big parade, which was two miles long got under way at 11 a. m. Horse lovers of the county, with the El Rodeo club taking the lead, put 200 horses in the parade. Some of California's finest show horses were included. Walter Lamb's palamino pair won first prize. John Wagner of Placentia showed a pair of pinto mates that carried saddles and equipment valued at thousands of dollars.

In the decorated auto division, flower-decked cars vied for ribbons, with the Marinello beauty shop, owned by Mrs. Ruth Stricklin, capturing first prize. Lyndon Wells' individual entry took second prize and the Legion Auxiliary took third.

A float decorated with thousands of Shasta daisies entered by the Epworth league won the plaudits of the crowd, as did a float of George Farquhar, with Miss Dorothy Quiggle riding a surf board.

Martial Music

Marching units in the parade providing martial music included the boys' and girls' band of South Gate, the Long Beach Elks drum and bugle corps representing Santa Ana Elks, the Legion drum and bugle corps, the Spanish War Veterans' drum and bugle corps, the Compton Elks band and the Huntington Beach Mpuicipal band.

Japanese floats in the parade were given a special section. Grand Marshal John H. Marion led the parade, riding a decorated horse and wearing a Spanish costume. A historical feature of the parade was Ed Manning, first mayor of Huntington Beach, and C. H. Howard, first councilman, riding in a 1904 Ford car.

Japanese residents of the county entertained at the beach in the afternoon with a program of wrestling matches, followed by Japanese girls in native dances.

The bathing beauty parade in the afternoon drew about 30 girls in the competition for prizes. Miss Gwendolyn Swift, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swift, of Huntington Beach, won first prize. Miss Helen Rhyerd, of the same city, took second place.

In the fancy dress costume prize for bathing beauties, Miss Shirley Morse, of Huntington Beach, won first prize. The swim around the pier in the afternoon was won by Ralph Wilson, of Huntington Beach, with Gordon Stein second and Will Farquhar third.

The horse show and races took place at the ball park in the afternoon. Miss Edith Brush won first prize for the women's plain Western outfit. Clint Brush took the men's prize for the same class. Jean Brush took first for girl's pony outfit and the second prize went to Phyllis Brush. Standing room was at a premium at the horse events.

Queen Crowned

Crowning of the queen of the festival took place at night from the street band stand. Miss Jean Baldwin was crowned queen by Senator N. T. Edwards. A court of beautiful girls acted as her escort. Mayor T. B. Talbert introduced the queen and also Senator Edwards.

The Fiesta De La Plata program closed with a two-hour display of fireworks at night and street dancing. Roy F. Patrick was in charge of the fireworks display, while the pioneer group conducted one dance and the other was conducted by city firemen. Pioneers enjoyed a picnic dinner at the home of Mayor Talbert in the afternoon.

Harbor Events

Thousands of pleasure-seekers thronged to Newport Beach and Balboa for a celebration which culminated in a gigantic fireworks display from the Balboa pier at 8 p. m. It was estimated that about 5000 lined the boardwalks and streets leading to the pier to watch the pyrotechnic display, which last for well over an hour besides thousands who parked their cars on the bluffs over the bay to watch the fireworks display, or were camped about the strand.

In the afternoon Epic clubs of Southern California met at Newport for a mass gathering and picnic, with Harry Gerhart, in charge of arrangements, estimated attracted a crowd of approximately 400, from 10 Epic clubs in the vicinity. Walter Heiser, World war veteran and Sinclair-for-governor organizer in Southern California, headed the list of speakers. Heiser outlined the policies of Sinclair's campaign platform to a crowd gathered in the Newport plaza.

Herbert F. Kenny, Santa Ana, Democratic candidate for assemblyman from the seventy-Orange, candidate for assemblyman from the seventy-fifth district, also fourth district, and C. R. Allen, spoke.

Yacht Races

Earlier in the day the Fourth of July snowbird yachting races, from the Newport Yacht club, claimed the attention of crowds on the beach. The Osprey, piloted by D. Wigley, for the third consecutive day captured first place, followed by J. Daniell, in the Surfbird, and B. Ford in the Puffin. The Dove, Tahee, Blackbird and Albatross II also participated.

Races in the star class were won by Fred Lyons, in the Vela, in four hours, 40 minutes, and 20 seconds. He was followed by Bart Miller in the Inspiration, Foster Sampson in the West Wind, Worth Dickey in the Vega II, H. Ingersoll in the Tempe, and K. Simpson in the Speed Star, in that order.

HELD FOR TRIAL ON DRIVING COUNT

Ralph W. Moon, 32, 823 North Birch street, was bound over to the superior court on drunken driving charges when he appeared in justice court Tuesday.

Moon was arrested by California Highway Patrolman George Stinson on June 24 at Delhi road and South Main street, after Moon's car had struck another machine. Stinson and Dr. Robert S. Wade were called to testify against Moon at the hearing.

Bail was fixed at $500 by Judge Kenneth Morrison.

County Historical Society To Hold Picnic Saturday

Members of the Orange County Historical Society will meet Saturday at 1 p. m. for a basket picnic lunch at Commonwealth Park, in Fullerton, it was announced today by S. M. Davis, secretary.

The welcoming address will be made by W. L. Hale, mayor of Fullerton. Addresses will be made by George H. Amerige and others, it was announced. Those who desire transportation should telephone Dr. C. D. Ball, president, at 63.

COLLECTION OF RARE INDIAN RELICS ATTRACTS ATTENTION; MAY BE HOUSED AT MISSION

An extensive collectino of rare Indian relics accumulated over a period of 40 years, may soon be established at San Juan Capistrano mission, it was indicated today by William P. Magee, rancher living on the Pala highway back of the Santa Margarita Rancho, whose collection is attracting national attention.

"I have long felt that the Mission is the proper place for the display of early California relics," said Magee today "and between myself, Frank Forster, and others I believe we could make a very creditable display."

Magee recently received reports of an extensive early-day Indian settlement on Saddleback, near the new road, and will explore the ruins there for additional relics in the near future.

Many rare stone utensils and implements used by the Indians in preparing food, playing games, and hunting, gathered by Magee at the old reservation above Bell canyon, and an ancient village of the Oak Dwellers near San Luis Rey, and other portions of the back country of Orange and San Diego counties, are on display at his picturesque ranch home.

In these villages of an ancient civilization inhabited long before America was discovered, Magee has found evidences of activities long forgotten.

Among the rarest of his finds are three cog stones, about four inches across and similar to a cog wheel, only a half dozen of which are known to be in existence, the others being in the Smithsonian institute.

"These cog stones are so old that no one knows what they might have been used for" said Magee today. "I have asked thousands of Indians about them but have been unable to find for what purpose they were used.

"S. C. Evans, former mayor of Riverside, was also a collector and claimed to know what the cog stones were used for and planned to tell the story in a book he was writing at the time of his death. The secret died with him. I have been trying to get in touch with Mr. Harrington, of the Smithsonian institute, hoping that he would be able to complete the book."

The ancient Indian village in the San Luis Rey valley covered many acres, Magee's explorations discovered, and was marked by burned rocks and soil where the camp fires had been built. He found many implements scattered about the great circle, picking up a crescent grinder, the first of its type on record, so far as can be learned; the cog stones, a stone for heating water; arrow heads of obsidian, and other articles.

The ancient tribe, according to what information Magee had been able to obtain from present day Indians, were known as the "Old People" or "Viejos." They were also called the Oak Dwellers because they lived in the oak forests and depended much upon acorns for food.

SPRAY METHODS TO BE SHOWN NEXT MONDAY

Two spray demonstration meetings will be held next Monday, July 9, in Orange county for operators and owners of spray equipment to show how to secure the maximum efficiency in the operation of spray machines, according to announcement from the farm adviser's office. The demonstrations are sponsored by the agricultural extension service and agricultural commissioner's office to present recent technical information that bears on efficient management of equipment and methods of application.

J. P. Fairbank, extension specialist in agricultural engineering, University of California, will discuss management of spray equipment and have charge of the mechanical demonstration. Regulations governing spray operations in Southern California counties will be discussed by Roy Black, deputy agricultural commissioner. Climatic and time factors afffecting spray applications will be reviewed by R. K. Bishop, spray inspector. These discussions and demonstrations will be of special interest to spray foremen, operators and citrus growers who operate their own outfits.

In holding these demonstrations, Farm Adviser Harold E. Wahlberg says the sponsoring agencies do not advocate oil sprays as the method of citrus pest control, but merely provide an opportunity to discuss efficiency of application when and where this method is used.

The schedule of demonstrations is announced as follows:

Monday, July 9, 9 a. m.—Holmes Bishop orchard, Fairhaven avenue near Grand avenue, south and east of Orange.

Scout Camp Conditions Given Okay

Sanitary conditions at Camp Rokill, Orange county Boy Scout camp in the San Bernardino mountains, are perfect, according to W. W. Chandler, chief inspector, and E. E. Frisby, sanitary inspector, of the Orange county health department, who have finished a complete sanitary survey of the mountain camp.

Harrison E. White, county Scout executive, expressed considerable gratification over the 100 per cent rating given the camp by the health department inspectors, pointing out that the camp probably is as healthy a place for young boys to be during the summer as any place that could be found.

Trucks leave every Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock from local Scout headquarters, taking boys to camp. Any boy 12 years of age, whether or not he is a Boy Scout, may enter camp provided he obeys the rules of scouting.

Two special periods, beginning July 18, will be held expressly for boys of cub age, 9 to 11, inclusive. Special care and attention will be given these younger boys, and all activities will be supervised by a designated leader.

The camp periods, according to schedule, will end the week of July 25 to August 1.

INSTRUCTION MEET TO BE HELD BY P.-T. A.

Plans for a school of instruction for new officers and chairmen of all city units were formulated at the executive board meeting of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers held Tuesday at the city school administration building. August 7 was selected as the date for the meeting, for which Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, council president, and Mrs. Barry McPhee, program chairman, are completing arrangements.

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson explained the proposed initiative measure that is designed to reorganize the state board of education. This measure would make membership of the state board elective and stipulate that the election of the 10 members should be from designated districts. It would also give the board authority to appoint the state superintendent of schools.

Two new council chairmen, Lyle Mitchell, legislative chairman, and Mrs. Max Holmes, health chairman, called attention to the film estimates appearing weekly in The Register and suggested that local motion picture chairmen file them for future reference.

Considering it desirable to retain Tuesday as Parent-Teacher day in Santa Ana, the council has requested all elementary associations to change their meeting dates to the third Tuesday. The proposed schedule will be the council, the first Tuesday, high school and junior college the second Tuesday, elementary schools, the third Tuesday, and Junior high schools, the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Santa Ana Girl Wedded At Stanford Memorial Chapel

Stanford University is playing a prominent part in the romance of Miss Emalena Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Richards, 816 French street, and Hugh Harris Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Anderson, 400 North Mentor, Pasadena, who were married Saturday, June 30, in Stanford Memorial chapel.

After a honeymoon stay at Carmel, the bride and bridegroom will return to the University campus to make their home for the remainder of the summer. Mr. Anderson received his degree from the University as a member of this year's graduating class.

Santa Anans going to Palo Alto for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Richards and son and daughters, Malcolm Richards and the Misses Evelyn and Helen Richards and Mr. and Mrs. James Richards.

Officiating minister was the Rev. Paul Offenhiser, pastor of Palo Alto First Baptist church, reading the service at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. The chancel was decorated with ferns and shell pink gladioluses, unusually lovely in the glow of cathedral candles rising from candelabra. Harry Allen, university organist, played appropriate selections preceding the ceremony, including Lohengrin's Wedding March as a processional.

The slender young bride was very lovely in a blue net gown worn over matching taffeta. She wore a net turban with shoulder veil whose folds were caught by a cluster of orange blossoms. Her flowers were bride's roses in a very delicate tint of pink.

Her sister, Miss Helen Richards, was maid of honor, wearing floral crepe with a blue jacket. Instead of a hat she wore a pretty coronet. She carried a bouquet of orchid sweet peas and yellow roses. Austin C. Barker, college friend of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride and bridegroom paused in the chapel reception hall for congratulations. Mr. Anderson has a position with the American Trust company at Burlingame. In September, he and his bride plan to go to Washington, D. C., where he will enter George Washington University to study international law.

Guests at the wedding included college friends of Mr. Anderson, in addition to Southland relatives and friends making the trip north for the event. In addition to the group from Santa Ana were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson and daughters, the Misses Caroline and Geraldine Anderson, Mrs. Walter Richards Mr. and Mrs. Ross Anderson, Mrs. John Henry and Miss Barbara Harris, all of Pasadena.

The new Mrs. Anderson has a host of friends in this community, where as a talented violinist she has been especially prominent in musical circles. She is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and Junior college.

Yesterday a clever kitchen was described. Today's story is about the clever utilization of well space in the dining room of that same house and the treatment of wall surface and wood trim.

As in the kitchen the four corners of the dining room were made into glass doored corner cupboards, lined with a warm banana shade. A recess in one wall was mirrored for a long buffet, and underneath were drawers of various sizes. The balance of the walls had the appearance of being beautifully paneled, while actually the paneling concealed cupboards, the doors doorpulls flush in the wood, simulating panels, the ring

The finish had a mottled antique look which was most fascinating. I was told that a dark creamy lacquer had been brushed, not flowed mind you, over the filler, the brush strokes showing, and over this went a semi-dark glaze which I think might have been a colored shellac. Whatever it was, it made a lovely room. The floors were carpeted to the walls with a dark wine velvet carpet. The brown mahogany dining table on this carpet, against the creamy walls, made a lovely room.

Today's Recipes

Hamburg Cream in Sponge Cake Forms

1 cup sugar
Juice and rind of 2 large lemons
8 egg yolks
8 egg whites, beaten dry

Grate the lemon rind into the sugar, add the lemon juice and egg yolks and beat until foamy. Strain into a double boiler, set over hot water, and stir until cooked to a creamy sauce. Pour over the stiffly beaten whites and chill. Make a sponge form cake, or scoop the center out of 2 sponge layers and pile full with the Hamburg cream, well chilled.

• • •

The lemon cream part has 1580 calories, the sponge forms a possible value of 1000 calories: the quantity serves 12-15.

• • •

Lemon Sponge Cups

1 cup sugar
2 Tbsps. butter
3 eggs
1 1-2 cups milk
5 Tbsps. lemon juice
Grated rind of 1 lemon
4 level Tbsps. flour
Pinch of salt.

Cream butter. Add sugar, flour, salt, lemon juice and grated rind. Stir in the egg yolks beaten with the milk. Add the stiffly beaten whites, cutting them thoroughly into the mixture.

Butter custard cups, fill cups 2-3 full, set them in a pan of hot water and bake 30 minutes in a medium oven, protecting the top with paper as soon as the tops brown. When done, each cup will contain a hot custard in the bottom and sponge cake on top. The pudding is served hot, with a spoonful of fluffed cream. Twelve puddings valued at 130 each.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Dargatz are well on their way to Chicago on a honeymoon trip following their marriage of Sunday, July 1 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Braden, 1502 West Sixth street.

Miss Neva Braden became the bride of Mr. Dargatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dargatz of Anaheim at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with the bridegroom's brother-in-law, the Rev. Howard A. Greene, of Anaheim, officiating. Ferns and flowers banked the fireplace where the double-ring ceremony was read by the light of many tapers.

Miss Ruth La Londe sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Holly, who remained at the piano for Lohengrin's Wedding March.

Miss Braden made a most attractive bride in her gown of white satin, worn with a tulle veil caught with fragrant orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of roses, white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Colleen Braden, was maid of honor, wearing green organdy and carrying pink sweet peas.

Mrs. L. W. Corning (Neva Braden) twin sister of the bride, was a pretty attendant in her dress of coral georgette, with which she carried orchid sweet peas. Little Miss Evelyn Wyckoff, flower girl, wore pink georgette. Master Buddy Braden, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer, wearing a white linen suit with white shoes. Bert Brackman of Anaheim, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and Roy Gregg of Orange was usher.

Mrs. A. F. Braden wore blue and Mrs. Otto Dargatz pink crepe, both with corsage bouquets of gardenias. Wedding cake was served during a reception which followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dargatz left for Chicago to attend the Exposition and to visit with relatives. For traveling, the new Mrs. Dargatz donned a navy blue ensemble with white accessories. On their return, the young people will take up residence in Anaheim.

Miss Dorothy Rossiter And Francis I. Bice Wedded in Yuma

The marriage on Monday, July 2, in Yuma, Ariz., of Miss Dorothy W. Rossiter of Orange and Francis L. Bice of Santa Ana was the happy culmination of a romance of school days when Miss Rossiter attended Orange Union High school and Mr. Bice attended Tustin, each graduating from their respective schools.

Mr. Bice is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bice, 620 East St. Gertrude Place, and his bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. A. Rossiter of 1147 East Chapman avenue, Orange. After her completion of high school she attended Santa Ana Junior college, graduating with this year's class.

The young couple motored to the little Arizona city and were unattended at their quiet wedding, conducted by the Rev. Father Lopez of the Yuma Catholic church. After dispatching telegrams to their waiting parents in this community, they continued on their trip, having planned a honeymoon at Lake Wenatchee and at points in Oregon and Washington.

They will return to the Southland shortly after the middle of July and Santa Ana friends are hoping that they will decide to make their home in this city where Mr. Bice is in the produce business with Elmer Prince.

YOU and your Friends

Miss Myrtle Graham, 1814 Spurgeon street and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Graham and son, Henry, 946 West Pine street, left Wednesday morning for the east. Miss Graham will go to New York City to become the bride of Luther V. Delaney. Mr. and Mrs. Graham and their son plan to visit in Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker, Yorba street, Tustin, left today for an extended trip by automobile. They plan to stop at Yellowstone National Park and other scenic points, continuing to Chicago. At Rochester, N. Y., they will attend the G. A. R. convention scheduled for the week of August 12.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harp and daughter, Miss Rosemary Harp, have moved from 614 West Sixth street to 419 West Washington avenue.

Mrs. Emma Miller, Mrs. Dora Damerest and Mrs. Ella Bridenstine took part in a luncheon held this week in the home of Mrs. Grace Lanning, 403 South Broadway. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Damerest planned the affair in compliment to Mrs. Lanning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Floyd Croddy who left for St. Catherine's, Catalina Island, immediately after their wedding of Saturday, June 30, returned last night to this city and are domiciled at La Hacienda apartments, 1420 North Broadway. Mrs. Croddy was Miss Maurine Mathes.

Ernest S. Ranniger, 1532 West Washington avenue, has been a guest while on a business trip to New York City, at Hotel Lincoln of the eastern metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Olin of Taft, Calif., have announced the birth on Wednesday, June 27, of a little daughter to Mrs. Olin, formerly Miss Dorothy Deck, daughter of the S. E. Decks of Santa Ana and Buttonwillow. The little daughter will be christened Roberta Louise Olin.

Mrs. J. C. James and small son, Jack, 1725 Valencia avenue, returned Tuesday morning from a few days' stay in Arizona, accompanied home by their son and brother, Fred James, who had been attending high school in Tempe, Ariz., for the past term. He made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Botkin.

W. Paul Johnson, whose work keeps him in Modesto, is spending this week with Mrs. Johnson at their home, 1027 Kilson drive.

Concluding a few days' stay in this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Manning, 729 South Broadway, Mrs. E. A. Parker returned early this week to her home in San Diego. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Ethel Mae Manning, who will remain for a week's visit.

Miss Florence M. Bagley, 1908 Valencia avenue, has gone with a motoring party to Lake George, N. Y., planning to return home late in August or early in September. During the summer she will visit relatives and friends in New England, New York City and Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Edward Green and daughter and son, Murial and Billy, 905 West Washington avenue, and Miss Marguerite Haskell, 314 East Santa Clara avenue spent several days recently at Big Bear.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Haskell and sons and daughters, Clifford, Norman and the Misses Grace and Marguerite Haskell, 314 East Santa Clara avenue, accompanied by James Downey and Ray Bales, were at Forest Home over the holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Haskell and their family were dinner guests early this week of Modesto residents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reinhart and sons, Donald and Carl, at Newport Beach, where they are spending their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lupton were hosts at a holiday picnic yesterday in their ranch home at Costa Mesa. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Ludlow, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Higgins and son Gordon, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Leavitt, Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Higgins, Orange; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Ludlow, Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. M. Woods, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Mead and sons, Donald and Rodney, and Catherine Fellows arrived last night on the President Hoover from Shanghai, China, where Mr. Mead has been employed with the Standard Oil company for several years. He is on a six months' vacation which he and his family will spend at East Newport. They were welcomed at the harbor last night by Frank Plavan, Miss Wilma Plavan, Miss Mildred Mead and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hill and daughters and son, Betty, Marjorie and John William Hill, spent yesterday at Sunset Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill and daughters, Geraldine, Virginia and Eleanor, of Whittier, who have taken a cottage at Sunset Beach for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hill and son, Herbert jr. of Whittier spent yesterday with Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hales, 1629 West Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hein, with their sons, James and Donald Hein, were hosts last night at a buffet supper in their home on Ball road near Anaheim. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Beamer, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wellington, Miss Mary Catherine Freeman and Gilbert Myers, Santa Ana; Miss Esteline Price, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Beamer and daughter and son, Thelma and Junior Beamer, and Kenneth Brownmeller, Whittier.

Church Board Gives Farewell Dinner For Couple

Shared by Calvary church board members and their wives, a party held last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gall, 1338 West Ninth street, came as a farewell compliment to Mr. and Mrs Ralph Bower of Garden Grove, who left today for Idaho where they will make their home. Mr. Bower has been a member of the board.

Tables were set outdoors beneath large walnut trees for a covered dish dinner served at 6 o'clock. Bouquets of scabiosa served as decorations. After a session of games, the group adjourned indoors for additional entertainment.

Group singing was enjoyed, with Mrs. Frank E. Lindgren at the piano. On behalf of the group, the Rev. Mr. Lindgren presented Mr. and Mrs. Bower with a parting gift, a book by Dr. Lewis Sperry Chaser.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. Lingren and son Frank, Messrs. and Mesdames Ralph Bower, G. C. Bower, William Breckenridge, Eugene Griset, W. E. Cowan, Ralph Haines, L. J. Gall, Mrs. Emma Clelland, Mrs. Cynthia Alger, Mrs. P. R. Struck, A. R. Marshall, E. Van Engen, this community, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bower of Hollywood.

Pretty Setting Given Late June Wedding In Little Chapel

It was exactly a week ago today, Thursday, June 28, that Miss Edna Hearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hearn, 1214 South Broadway, and Duane L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Smith, 802 East Sixth street, exchanged wedding vows in the chapel of Wilshire M. E. church, Los Angeles.

The young people are now honeymooning through northern California, and their relatives and close friends are anticipating their return at an early date to the attractively fitted home awaiting them at 1249 Huntley Drive, Los Angeles.

The chapel of Wilshire church has a quaint old-world charm heightened by the large basket of mingled pink gladioluses and blue delphinium which stood between the tall altar candles where the rites were read. The Rev. Dr. Willsie Martin conducted the 4 o'clock rites after a short organ recital. Miss Aletha Turner was organist and played among other selections, two of the bride's favorites, Rubenstein's "Kamennoi Ostrow," and the "Barcarolle" from "Tales of Hoffmann" by Offenbach. During the ceremony, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" were played softly with beautiful chime effects.

Miss Hearn had chosen delicate pink organza for her gown, wearing with it a corsage bouquet of white gladioluses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. Melvin Maxwell as honor matron, gowned in yellow chiffon worn with a corsage of flowers in the same color combined with blue. Melvin Maxwell assisted Mr. Smith as best man and Messrs. Carl Doss and Ivan Scott ushered.

A hundred or more guests attended the wedding which was followed by a reception for the relatives and a few close friends at the Mona Lisa. Receiving with the new Mr. and Mrs. Duane Smith were the parents of both, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hearn, and Mr. Smith's grandmother, Mrs. R. E. Henderson, who came from Stockton especially for the wedding. She was dignified and charming in blue and white georgette worn with a corsage bouquet sent her by her grandson. Mr. Smith also sent flowers to the two mothers, to harmonize with their costumes, powder blue crepe worn by Mrs. Hearn and Mrs. Smith in ashes of roses.

Refreshments served included the beautiful bride's cake and favors were slices of wedding cake, wrapped in white and silver and distributed by Miss Betty Houston, sorority sister of the bride.

Mr. Smith has been with the Safeway company ever since his graduation from Santa Ana High school and is now manager of one of the Los Angeles stores. His bride followed completion of Santa Ana school course with attendance at U. C. L. A. where she graduated with the class of 1928. She has taught in Santa Ana schools since completion of college.

NO, NOT A CAPE . . . SOMETHING MORE CLEVER!

PATTERN 1858

BY ANNE ADAMS

You're wrong . . . it is not a cape! But something much easier to make, and everybody else is going to be fooled just as you were . . . that's the clever thing about it! It is a sort of glorified yoke which develops into shoulder caps and is frilled all round the edge. You may make the frills of anything you like . . . lace, or net, or the fabric of the frock, and anyway you do them they are devastatingly feminine! Watch their effect on the first friend you meet . . . and all the others thereafter! The frilled and twisted belt-ends add extra chic to the whole pretty business!

Pattern 1858 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 1-4 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the Summer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the NEW ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK FOR SUMMER. ORDER YOUR COPY OF THIS HELPFUL NEW SUMMER BOOK. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

RUBY REBEKAHS HOLD BROTHERS NIGHT PROGRAM

ORANGE, July 5. — Brothers' night was observed at the regular meeting of the Ruby Rebekah lodge Monday evening in I. O. O. F. hall. The program for the evening was in charge of Edward Noonan. Tables were laid for "500" and pinochle, with Mrs. Mertie Kingsley, Mrs. Eva Scutt, J. W. Bomboy and Clarence Snyder winning prizes in "500" and Mrs. Marjorie Luth, Mrs. Mary Edwards, R. M. Swenson, and George Andrich winning prizes in pinochle.

Preceding the card games, a business session was held during which time Mrs. Ina Cope, noble grand, announced that a special installation service would take place July 16. An invitation was read from the Acacia lodge of Huntington Beach to attend installation July 12, at which time Mrs. Jessica Fournier, president of the Rebekah assembly, will pay her official visit.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served in the banquet room by Sylvester Morrow and his committee.

SEW FOR NEEDY

ORANGE, July 5.—Sewing on various articles of clothing to be distributed among the needy in Orange, occupied the attention of the Alice Lewis Guild of the Presbyterian church in the church parlors Monday night. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Vern Estes, president.

Members present included Mrs. Vern Estes, Mrs. L. R. Doncaster, Mrs. C. E. Wood, Mrs. Seth Tibbetts, Mrs. W. G. Carpenter, Mrs. J. T. McInnis, Mrs. E. J. Campbell and Mrs. Edwin Westcott.

HOLD PROGRAM AT SESSION OF CHURCH GUILD

ORANGE, July 5.—"Our Yesterday" was the interesting topic discussed at a meeting of the Bertha Epley guild of the First Christian church Monday evening in the church parlors. The program was in charge of Mrs. C. Windbigler. An interesting paper on "Recollection" was read by Mrs. D. McCracken, following which a skit, "Whom We Desire to Honor," was presented by Mrs. Miral Crane, Mrs. Madge Koger, Mrs. Lola Ditchey and Mrs. Grace Deck.

Two vola duets, "The Love of Christ Constraineth Me," and "Speak, My Lord," were sung by Mrs. Leon Des Larzes and Mrs. Mae Burkett. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Neleta Wolfe. A violin duet, "The Old Spinning Wheel," was played by Miss Lola June Ditchey and Miss Marie Kast. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dola Ditchey.

During a short business meeting in charge of the new president, Mrs. Eva Atherton, plans for the coming convention of Christian churches in Southern California in Long Beach, July 23-29 were discussed. Delegates will be elected at the next meeting. Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Franklin Minck.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Windbigler and her committee.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Loring White and small son, Duane, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford White spent Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. E. White, who are spending a few days in Newport Beach.

Miss Lulu Thornburg, assisted by her brothers, C. W. and Oliver Thornburg, was hostess Tuesday at a dinner party held at their ranch home near Olive. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thornburg of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schwoob and son Billie, of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nuckols of Anaheim, and Larry and Stephen Thornburg of Pasadena.

Mrs. Essie Rodgers spent Wednesday visiting friends at San Juan Capistrano.

Marvin Wagner, a member of the CCC camp at San Juan Capistrano, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wagner of North Glassell street, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith of Los Angeles, were Orange visitors this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDanel and son, Norman Duane, of Corona, were recent guests in the home of Mr. McDanel's mother, Mrs. Martha McDanel of South Olive street.

Miss Dorothy Raney spent Wednesday visiting friends in Idyllwild.

Miss Rachel Ann Thompson of Los Angeles was a guest of Mrs. Laura Bowen of East Almond avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hessell were hosts at an attractively appointed dinner party Wednesday at their home on South Batavia street. Among their guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hessel and son Lloyd of Glendale.

Miss Etta Weaver of Los Angeles was a recent visitor in Orange.

Mrs. Courtney Angeline of 273 South Lemon street, who recently returned from a 10-day vacation trip to Highland, had as her guests at her home Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berry, Mrs. Arthur Bysshe and son, Bert, all of Long Beach.

Miss Marjorie Louise Smith, of Portland, Ore., who has been spending the past few days as a guest of Mrs. Wayne Davis, has returned to Los Angeles, where she is being entertained by relatives before returning to her home.

Miss Sally Ann Joost, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joost, 832 North Glassell street, is reported as getting along nicely, following a minor operation performed early Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison of the Santa Ana canyon spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison and daughter, Miss Hazel, of Redlands. Miss Ethel Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison, is spending part of the summer as a guest in the J. W. Harrison home.

Firemen, Police Have Quiet Day

FULLERTON, July 5.—Fourth of July paesed quietly in Fullerton with no serious automobile accidents reported at police headquarters and but one fire call.

The fire department answered a call where grass was burning around an electric pole, between Commonwealth and Zemrige avenues, on Highland, evidently ignited by a firecracker or match.

FORUM TO HOLD STEAK BAKE AT PARK JULY 16

ORANGE, July 5.—Plans for a picnic and steak bake to be held at Irvine park July 16 were made at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Young Women's forum Monday evening at the home of Miss Levora Raney. Miss Catherine Frankforther and Miss Louise Dews were appointed by Miss Marion Garber, forum chairman, to be in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Following routine business, tables were laid for various card games. Tallies made by Miss Lavinia Compton cleverly emphasized a patriotic theme. An interpretative reading, "The Waltz," by Dorothy Parker, was read by Miss Shirley Haynes.

At a late hour dainty open sandwiches and punch were served to the following members and friends: Miss Eileen McCollum, Miss Ruth Brubaker, Miss Lilah Erbentraut, Miss Mildred Binkley, Miss Marian Garber, Miss Muriel Anderson, Miss Lavinia Compton, Mrs. Frances Harper Davis, Mrs. Vernell Butler Chastain, Miss Dulcie Green, Miss Dorothy Bartley, Miss Catherine Frankforther, Miss Louise Dews, Miss Frances Dews, Miss Shirley Haynes, Miss Caryl Harper, Miss Helen Lush, Miss Mary Kay Lowrey, Miss Clara Frazier, Miss Billie Muffleman, Miss Dorothy Raney and the hostess, Miss Levora Raney.

FAYE KILGORE AND JOHN TERRY MARRY

ORANGE, July 5.—Miss Faye Kilgore, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kilgore, 393 North Shaffer street, and John Terry, of Fullerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Terry, of Los Angeles, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the parsonage of the First Methodist church.

The bride, lovely in a pale blue crepe dress, with which she wore a corsage of white sweet peas, was attended by Miss Etta Weaver, of Los Angeles. Harry M. House, also of Los Angeles, assisted Mr. Terry as best man. The single ring ceremony was read by Dr. James Edwin Dunning, pastor of the Methodist church.

At the end of the week, the young couple will be at home to their friends at 130 South Yale street, Fullerton. Mr. Terry is employed by the Roberts Chevrolet company in Fullerton.

JOHN C. McDONALD CALLED BY DEATH

ORANGE, July 5.—Death came late Tuesday afternoon to John C. McDonald, rancher of West Chapman avenue, at the age of 73. He was a native of Caledonia, Wis., and had lived in this vicinity for the past 24 years.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Brown and Mrs. J. E. Parker, both of Orange, and a brother, Glenn McDonald, of Phillips, Wis.

Funeral services will be held at the Coffey funeral parlors Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay in charge. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR SANTIAGO PARK

ORANGE, July 5.—Further extensive improvements in the new Orange city park on South Glassell street at the Santiago creek are contemplated under the SERA work relief program, which local officials expect to get under way within a few days. Submission of the projects, which would provide work for 75 men, has been made by the city council.

Erection of a camp kitchen and preparation of picnic grounds in the southwest section of the park are among the initial improvements contemplated. Twenty-five tables, with seating capacity of 250, will be provided. Possibly a lawn may be planted over a large portion of the park. The improvements contemplate an expenditure of $1600 by the city for the materials, with all labor being provided through the SERA.

Churches Arrange Union Service For Next Sunday Night

ORANGE, July 5.—"Following the Highway," will be the topic of a sermon to be delivered by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at the second of a series of union services in the First Methodist church Sunday evening.

Music for the service will be in chrge of the Presbyterian choir, under the direction of Percy Green. A tenor solo, "The Holy City," by Adams, will be sung by Vern Estes. The choir will sing "O Lord Remember Me," by Caro Romo. Piano selections will be played by Percy Green.

Mrs. Ray Krueger Entertains Club

ORANGE, July 5.—Lovely in its appointments was the bridge luncheon given this week by Mrs. Ray Krueger jr., of North Glassell street, when she entertained a small club to which she belongs. A color scheme of pink and blue was carried out at the luncheon table.

Afternoon hours were spent playing contract bridge, with Mrs. Ted Hanson, of San Clemente, winning high score.

Mrs. Ted Hanson will be hostess at the next meeting of the club, to be held July 26.

MISS GENDAR BECOMES BRIDE OF H. M. BASTEN

PLACENTIA, July 5. — Miss Frances Gendar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gendar, of Tonner canyon, and Howard M. Basten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evjon Basten, of Pomona, were married on July 1 when the Rev. D. J. Brigham of the Placentia Presbyterian church read the single ring ceremony before more than 100 invited guests and relatives at the Placentia Presbyterian church. Both young people with their families are former Placentia residents.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a long white satin bridal dress, with long fitted sleeves. The dress was cut on princess lines, and a long tulle veil that was held in place by a cap fastened with orange blossoms, covered the dress. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and Cecil Brunner roses. Her attendants were Miss Alberta Jaquish, of Whittier, maid of honor, and Miss Beulah Basten and Miss Ruby White, bridesmaids. Miss Jaquish wore a formal pink lace dress and carried blue delphinium and sweet peas. Miss Basten wore a peach and Miss White a blue organza dress and they carried bouquets of pastel sweet peas. Lou Ann Donahue, of Tonner canyon, wore a blue taffeta dress and carried a basket of flower petals as flower girl, while Patricia Adams, clad in a pink organdy, lighted the candles at the altar preceding the ceremony.

The best man was Alfred Basten, a brother of the bridegroom, and Edward Brigham and Willis Hasson, of Placentia, were ushers.

John Rymer, organist, played the wedding march, and for Miss Johanna Lemke, who gave a group of whistling solos preceding the wedding.

Immediately following, a reception was held at the Gendar home and after that the young couple left for a honeymoon in the San Bernardino mountains.

The young people were graduated from the Fullerton Union High school and she was graduated from the junior college, while he was graduated from Chaffee Junior college. He is employed in Placentia and they plan to make their home there when they return from the week's trip.

Cafe At Laguna To Be Enlarged

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5. — Plans for enlarging the seating capacity of the Crow's Nest Dining room, 509 Coast Boulevard, south, by building an addition to the part facing the ocean, were announced today by J. H. Gamble, organizer of a Sunday morning Breakfast club in this community.

The additional floor space, he said, is needed to accommodate an increasing number of persons attending the Sunday morning gathering. Though originally started as a Unity activity, the club will hereafter be known as the Sunday Morning Breakfast club and will be open to anyone interested in the exchange of thoughts dealing with current problems.

Laguna P. O. Receipts At KeepUpGain

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Substantial gains, reflecting not only growth of the community but also increase in business activities, are shown in figures bearing on postal receipts for the quarter ending June 30, released today by Postmaster Brayton S. Norton.

Stamp sales for the three months ending June 30, this year, totaled $4438.79, as compared to $3928.40 for the corresponding period of last year, showing a gain of $510.39, or 13 per cent. Total post receipts, including lock box rents, for the same quarter this year, aggregated $5030.50 as against $4532.06, leaving a gain of $498.44, or 11 per cent. A steady gain was also revealed in stamp sales for the month of June this year, which ran up to $1638.32 as compared to $1556.59 for the same month of 1933.

MYRTLE WINTERS TO WED RIVERSIDE MAN

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Myrtle Winters, of Anaheim, to Hubert Williamson, of Riverside, was made in a clever manner when a group of close friends assembled recently for a surprise party in observance of her birthday anniversary at the home of Miss Velda Barnes in Midway City, with Miss Lova Holt of Garden Grove as co-hostess.

After various games had been played the honoree was presented with many lovely birthday gifts. A two-course supper was served on card tables decorated in an orchid and yellow color scheme. Tall orchid tapers and rose buds centered each table. A large birthday cake decorated in the chosen color scheme was cut by Miss Winters. Favors at each place were heart shaped pin cushions with paper hearts attached bearing the names of Miss Winters and Mr. Williamson and the announcement of their marriage in October. A corsage was presented the honoree which held her engagement ring.

Miss Winters is well known in this vicinity having attended Anaheim Union High school and now employed in the county health department in Santa Ana.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes, Miss Vesta Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prior, of Garden Grove; Mrs. Helen Barnes, Vene Barnes, Miss Margaret Beatty, of Midway City and the hostesses.

Dinner Held In Buena Park Home

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Ned Johnson, of Stanton avenue were hosts Wednesday evening, entertaining with a dinner serving the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Johnson.

Patriotic decorations were used about the rooms and at the dinner table, which was centered with a bouquet of red,white and blue flowers. Blue white tapers burned in crystal holders lighting the room during the dinner, which was followed by an informal evening of cards.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hindman of Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown, of Huntington Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ramsey, of Los Angeles.

TWO RESCUED FROM SEA AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5. — Exhausted from battling a strong tide that had carried him to sea while swimming off the end of Euterpe street, Lewis Hakes, 38, of Ontario, was safely brought to shore yesterday morning by Capt. Ed Hobart and Jim Smith, members of the life guard squad, and Frederick Schwankovsky, volunteer life guard. A woman companion of Hakes, who also experienced difficulty in getting back to shore, was picked up by Schwankovsky, who went to the rescue in a rowboat.

After picking up the woman, Schwankovsky made a hard pull for the point where Hakes was making a desperate effort to keep himself from going down. Before he reached there, one of the oars broke. Without a second to lose, Schwankovsky dove into the sea and swam to the aid of the drowning man. Persons residing on the bluff, having noticed the situation, phoned the regular life guard patrol, whose prompt assistance effected the rescue.

CARD PARTY HELD BY CLUB MEMBERS

GARDEN GROVE, July 5.—The regular monthly meeting of the Monday Afternoon Star club was held in the K. of P. hall in Anaheim this week, with Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg, Mrs. Alice T. Smith and Mrs. Anna Larson as co-hostesses. At the business session announcement was made of the public garden party to be held in the form of a dessert bridge at the home of Mrs. A. C. Robbins on July 11 at 1 o'clock. All members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

The next meeting of the Star club will be held at Irvine park August 6, with a covered dish luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mae Henry is chairman of the committee in charge.

First prize in bridge was awarded to Mrs. Louise Lake, second prize went to Mrs. Letty Lee Robbins and consolation to Mrs. Mable Williams.

A refreshment course consisting of chicken salad, wafers and coffee was served at tables decorated in patriotic motif. The red, white and blue color scheme was carried out in the napkins and tiny flags which were at each place.

Those present besides the hostesses were Mesdames Emma Kearns, Ethel Schauer, Mabel Doig, Mary Clark, Mae Henry, Dorothy Jentges, Helen Woodworth, Mabel Williams and her guest, Mrs. Thomas E. Flannigan, of Oakland, Louise Lake, Emma Henry, Ann Haster, Clara Wilson, Amanza Patton, Lida Mitchell and Letty Lee Robbins.

LAGUNA BEACH SCHOOL BUDGET FOR NEW YEAR SET AT $70,491; TEACHERS GIVEN ASSIGNMENTS

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5. — Budget estimates for the maintenance and operation of the Laguna Beach schools call for a total outlay of $70,491, of which aggregate the sum of $36,720 is set aside for the new high school beginning next September, it was disclosed at the regular meeting of the local school board at the Park avenue school building.

Of the total set aside for the high school, it is proposed to spend $17,200 for teachers' salaries and $19,520 for operation expenses including the purchase of supplies, payment of gas and light bills, janitor's services, office help and other incidentals. The bidget for the elementary school calls for a total of $34,271, of which amount $20,330 will go toward the teachers' salary fund and $13,941 for general expenses.

In the matter of selecting an architect for the new building project, the board decided that it would take too much time to employ the competitive method, which, if used, would delay the bonstruction for several months. While no definite action was taken, it was indicated that the board will engage the service of Allison and Allison, Los Angeles school architects and proceed at once with the preparation of plans and specifications.

The following teacher assignments were approved by the board: High school, Paul Colburn, vice principal, shop, mechanical drawing and biology; Miss Alberta Patterson, dean of girls, English, public speaking and drama; Miss Elsie Windsor, English and library; Miss Margaret Taylor, foreign languages; Paul Jackson, commerce; Bronson Buxton, social sciences and boys' physical education; Maurice Guyer, boys' physical education, athletic coach; Miss Eleanor Youngstrom art; Miss Marion Weage, girls' physical education and home economics; John Fergerson, vocal and instrumental music, and Miss Harriet Donaldson, science and mathematics.

Grammar school, Mrs. Ruth Joujou Roche, kindergarten; Miss Marie Madden, first grade; Miss Florence Lazare, second; Mrs. Wilberta Main, third; Miss Dorothy Brickels, fourth; Mrs. Maude Fist, fifth; Miss Jean Giddings, sixth; Mrs. Marie Thurston, seventh; J. Hesslein eighth grade; Miss Ruth Walter, ungraded room; Miss Lauretta Chilton, music; and Miss Josephine Hills, orchestra. Miss Youngstrom, high school art teacher, will teach her subject in the upper grades of the grammar school. Likewise Mr. Guyer, high school athletic coach and boys' physical education teacher, will supervise the physical education training in the grammar grades, it was stated.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED BY LIONS AT MESA

COSTA MESA, July 5.—Henry Abrams was installed as president of the Lions club at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday. E. M. CHAMBER TOLD OF PLANS FOR BOND ELECTION

PLACENTIA, July 5.—Another bond election for building a high school at Placentia is to be held in August, according to a report of Louis Jacobsen, former member of Placentia Grammar school board, at the Placentia Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday noon. No official action on the election has been taken by the board of education, but action is expected at the next meeting, according to Jacobsen.

Other business at the meeting included approval of the Irwin plan of advertising Orange county manufactured goods, made after a report by Stuart Strathman. Strathman was appointed to look into the matter of Orange county having a place, under state control, where automobile licenses can be secured, following a suggestion along that line made by William Bielefeldt.

Warren Bradford agreed to enter his boat in the Tournament of lights at Newport Beach July 28, to represent Placentia Chamber of commerce. Bradford, a member of the school board, reported the board has purchased two new school busses.

Jacobsen also reported on a recent meeting at Elks club in Anaheim where Chief of Police Davis, of Los Angeles, talked on crime prevention. A report of the Elliott plan of flood control was brought by William Wallop, representative at the Associated Chambers meeting.

Placentia and the Valencia Union High school received national publicity through the Christian Science Monitor, when it carried a half-column story and a picture of Roy Tillery, the one-man graduating class of the school, Frank Rospaw reported.

Arrange Lecture At Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Program activities at the House of Tibet on Manzanita drive, nodth of the grammar school building, for this week end include a lecture by Mrs. Alice Gray Lissak, a former resident of the Orient now living here, who next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock will speak on astro bio-chemistry. Mrs. Lissak has been connected with metaphysical centers in Shanghai and Honolulu and recently in Los Angeles.

HOLD FUNERAL OF ROWLEY E. DOWNS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 5. —The funeral of Rowley E. Downs, 52, was held this afternoon from the Robinson mortuary in Los Angeles, interment being in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Downs had been a resident of Huntington Beach for the past 14 years, living at the Standard Oil camp. Downs for 18 years had been in the production department of the Standard Oil company, having been located at Newhall and Whittier before being transferred to this city.

Downs was stricken with heart trouble several months ago and was taken to a hospital in Los Angeles. Later as he showed improvement he was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. M. N. Harker, at 1187 Crenshaw avenue, but on Monday afternoon another heart attack caused his death.

The oil man was born in El Monte. He was a Scottish Rite Mason and a life member of Al Malaikah Shrine temple. Besides his widow, Mrs. Edna B. Downs, he is survived by his mother and three brothers and four sisters.

RADIO STAR AT L. B.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—New arrivals in the artist colony include Miss Elvia Allman, well known radio star, who has taken quarters for the summer at 662 Coast boulevard, south. Miss Allman, formerly was with Uncle John and is now with the "Merry-makers" featured on a national hook-up. Being interested in dramatic art, Miss Allman intends to joint the Laguna Beach Community players while residing here.

La Habra Man To Marry In Tacoma

LA HABRA, July 5.—Fred Jordan, accompanied by his father, the Rev. T. C. Jordan of the La Habra Baptist church, and his sister, Miss Lottie Jordan, has left for Tacoma, Wash., where he will be married to Miss Genevieve Easton.

The wedding will take place in the gardens on the Easton estate there, with the Rev. Mr. Jordan reading the lines. Miss Lottie Jordan will be the bridesmaid.

The groom was recently ordained as a Baptist minister and following a honeymoon the couple will go to Texas, where he will resume his work as pastor of a church there.

Dr. Violett Named Creel Club Head

GARDEN GROVE, July 5.—An organization meeting for the local Creel-for-Governor club was held in the Chamber of Commerce building this week with Dr. C. C. Violett elected chairman and Tevis Westgate secretary-treasurer.

The group adjourned to hold a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the same place, with H. C. Head of Santa Ana, as speaker. All interested are urged to attend.

400 PRESENT WHEN COUPLE CELEBRATES 60TH ANNIVERSARY

COSTA MESA, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Vasquez celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary this week when over 400 relatives and acquaintances gathered at their home on West Eighteenth street. Barbecued meats and a variety of Spanish dishes were served out of doors at noon.

Mr. Vasquez was born at San Gabriel in 1852 and Mrs. Vasquez was born at Whittier in 1853. They have lived in Costa Mesa for seven years.

Among those present were seven of their 10 children, Richard, of Pixley, and his wife and six children; Frank, of Santa Ana, and one child; Manuel jr., of Richfield, and his wife and five children; Jake, of La Habra, and his wife and three children; John, of Santa Ana, and his wife and seven children; Pete, who is still at home, and Mrs. Rita Higuera and her 11 children of Costa Mesa. Three of the children, Daniel, Mrs. Anjila Espinoza and Mrs. Victoria, are dead. Daniel's children, nine in number, are living with the grandparents.

Some of the grandchildren are married and almost 200 of those present were of the immediate family.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

KAYAK GROUP GIVEN THREE TROPHY CUPS

FULLERTON, July 5. — Three silver trophy cups for the first three places in the first kayak races held in Southern California, were awarded members of the Fullerton Kayak club at the Hermosa Beach fiesta Tuesday.

The members of the Fullerton club carried away 10 of the first 13 places. The time was 11 minutes and 35 seconds for one mile.

Eleven Fullerton boys entered the race, and those winning were George Jeffry, of Fullerton, riding a kayak built by Ralph Marsden; Burton Sanders, Yorba Linda, in a boat built by himself, won second place, and Jimmie Smith, in a boat built by Leonard Dysinger, won third place. Erwin Miller won fourth and David Miller, club captain, fifth place.

Sixth place was won by J. W. Campbell, of Manhattan Beach; seventh by Ira Hagenback, of Hermosa Beach; eighth by Richard Hedrick, of Pasadena; Dick Chewning, La Habra, ninth; Roderick Royer, Orangethorpe, tenth; Melvin Miller, 11th; Leonard Little, 12th and Roy Hill, 13th, all of Fullerton club.

The silver trophy cups were awarded by Mayor Clark of Hermosa Beach.

Kayak racing adds to beach sports in a most interesting way, according to R. A. Marsden, who has sponsored the Fullerton Kayak club. He said in conenction with the races Tuesday night. "riding the breakers with a kayak is highly spectacular, from the observer's standpoint and adds the thrills of the rodeo to the attractions of the beach."

The kayak is a single seater canoe type boat used by the Eskimo for fishing and hunting, and has just recently been introduced into Southern California waters as a sportsman proposition. The boats are paddled through the breakers and coast back back to shore on the crest of waves, making a double thrill in every trip, according to Marsden.

COUNCIL TAKES UP PLANS FOR SERA PROJECTS

ANAHEIM, July 5.—In an effort to provide jobs under SERA for "white collar" workers the Anaheim city council, at an informal session Tuesday night decided to put in a project that will provide recreational and music programs at the city park during the summer. Details of the plan will be worked out with a committee representing the chamber of commerce. This committee was appointed last week.

It was also decided that City Engineer Hapgood should file for approval a project under the Professional, Technical and Women Workers' division of SERA. This project would provide for the complete codification of all city ordinances and preparation of a clerk's index of the ordinances. The project, if approved, will be carried on under direction of City Attorney George Holden.

Engineer Hapgood informed members of the council that the first SERA workers will start on one of the Anaheim projects tomorrow. He said that it is estimated that approximately 25 men will be started to work on the North street sewer project. Men will be added to the job as fast as their registration is completed it was said. According to the present plan there will be two shifts of 24 hours weekly at work on the project. These shifts will work in series of three eight-hour days.

Members of the city council also approved the request of H. W. Cordes that the city pay one quarter of the expense of closing the water line at the intersection of South Olive street and what will, in the future, be known as East Water street. The open cement ditch that is serving the property owners there will be replaced with a covered pipe. Under the plan approved the city will pay one-fourth, the property owner will pay one-fourth and the Anaheim Union Water company will pay the remaining half.

4 Dancers Given Contest Honors

FULLERTON, July 5—Four Fullerton children claimed dance honors in the Southern California Festival of Arts contest held recently in Los Angeles, in addition to the two first places, in piano and flute, taken by young Santa Ana artists.

Junior Kavanagh, well known young dancer, who has been seen on many programs about the county, took second place in the tap solo class, with his "St. Louis Blues" number. Miss Aberdeen Rubidoux, young Spanish dancer, took third place in this class, while Bobby Waits and Joy Wurgaft placed fourth in their team ballroom number, depicting the old fashioned and modern style of dance.

All are pupils of the local Burks school of dancing.

FEDERAL FUNDS SOUGHT IN MOVE TO SUBSTITUTE CEMENT PIPE LINE FOR OPEN DITCHES

FULLERTON, July 5.—Open irrigation ditches on several streets of Fullerton may be replaced with cement pipelines through SERA labor, it became known today following the city council meeting Tuesday night, when the matter was broached. Pursuant to action of the council favoring the improvement, City Engineer Hiltscher is working out plans for submitting this as a project to SERA officials.

All materials, trucking and supervision will be furnished by the Anaheim Union Water company, according to William P. Wallop, superintendent, who presented the matter to the council. The open ditches on North and South Cypress street, East Ross avenue and Acacia street, will be included in the project, with possibly others to be added. Residents and ranchers of the areas affected are anxious that the improvement be made, it is said, because the open ditches cause accumulations of trash, growth of obnoxious weeds and grasses, and constitute a menace to small children.

The ditches were in use long before the streets were laid out, it is explained, and this prior right makes it necessary that the city defray half the cost of any changes made. City officials are anxious to have SERA labor used in order to save future expense to local taxpayers, it was pointed out.

The report of the water committee, made by Councilman T. K. Gowen, was approved. The new fencing for the water well tract of the city will cost approximately $527.55 when purchased. The report of the committee was to put new fencing on two sides of the tract and use old fencing, raising the height of it on two sides. The placing of the fencing is to come under the SERA.

An ordinance was adopted, No. 787, prohibiting parking on Walnut avenue, between packing houses, except for trucks and cars loading and unloading.

The land belonging to Louise Tousseau along the south side of the Brea road is to be condemned in order to widen and straighten the road with gas tax funds, and a resolution was passed to that effect. Almost all the land on the south side of the highway, between the Hillcrest stables and the Union Oil property belongs to the Tousseau estate and since all the other property is to be deeded to the city for improvement, under given conditions, the councilmen felt it necessary to condemn it that work may be started soon on the improvement pavement. The work is to be done with gas tax money.

The wheel tax ordinance again was delayed for a first reading, awaiting further changes to be incorporated before the meeting on July 17.

It cost the city $2.48 to clean lots and parkings and $1.98 to clean lots of weeds. The total bill for cleaning vacant lots, posted prior to the city job, and not cleaned by the property owners, was $885, according to a report of A. Hiltscher, engineer. Those who pay for this clearing of lots and parkings prior to July 15 will not have that bill added to the regular tax bill, Hiltscher pointed out.

Fullerton will enter the first aid truck in the parade at annual convention of the Pacific Coast association of fire chiefs to be held in Pasadena September 11 to 14, in accordance with the request of Fire Chief Roy Davis. The equipment of the truck will be placed on another car for emergency use in Fullerton.

The annual report of the fire chief revealed that property and contents loss by fire within the city of Fullerton for 1934 was less than half of that for 1933. In 1933, the total loss was $14,500, and in 1934, $6822.50. The department answered 24 calls within the city; 42 calls outside the city, and attended five first aid calls with the resuscitator, according to Chief Davis' annual report. The report of Chief J. M. Pearson showed that 15 drunks had been arrested and five arrests had been made for driving while intoxicated during June.

The annual report of Judge Halsey I. Spence revealed he had collected $1994.50 in traffic fines and $1305 in miscellaneous fines. The total collections for traffic violations for June was $136, and miscellaneous collections were $148 in fines issued, according to the monthly report.

Assistant City Attorney Raymond Thompson presented a report on the matter of prohibiting attorneys from soliciting trade at wrecks, and accident scenes, stating that an ordinance prohibiting such had been passed for Los Angeles county, and that he was asking the city council of Fullerton to approve such an ordinance for Orange county. The councilmen agreed to await action of the supervisors before making a statement.

Historical Group To Meet Saturday

FULLERTON, July 5.—The Orange County Historical society will meet at Commonwealth park Saturday at 1 o'clock for a basket dinner and a meeting, according to announcement of S. M. Davis, secretary of the group.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED AT 20-30 MEETING

FULLERTON, July 5.—At an impressive ceremony, performed by Fred Lamping, retiring president, and before 50 members and guests, new officers of Fullerton 20-30 club were installed Tuesday night following a dinner meeting at El Patio cafe.

Dr. Charles Rapp was installed president, Dick McKee, vice president; Lowell Backman, secretary; Herb Maland, treasurer; Ken Savage, sergeant - at - arms; Fred Lamping, chaplain; S. D. Brown, Sam Adams, Adton Reinert, Lloyd Verry and John King, board of directors.

The program included a talk by Capt. Don Wilkie, candidate for sheriff of Orange county, and songs by the Collins sisters of Anaheim. Following the program and installation, dancing occupied the evening.

ARRESTED TWICE IN WEEK FOR DRINKING

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Ben H. Harrison, Indian rancher who recently paid his fourth fine in less than 60 days for being drunk in Anaheim, has a runner up for the honor of being the Anaheim police department's most regular over-night guest. The new contender for this honor is Victor Gill, 30, Anaheim painter. At present Gill has the record for posting $50 bail twice in one week on drunk charges.

At liberty under $50 bail posted last Monday to guarantee his return for trial July 16 on a charge of being intoxicated Gill, this morning posted another $50 bond after having been in jail since Tuesday night.

According to police reports all the liquor that Gill drinks goes to his legs causing them to fold like an old-fashioned folding-bed. Last Saturday night when Gill was arrested police found him lying in a street parking. Tuesday night he was taken in custody by Officer Sidebottom who found him lying on the sidewalk in front of 923 North Los Angeles street. He was so drunk, according to the police that he had to be carried into the jail. Gill posted his second $50 bond this morning.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Manuel Aguerre was taken to the county jail Tuesday afternoon to start serving a 50-day sentence in lieu of a $100 fine imposed by Police Judge Frank Tausch. Aguerre was sentenced following his conviction of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

An unknown person was injured yesterday in an automobile accident at the intersection of Los Angeles and South streets. Edna E. Rudder of Whittier, driver of one of the automobiles reported the collision and said that one of the passengers in the other car had been slightly injured. The driver of the other car had not yet reported the accident.

ST. JOSEPH TO OFFER ENTIRE H. S. COURSE

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Following the completion of the transfer of St. Joseph's girl's school from the Dominican Sisters to the Sisters of Providence came the announcement that when school opens in the fall the institution will be equipped to offer a complete high school course in addition to the elementary course always offered.

The Rev. James J. Cornelius, chaplain of the school said that the Sisters of Providence are well known as educators and that all of the sisters connected with the St. Joseph's school have received degrees from Washington University. The high school he said would be established for the entire county and will be for Catholic girls and will also welcome non-Catholic students.

In announcing plans for opening a high school in connection with the educational institute Reverend Father Cornelius said that the school will be thoroughly equipped for its educational purpose and will be in a position to give thorough instruction in languages taught in other high schools but every other subject as well.

The Dominican Sisters who, for the past four years, have had charge of the school will be divided with a portion of the order being sent to Los Angeles where they will teach in the Soledad Mission parochial school. The remainder will go to Laguna Beach where they will open a small parochial school.

LEGION DELEGATES TO CONCLAVE NAMED

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Nomination of delegates to the state convention to be held in San Francisco August 13, 14 and 15 and a Court of Honor for members of Boy Scout Troop No. 72, sponsored by the post constituted the principal business transacted Monday night when Anaheim post of the American Legion held its regular session.

Twelve delegates were nominated, with six of them to be elected at the next regular meeting of the post Anaheim is entitled to send six delegates and six alternates to the state conclave. Delegates nominated last night were: Commander Ray Van Wagoner, Adjutant James Heffron, J. F. Sidebottom, Ray E. Smith, H. E. Akerman, J. C. Elliott, Clair Liebhart, Al Dutzi, Fred Hays, Ted Masterson, Ed Campbell and Ed Hund.

At the Scout Court of Honor presided over by Kenneth Petk Merit badges were awarded Bob Wallin and Edwin Tyreman; Eugene Francik received a Star badge and Edwin Wisser and Glenn Lehmer were given Tenderfoot badges. Bob Wallin also received a Five Year Veteran badge.

Following the Court of Honor Dr. James E. Waters gave a brief talk on "Americanism" and two boys and a girl, directed by Mrs. Orilla Bigelow gave a Hawaiian entertainment featuring dances and music of the islands. The Auxiliary joined with the Legion post for the Court of Honor and the program.

MRS. JEWETT IMPROVED

FULLERTON, July 5.—Chief of Police J. M. Pearson and Mrs Pearson have returned from Coalinga where they were called by the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. William Jewett. They reported that Mrs. Jewett who was taken to a hospital, was improved when they started home.

SERVICE STATION IN ANAHEIM ROBBED

ANAHEIM, July 5.—Service station thieves were active again last night in Anaheim. This time they entered Harlow's Service Station at Elm and Los Angeles streets but failed to secure any loot. Entrance was gained through breaking the glass out of a window in the station.

Last week another service station was entered in the same manner and approximately $2.50 taken from the cash register.

W. C. T. U. To Hear Nazarene Pastor

FULLERTON, July 5.—Mrs. Emma Tousley Pierce, pastor of the Fullerton Church of the Nazarene, will talk at the next meeting of Fullerton W. C. T. U. on Tuesday at the Baptist church. Her topic will be "Patriotism."

The meeting will open at 10 o'clock, and a covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. Lilah Ford will be hostess chairman and Mrs. Cora Hale will preside at the business meeting.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

As Jack and Jill went tumbling through the air, toward them Scouty flew. He shortly grabbed Jill by the hand and sat her on the ground.

And then, by quite a lucky chance, he grabbed poor Jack right by the pants, and shouted, "Are you hurt?" as all the Tinies gathered 'round.

"No, I'm all right," said Jack, "but Jill has taken quit an awful spill. Run back to her and see if she is injured. Hurry, please!"

But Jill had jumped up to her feet. "The way you rescued me was neat," she shouted. "I am quite all right, except I skinned my knees.

* * *

"Now, where's our bucket? We must hike right back for water. I would like it very much if one of you kind tots would help a bit."

"I'll get the bucket, miss, for you. And I'll go fetch the water, too," said Coppy. "I am strong, and I know I can carry it."

Then, as he started up the hill, wee Windy shouted, "Wait until I join you. 'Twill be easier if both of us take part."

They filled the pail with water. Then they went back down the hill again. Both Jack and Jill said, "Thank you. Now it's time that we depart."

* * *

When they had disappeared from sight, a man raced by with all his might. Behind him was a butcher who was yelling, "Stop that thief!

"I don't know what he did it for, but he just came and robbed my store. His name is Taffy. Catch him, please. He has some of my beef!"

Then Scouty cried, "I have some rope. With it I'll capture him, I hope." He sailed his lasso through the air. It caught on Taffy's feet.

"Pull hard," yelled Coppy. Scouty did. 'Twas fun to see ol' Taffy skid. In just about a second he went tumbling to the street.

Mrs. J. J. Allen Is Birthday Honoree

BREA, July 5.—Mrs. J. J. Allen, 115 West Ash street, was honored on the occasion of her birthday anniversary this week when members of her family and friends surprised her at her home on her return from church. Guests brought a pot luck dinner and a birthday cake was included.

Those sharing this happy occasion with Mrs. Allen were her husband, J. J. Allen, her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen, all of Brea, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and daughter, Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. John Hinds and son, Billy; Mrs. Betty Cunningham and Miss Pearl Parker, Fuller Park; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Norris, Redlands; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Adams and daughter, Betty Anne, of Ontario, and Mrs. Bennie Blackford, Fullerton. The honoree was presented with several gifts.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lawson, of Homewood avenue, entertained a group of Los Angeles relatives with a party Wednesday at Newport Beach. A picnic lunch was held on the sand and the afternoon spent in cards and swimming. In the evening, the group viewed the fireworks display at Huntington Beach.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmon.

DRAWS $25 FINE

LA HABRA, July 5.—Clyde Fletcher, 38, of Montebello, was arraigned before Judge H. A. Robinson in La Habra city court Monday afternoon and fined $25 on a charge of drunkenness on the city streets. Fletcher was arrested Sunday noon by Chief A. J. Collins. He paid his fine.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

As Taffy flopped down to the ground, all of the Tinies gathered 'round and Scouty said, "I'm sorry, sir, but you've done something wrong.

"I lassoed you because I thought that it was time that you were caught. Don't try to get away. You can't, because my rope is strong."

"Oh, I am sorry," Taffy cried, "that I stole something. I just tried to get myself a bite to eat." Then came a real loud shout.

'Twas from the butcher. He was mad! He yelled, "Hang on to that bad lad. He's stolen from my butcher shop. I'll make him work it out."

• • •

"That's fair enough," said Scouty. "Gee! I think he's lucky as can be that he's let off that easy. Why, he could be sent to jail.

"Though he returns the beef, I'd say he should be punished right today. Put him to work in your shop with a scrub brush and a pail."

"A very good idea, son," the butcher said. "It shall be done. And you wee tots can have the beef for what you've done for me.

"Just build a fire, right near at hand, and cook it. It will taste just grand." "Hurray for you," yelled Duncy. "I'm as hungry as can be."

• • •

The butcher then took Taffy by the ear and said, "No don't you try to run, 'cause I will catch you." Then they disappeared from sight.

Wee Goldy said, "It is too bad! I feel quite sorry for the lad, but, after all, his punishment will teach him wrong from right."

Soon Windy cried, "Gee, let us start to build a fire. I'll do my part. And, when we cook our dandy beef, I'd like my portion rare."

"Now, wait a minute," Scouty said. "I see a small house, straight ahead. If someone's home, perhaps they'll let us cook this fine beef there."

Beach Boy Burned When Firecracker Explodes In Hand

SEAL BEACH, July 5.—A "safe and sane fourth" was enjoyed by a large crowd at the beach here yesterday. Only one injury was reported, a small boy suffering a severely cut and burned hand when the large firecracker he was holding exploded in his hand.

Of the large number of bathers in the water only a small number were given help by the life guards posted along the beach. Late in the afternoon life guards were called to the assistance of two people in a small speed boat which had capsized in the surf opposite the Los Angeles Gas and Electric plant. The boat overturned when the motor stalled and it drifted into the breaker line. Its occupants were not hurt.

STAMP EXPERT WILL TALK ON ITALY POSTAGE

All the magnificence of Italy from the Renaissance to the present day and the history of her many varied issues of postage stamps will form the theme of "The Stamp Adventurer's" broadcast from KREG tonight at 6:45, it was stated.

This popular radio feature, sponsored by the Weber Baking company which has been on the air for 18 weeks, is becoming more and more a favorite with radio fans—judging from the mail received, according to officials of the bakery.

On his program tonight "The Stamp Adventurer" will, as usual, not only furnish his listeners with much valuable information about stamps and their value to collectors, but will relate parts of the colorful and romantic life of Italy's great poet, Dante.

CHRIS OLSEN PLAYS ON HIS HARMONICA

More contrasts and several distinctive favorites will be included in Chris Olsen's group of melodies which he will play on his harmonica this evening at 5:30 on KREG.

His program will include "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "After the Ball Is Over," "Dixie Land," "Shepherd Show Me How to Go," "Where Is My Wandering Boy" and another of his own compositions called "The Echo."

Chris Olsen is scheduled each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at the above time on the local station.

RADIO FEATURES

Beatrice Lillie, celebrated English comedienne, and the famous old vaudeville team of McIntyre and Heath will head the list of guest performers at the Variety Hour broadcast over an NBC coast-to-coast network including KFI at 4 this afternoon.

Alexander Smallens will inaugurate the second season of summer symphonic broadcasts by musicians of the Philadelphia Orchestra over the Columbia network including KHJ from 4:30 to 5:30 this evening. Conducting the orchestra in Robin Hood Dell, Fairmont Park, Philadelphia, Smallens will present a program selected from the works of Weber, Mendelssohn, Wagner and Richard Strauss.

Music inspired by childhood fairy tales will be high lights of a Standard Symphony Hour concert which also includes classic gems of Mozart, Wagner, Beethoven and Liszt, to be broadcast at 8 tonight, over an NBC network including KFI, with Alfred Hertz in the conductor's stand.

FRIDAY

Reports on the Wimbledon Tennis matches will be heard over KHJ at 8:45 a. m. Friday.

Henry L. Smith, Dean of the School of Education of Indiana University, will preside during a broadcast from the 72nd annual convention of the National Education Association over the Columbia network including KHJ at 12 noon Friday. He will introduce Thomas E. Benner, Dean of the College of Education, University of Illinois, who will speak on "Democracy in Education"; Armand J. Gerson, Associate Supt. of Schools, Philadelphia, Pa., whose talk is entitled "Culture for Democracy"; and Mrs. Myrtle Hooper Dahl, Chairman, N. E. A. HARRY BATESON WILL DISCUSS FALL FLOWERS

"Flowers that bloom in the winter warm up the winter," Harry L. Bateson said in announcing the subject of his broadcast from KREG tonight.

"Southern California can boast of the finest winter floral climate in the world. My opinion is based upon my experiences of growing flowers from New York and New Zealand and from the Arctic Circle to Tierra Del Fuego in the Antarctic. Let's decorate our gardens for a winter display!" he stated.

In addition to orginating many new varieties of flowers, Bateson has achieved international recognition as a horticulturist, it was stated. He is also the originator of the "Back-to-the-Soil" movement and the "Acre-and-a-Home" movement, both of which he has discussed and is explaining from time to time during his broadcasts from the local station.

He is heard on KREG exclusively each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:15 p. m.

LIFE OF PAPEN TO BE SUBJECT FOR BROADCAST

Vice-Chancellor von Papen; Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, "Minister of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment," and Dr. Otto Meissner, super secretary to President von Hindenburg will be discussed exclusively in this week's broadcast of "People Who Make News" from KREG at 7:30 tonight.

With the 4th of July fireworks going off somewhat prematurely in Germany, tonight's descriptive broadcast of these personalities is most contemporary with the events.

Somehing of von Papen's activities soon after 1914, of his alleged intrigue to have the Welland Canal blown up and of subsequent happenings will be told, together with his present position in German politics. Dr. Goebbel is described as one of the extremists who compose the rank and file of the Nazis and his present activities, status and personality will be discussed. Dr. Otto Meissner's political relationship to President von Hindenburg will also be told.

LAGUNA ENFORCING CANINE ORDINANCE

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5—Their ears cocked anxiously and their eyes searching for familiar faces, a miscellaneous collection of dogs, ranging from pups with a mile-long pedigrees to mongrels of obscure genealogy, today were enjoying the hospitality of the city pound, located in the Laguna canyon.

The dogs had been picked up on the beach by the poundmaster who a few days ago was instructed to enforce an ordinance prohibiting dogs on the beach except when on leash. The rounding up of the dogs followed representations by the chamber of commerce to the effect that numerous complaints have been voiced against the dogs running loose on the beach.

Lancers Troop At Beach Maneuvers

LAGUNA BEACH, July 6. — "Boots and saddles" and other familiar cavalry trumpet calls mingled with snappy commands and the clinking of spurs and clatter of accoutrements this week told the residents of Laguna that troop "C" of the California Lancers was on the march, engaged in war game maneuvers.

The force was divided in two opposing forces, one designated as "Black" invading, commanded by Capt. Walter Hammond of Santa Ana, and the other as "Blue" defending commanded by Capt. Walter F. Stromerson. Acting as umpires in the games, conducted on Temple hills, were Major W. R. Mattock of Long Beach and Capt James Stafford, of Anaheim. The maneuvers, devoted principally to reconnoitering and contact service, were brought to a close late in the evening, the umpires holding the defending force had failed to stop the invaders. Lieut. William S. Caldwell, of Laguna Beach, acted as intelligence officer.

Announcements

Faholo class members of First Baptist church will have a covered-dish dinner Monday at 6:30 p. m. at Anaheim park, entertaining their husbands as guests.

MAN DROWNED YESTERDAY AT DANA POINT

Following a search of nearly 24 hours, the body of Melecio Montiento, 33, Uplands Filipino, was recovered from the surf at Dana Point this morning and removed to the Laguna Beach Funeral home.

Montinento was drowned shortly before noon yesterday while bathing on the strand near the Dana Point pier, Other bathers near him were unable to help him and he was swept out to sea. His body was visible at times in the kelp beds but could not be recovered until today.

Coroner Earl Abbey will not hold an inquest and it is probable that the body will be shipped to the Philippine Islands for burial. The victim was unmarried and had lived in this country for nine years.

Mrs. Merryman Is Birthday Honoree

LA HABRA, July 5.—Mrs. Ella Merryman of Whittier boulevard was the honoree Monday at a surprise handkerchief shower given by her friends at her home recently. Two large birthday cakes were served as a part of the refreshment course during the afternoon. Mrs. J. W. Meiers and Mrs. W. J. Hipolite planned the affair and were assisted during the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Paul M. Thornton.

In the evening Mrs. Macy J. Smith of East Florence avenue entertained Mrs. Merryman with a birthday dinner.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Benjamin Roberts, Mrs. E. J. Buck, Mrs. J. W. Bills, Mrs. H. A. Luallin, Mrs. Thomas Foster, Mrs. H. E. Ludy, Mrs. Roy Kelly, Mrs. J. G. Cooley, Mrs. R. C. Hudson, Mrs. Felix Neveaux, Mrs. Macy Smith, Monteen Hipolite, Margaret Thornton, Winona Zumwalt, Velta Colley, Twila Collins, Mrs. H. G. Shirey and Mrs. Merryman.

Picnics and Reunions

UTAH, ARIZONA, NEVADA AND NEW MEXICO

Four great southwest states will hold their picnic reunions, all day, Saturday, July 7 in Bixby park, Long Beach. Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico will unite for a great rally, ach state will have its own section and will open county registers. Hot coffee will be served and silk badges supplied. O. E. Peterson of Mar Vista will lead the singing and will bring the famous Mar Vista chorus. The program will follow the basket dinner hour and will include music and brief addresses. All former residents are wanted and special call is made to tourists.

TRIAL OPENS TODAY IN DRUNK DRIVING CASE

Trial of Earl James Chandler, 35, charged with driving while drunk, commenced today in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court, where prosecution and defense attorneys were engaged during the forenoon session with selection of a jury.

Chandler was arrested by Horace Inge, of the California highway patrol, after he had allegedly driven his car through traffic assembled at the wreck of two cars at Wright and Hazard streets, Garden Grove, on the evening of May 5.

Officer Inge and Constable J. L. Elliott, Santa Ana, were directing traffic at the wreck when Chandler, they charge, drove past, disregarding their flashlight signals to stop.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner is conducting the prosecution, with Attorney Z. B. West appearing for the defense.

Virginia Jewett Hostess At Party

FULLERTON, July 5.—Virginia Jewett entertained the Beta Chi sorority at the Richard Jewett home. Summer blooms were used to brighten the lovely home and bridge games were arranged for the entertainment of the guests. Geneva Spray of La Habra won first prize and Martha Iverson, low.

Attending were Mrs. Ethel Baris of Texas who was a guest and Julia Jewett Hirigoyen, Ethel Sanford, Irene Burgess, Phyllis Emry, all of Whittier; Dorothy Pickup of Santa Fe Springs; Mazel Snyder of Sunset Beach; Dorothy Little and Martha Iverson of Fullerton, and Geneva Spray, Naomi Granger and Marguerite Williams of La Habra.

Party Honors Returned Methodist Pastor

In compliment to Dr. George A. Warmer, who has just been assigned to First Methodist pastorate for another year, an outdoor party was given yesterday afternoon on the grounds of the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Garner, 1507 East Fourth street. Mr. and Mrs. Garner and Dr. and Mrs. John H. Bower joined as hosts for the occasion.

A picnic dinner was served in the pretty garden setting. Guests remained for a display of fireworks in the evening.

Present were Dr. and Mrs. George Warmer and their little daughter, Jean, with their son, Charles Warmer, Mr. and Mrs. Milo R. Daughters, Miss Elizabeth Hill, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cave and son, Clifford Cave, Pasadena; Dr. and Mrs. Bower and Mr. and Mrs. Garner and their daughter, Miss Dorothy Garner.

By HARRY GRAYSON

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Marvin Owen, Tigers' third sacker, has a pair of the largest mitts in baseball....being able to hold seven balls in his right hand.... Harry Mehre will have another Notre Dame man helping him teach the University of Georgia grid squad this year....He is Jim Harris, Irish guard a couple years ago, who will tutor the Georgia line....Johnny Goodman was baptized Johnny Gudman....He is of Lithuanian lineage....One of the boys to look out for in the coming Intercollegiate tennis meet at Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, is Gene Mako, Southern Cal soph, who wowed the racqueteers last year....That rookie, Curt Davis, seems to be the prize find of the year....hurling six victories with the seventh-place Phillies....And that guy Ralph Birkofer, starting his first full year with the Pirates, isn't any slouch, either.

The new Detroit professional football outfit got a star back the other day when it signed Herman Everhardus . . . who glittered for Michigan last year . . . and Boston may get Joe Gallus, co-captain and end at Ohio State in 1933. . . . "Chick" Evans says the country club is the center of life in small cities. . . . Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's High Quest won't work out by himself in the morning. . . . Trainer Bob Smith has to send a couple of other horses along before the Preakness winner will behave properly. . . . And now we're ready for that Jewish natural, pitting Champion Max Baer against Art Lasky, the newest Pacific Coast threat to come up with dynamite in his hands. . . . While you're thinking of a successor to Babe Ruth as home run king, don't forget little Mel Ott, of the Giants. . . . The kid is right up there with the leaders these days. . . . "Goofy" Gomez, "Dizzy" Dean, "Noisy" Newsom—oh, yeah?

Chicago Bd. of Trade

CHICAGO, July 5.—(UP)—A steady flow of small commission house buying orders sent the wheat market up almost 2 cents a bushel today, prices closing 1½ to 1¾ cent higher. Corn was under pressure early as a result of improved crop prospects, but late short covering firmed up the market and the close was unchanged to up ½ cent. Oats closed ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Wheat was helped by purchases here against sales at Winipeg and against sales of corn. While considerable hedging was put into the wheat pit, the good class of commission house buying readily absorbed the offerings. Closing prices were near the day's highs, with July at 89¼ cents, September 90¼ and December 91⅝.

JOBS FOR 6 MEN

The Los Angeles Branch of a several million dollar corporation rated AAA1, is now ready to intensively develop the Orange County territory. We have excellent openings for six good men to work in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton.

Our method of paying our men where each shares in the profits on a liberal commission, profit sharing, and good will bonus has enabled us to build one of the largest and highest paid specialty sales organizations in America.

Earnings of our men who want to work run anywhere from $19 to over $200.00 in a week. H. O. Vern past ten days working in Los Angeles has earned over $200.00. E. L. Trowbridge, Santa Ana has earnings of over $80.00 in a week. John Radder, formerly railroad brakeman has had earnings of over $1000.00 in a month this year.

If you are of neat appearance, between 25 and 47 years of age, of sterling character, and think you can measure up to our requirements call Friday morning at 10 A. M. for preliminary employment meeting.

Men selected have no investment of any kind. We pay the rent, light, heat, place you where the business is and pay you weekly.

Call Friday morning 10 A. M. (No other time.)

NRA WE DO OUR PART

LAW MUST BE RULE OF ACTION IN CIVILIZATION

Probably before this editorial is read by The Register subscribers, the state militia will have been called out in the longshoremen's strike by the governor of the state. We do not see how the governor can desist from such action.

The only hope of permanent progress along those lines, that make for values in our civilization, is to keep ourselves established directly upon law as the rule of action. However clear and just may be the claims of the longshoremen in their contest with their employers, they have no legal or moral right, in their attempt to obtain their own claims, to interfere with the constitutional rights of other men, as they are pursuing their course of action.

The longshoremen have a right to strike, that is, they have a right to either singly or en masse cease to work for their employers, under the conditions which are laid down. But they are law violators the very moment they attempt to interfere with the rights of any of their members, or any people who are not their members, who are willing and desire to work for these same employers.

The privilege of a man to work is as sacred as a man's privilege not to work. We understand fully the arguments that can be raised against the strike breaker for taking the place of the men who are endeavoring to better their condition. We are in sympathy with many of these arguments.

But we know that after one has exhausted these arguments upon those who are employed as strike breakers, and they still insist on their right to work, the law of the land, the police force of the city, the state militia, and, if need be, the standing army of the country, should be used to protect them in that right to work, and we would say the same in respect to the man's right not to work.

We are supposed to be living in a civilized age, where we are governed by laws, which have been made by the majority vote of the people. The question may be well asked how then, if the strikers are just in their demands, can they finally get their demands, if they do not use physical force?

If they are just in their demands, they can find redress at the ballot box, by either initiating legislation, or the election of representatives in the state legislature or in Congress, who will provide legal methods for the attainment of their just ends.

To be sure, this is not immediate redress, but it is the only method of obtaining redress when appeals and arguments have been used, and the workers have ceased work, and still failed to accomplish their purpose.

The right way, in the end, is the shortest way, as well as the best way. Fear may be the means of winning a temporary victory, but fear will not win a permanent victory.

It is only after the need of laws has been written upon the hearts and consciences of the people, so that it finds expression finally in legal enactment, can we see that the remedy has been brought forth in a democracy.

It is unfortunate indeed that the NRA does not provide for a remedy in this situation, and it is more unfortunate that the degree to which it is provided is not adhered to.

But armed camps on the two sides of an industrial dispute interfere with individual rights of those who would work. Violence to the person and the destruction of property, through practical anarchy, is a condition that is intolerable. And the only answer that can be made, if injustice is being done anywhere, providing there is no remedy through law, is to provide law, so that there will be a remedy.

We have instituted courts and legislatures and executives to that end, and a constitution for the securing of rights to all with that purpose.

As the Master declared of Himself, in the days when He walked the earth, that He was the door, and that any who tried to get into the sheepfold by any other means were thieves and robbers, so they who would accomplish the purposes of individuals or groups by any other method than appeal to reason and lawful procedure, are working out of harmony with American institutions.

There seems to be an unusual demand for coins of all denominations, says Secretary Morgenthau. What's so unusual about that?

MME. MARIE CURIE

Madame Marie Curie, who with her husband discovered radium, has passed away. She gave her life to science, actually to the great discovery which has been so beneficial to mankind, for her physicians said that the radium rays which accumulated in her system caused her death. Small and frail, looking old beyond her years because of her devotion to the laboratory, one hardly realizes until one has such an occasion as this to look the matter up that she was not very old, only sixty-seven years as a matter of fact; though her wide renown and the familiarity of millions the whole world over for so many years with the name of Madame Curie has brought to people's minds the associations usually placed upon one who has lived a very long time.

Scientists are better able to honor her worth at this time. Dr. Millikan said:

> In some ways Mme. Curie's discoveries of radium and the radiation emitted by it may be considered a starting point of the newer development in physics.
>
> It was that which really convinced the world that the heavens are not eternal and changeless, but that atomic transformations are taking place in nature all the time, old atoms being destroyed and new atoms being created out of them.
>
> Dr. Albert Einstein said: Her ingenuity and her extraordinary energy enabled her to solve some of the most important problems which led to the discovery and to the scientific understanding of the radioactive phenomena.

While honoring her as a scientist it is highly significant for the layman to note that this peerlessly intelligent woman scientist was devoted to the cause of peace, devoting her precious time and limited energy to service which she believed would promote peace.

Roger Babson says this country is on its way toward dictatorship. He probably hasn't read the speeches of some of our congressmen.

FOREIGN FEUDS ON AMERICAN SOIL

Our American population, made up of many nationalities among its varied groupings still clings to many of the traditions and memories of its European ancestry. One group celebrates in memory of Kosciusko and Pulaski the Poles; another commemorates Steuben the German; still another Kossuth the Hungarian; and yet another Garibaldi the Italian.

Following hard upon our national holiday, another group will celebrate once more the battle of the Boyne which marked the victory of William of Orange who became William III of England. That victory has left a feud between Protestantism and Roman Catholicism which is about as bitter as any feud existing on American soil. To be sure, it does not lead to open violence as it does in Ireland, but it does keep open a wound which in a land of religious tolerance ought long ago to have been closed.

It is well enough to hold sacred memories of the past, but in a country where we all have to live together under one political government, the less divisiveness there is over past conficts on European soil the better it will be for the peace of us all. Happily, the time has past when a parade of Orangemen always led to street fights. The hurling of invectives and recriminations, however, still goes on. This is not well. There is a positive note which can always be struck. Our Fourth of July celebration is no longer anti-British. It is much more a celebration of political freedom and civil liberty. These are the things to be emphasized.

Science and Weather

Oakland Tribune

Learned scientists, in the conventions and laboratories, find time to "talk of the weather." Some of them who make a specialty of the subject talk of little else.

Some recent conversations of foremost authorities would absolve the sun and its recurring spots of much of the blame for hot weather. When there is a prolonged period of extreme heat, such as has been suffered in our Middle West and East it is not fair to blame the sun. Certain "centers" of the earth's surface are responsible.

It is H. Helm Clayton, editor of World Weather Records for the Smithsonian Institution, who comes forward to clear up some paradoxes which have bothered the professional and amateur weather men for some years and bring a little closer the day when long-range predictions may be made.

To be sure, says this expert, the surface of the earth receives all of its heat from the radiation of the sun, and that radiation increases when the sun spots progress from minimum to maximum in number. Yet at those times some parts of the earth are cooler.

The explanation, according to Dr. Clayton, who is joined by Professor Simpson, the British wind specialist, is that while the temperature of the earth as a whole may depend upon the heat received from the sun, that at any given spot at any given time does not depend directly upon the sun's radiation, but upon where the air is coming from as well as the cloudiness prevailing. At the seat of the whole problem is the question of masses of warm and cold air and high and low pressure areas.

Of course this much is not new. These "centers of action" have been known, studied and placed on the daily weather maps. Dr. Clayton is interested in the ways these centers shift with the intensity of the sun's activity, and the resultant differences which come in weather. A paradox comes in the fact that increased solar radiation in the northern hemisphere tends to make the weather there cooler instead of hotter, because of a shift of high pressure areas northward. They push the cold air southward and at the same time the contrary push of the northward air is weakened.

Camp Ethics

Oakland Tribune

How many California families will visit the wilds of their state this summer and fall?

An answer is to be seen in the crowds now moving to the forests, beaches and streams. Whenever there is a movement of size there is somone close behind with timely words of warning. If you go into the out-of-doors there are rules to be obeyed, for your own sake and that of your fellows.

One of these rules prohibits the cutting of living trees. Firewood may be taken only from fallen, dead timber. Another insists that the campfire be extinguished even if it is to be left unattended for but a few minutes. Forests are dry in this season and it only takes a spark to occasion huge loss. Here are other rules:

Dig a garbage pit, if the camp is situated in a place where garbage disposal is not provided. Do not drive nails in living trees, nor leave camp after the vacation with boxes, racks and the like "decorating" forest trees.

Nothing so takes the joy out of a camping trip as the too-often necessity of cleaning up an otherwise attractive campsite after the former occupants left. Burnable refuse should be burned in the campfire, and after it is burned be sure the fire is out, then cover with fresh earth.

In seeking firewood, leave gates, fences, etc., strictly alone. They were put there for a specific purpose, and their destruction will only result in eventually closing more privately owned land to campers and vacationists.

Observation of these few rules of common outdoor courtesy will result in a more enjoyable camping trip and also will preserve the site for some other lover of the out-of-doors who might come later to the same spot.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

WHERE BRAIN TRUST STARTED

I am amused by the business men who, as they chat in club lounge or at dinner, seem to assume that Roosevelt invented the idea of a brain trust.

The initiating source of the brain trust idea was big business itself.

The whole elaborate application of the results of research in the physical sciences to industrial production, which gave us this age of plenty that we have not learned to manage, was made possible by the innumerable brain trusts assembled by captains of industry and installed in the laboratories of American industry.

The research staffs of which all the major industries boast are nothing but brain trusts to big business.

When Mr. Roosevelt took over the reins of power some fifteen months ago he found that research in the social sciences had not kept pace with research in the physical sciences, with the result that the age of plenty produced by the brain trusts of big business was utterly out of hand.

It was logical to think that a brain trust for economic policies might function quite as effectively as a brain trust for technical processes.

No leader and no party will, in the end, get far by fighting the idea of using brains in the formulation of policy.

There is a point of difference, however, between the way big business uses a brain trust and the way government sometimes uses a brain trust.

Business keeps its brain trust in the laboratory.

Government too often asks its brain trust to function in the laboratory and serve at the executive's desk all on the same day.

This rarely works. Greatest progress comes from a union of the utterly objective thinking of the researcher and the intensely practical dealing of the executive and leadership type of mind.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

BREAKING BAD HABITS

If you want to get anything done, and well done, you have to make it a job. You have to set aside a bit of time, save up a lot of energy, and center your mind on the task. After that you keep at it until it is done to your satisfaction. That is a tried and proven recipe for getting something done.

One of the troublesome jobs that all mothers have to face is that of getting a child to break a bad habit. I believe the difficulty is greatly increased by the mother's idea that mentioning the thing to the child, reminding him occasionally, is enough to do the trick. After telling him a number of times, reminding him a host of times, he still keeps on doing as he did before and his mother sighs and says, "I've done my best to cure him . I might as well give up."

Don't give up. You can train an intelligent child to do about anything you want if you settle down to the business of teaching him. Suppose he doesn't come when he is called. He has the bad habit of not hearing, or of saying, "Yes, in a minute," and forgetting all about it. Complaining to him won't change him. He has to have repeated experiences that pull him toward the idea of obeying on call.

Tell him ahead of time that he is going to be called. Let him know that you expect him to come promptly. Call him. Wait a reasonable time for him to respond. If he doesn't come, instead of calling him again go after him, bring him along, have him do what you wanted him to do, and then, make him sit on a chair in a certain place, where he can see you and be seen by you. Let him meditate on the expediency of answering a call promptly.

Don't keep him there more than fifteen minutes or so. Let those minutes be silent, no word from you, or from him. If he talks don't answer. Then release him and tell him that he will be called at a certain time. Repeat the process. Keep on repeating it day after day until it registers. It will do that by and by when the experiences pile up to form a background strong enough to pull its way. The rule of behavior is, "The idea with the strongest background wins out."

The bad habit was formed because the idea to do things that way was stronger than the opposite idea. The child was allowed to pile up experiences on, that side until they were strong enough to sway him. Now you must pile up the experiences on the opposite side until they overweigh the wrong ones.

The question is not one of bad characteristics . It is one of training. Take time out to make the idea you want to set take hold. Make a job of it. Clear the way for your task by arranging your daily schedule for it. If a habit is bad enough to want correction it warrants concentrated, directed effort. Telling is not enough. The experiences are what move the thought and action of a child. Attend to them.

You haven't time? Suppose he had to have an operation? Would you take time out to prepare him, and see him through? This is on the same basis of importance. A bad habit must be cured.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A PLEA FOR JUSTICE

I'm growing, every passing day,
Uneasy in my mind,
For when I seek to write a lay,
No code for bards I find.
While toiling from the rise of sun
Till very late at night,
No mandate comes from Washington
To tell me how to write.

The plumber, with his ells and tees,
The joiner with his kit,
The man who comes to prune the trees
Know when to start and quit.
The painting and the sculping clan,
The merchant and the cop,
The driver of the moving van
Are told to work or stop.

But when I pen a lilting song
To which I sign my name,
No General Johnson comes along
To give me praise or blame.
Nor is there any keen-eyed clerk,
Whose word must be obeyed,
To say how long I'll have to work
At my fatiguing trade.

We poets do the best we can,
The laws we never flout,
So why, in this recovery plan,
Should we be counted out?
A humble rhyming folk are we,
A useful work we do,
So we demand that there shall be
A code for poets, too.

The little boy in the third row will now tell us where the capital of America is. That's right; in tax-free securities.

Jilted ladies are old-fashioned. They still sue for "heart balm" instead of asking the government to pay them.

Vile movies won't harm Junior. A boy never notices dirt.

There's one consolation. If the country keeps on washing away and blowing away, the Japs won't want it.

The world grows bolder. Scared men used to hide behind petticoats, and now not even the girls do it.

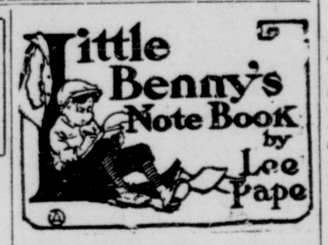
Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape



This afternoon ma started to tawk to herself, saying, If that man comes home today without flowers or a box of candy or some little token to show he remembered our anniversity, after me going to special panes to order liver and onions for his supper, I declare I'll never forgive him.

Meening pop, and I thawt, G, I bet he forgets.

And I was sitting on the front steps when he came home, saying, Hay pop, do you know this is your anniversity, have you got any flowers or anything?

By gollies so it is, didn't those flowers come? pop said. And he went in saying to ma, Happy anniversity, where are your flowers, I dont see them on display.

Why Willyum, nobody delivered any flowers, ma said, and pop said, Confound that fellow Pokadopoliss or whatever his Greek name is. Benny, run up to that florist shop on the Avenue and ask that fellow what the devil he thinks I stopped in there this morning and ordered a dozen roses for? Ask him if he thinks I just stopped in to make him a present of a little money because I like his face. Tell him I dont like his face or his way of doing bizzness either, and tell him if that dozen of roses isn't around here in 5 mintash of his around his big red nits I'll wrap that big black musnose for him. Can you remember all that, every werd is important, pop said.

Yes sir, I said. And I started to start and pop came out in the hall after me, saying, And wait a minnit, tell him I never saw his wife and children but I don't like their faces either. And he quick pushed a 5 doller bill in my hand and pushed me out the front door, and I went up to the flower place, saying to the man, Did my father order a dozen roses this morning? and he said, I dont know your father but nobody's bawt anything but daisies for 3 days, I'm going to give up this bizzness, and I said, Well give me a dozen big red roses.

Wich he did after he saw the 5 dollers, and I snuk the change back to pop, not being hardly any to sneek.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files 14 Years Ago Today

JULY 5, 1920

Since July 4 had fallen on Sunday, this was recognized as a legal holiday. Santa Ana merchants did not open their places of business through arrangements made by Merchants and Manufacturers' association. Banks and all public offices were closed also.

Golfers from various parts of the Southland joined local members of Orange County Country club in an interesting day on the 18-hole course on the mesa above Newport Bay. There was a flag tournament with special prizes and also sweepstakes for Classes A and B.

A giant Fourth of July celebration at Huntington Beach attracted hundreds of merrymakers to that city. There was a bathing beauties' parade, while band concerts throughout the day and a street dance at night furnished other attractions.
